A HOT CONTEST.

All the Evidence is in for the Plaintiff in the Hirschfeld Divorce Case at Fargo.

Motion of the Defense to Strike Out Evidence Reflecting on the Wife's Character Overruled.

The Anti-Washburn Managers Are Now Trying to Center Their Forces on Governor Nelson.

Say They Will Have Forty Out of the Necessary Fifty Votes Pledged to Him in Advance.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 26.—A Fargo, N. D., special to the Journal says: The evidence on behalf of the plaintiff in the Hirschfeld case was concluded this morning, and plaintiff rested. Mayor Ball appeared for the first time in court and conducted the cross-examination for the defense. Dr. Alexander Moore, of Helena, testified to Hirschfeld's enfeebled mental condition last year. Superintendent Devereaux, of Mat Pinkerton's detective agency, testified to hearing Anderson, the witness who testified that he was paid $500 and expenses to swear away Mrs. Hirschfeld's honor, tell his story.

Aaron Hirschfeld was recalled and denied sending any telegrams to Anderson informing him as to dates, etc., concerning events on which he was to testify. Witness was shown diamonds which he denied purchasing for his wife, but said that he paid the bills. Letters in which he attempted to build up the attorneys for the defense were also introduced to prove that the witness was sane enough to attempt to intimidate them.

When the plaintiff rested his case, a motion of the defense was made to strike out all testimony concerning Mrs. Hirschfeld's character as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial. In the light of plaintiff's testimony as to anti-social relationship, but this was overruled. A motion of the other side to dismiss the case was also overruled.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 26.—The Dispatch today will say: The managers of the opposition to Senator Washburn have hit upon another combination by which they hope to accomplish his defeat.

It matters little to them whether they strike out all testimony concerning Mrs. Hirschfeld's character as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial. In the light of plaintiff's testimony as to anti-social relationship, but this was overruled. A motion of the other side to dismiss the case was also overruled.

ROYAL WEDDING

Czar Nicholas II Married to Princess Alix, of Hesse-Darmstadt, at St. Petersburg This Afternoon.

A Magnificent Scene Along the Prospects, Thousands of Cavalry and Infantry Lining the Roadways.

Behind the Troops Were Multitudes of Spectators Waiting for a View of the Procession.

Brilliant Spectacle in the Grandly Decorated Winter Palace Where the Marriage Ceremony Was Performed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 26.—At 1:30 p. m. the guns from the fortress announced that Czar Nicholas II was married to Princess Alix, of Hesse-Darmstadt. As this dispatch is sent the newly married couple are receiving the congratulations of the wedding guests in the palace.

Before 7 o'clock this morning large crowds of people were assembling on the Newsky prospect in order to secure places along the route of the royal wedding procession. From the Anichkov palace to the Winter palace, the whole avenue was lined with troops. The morning broke dull and cold. Before long the whole front of the route was black with people. There was not an inch of space to spare along the grand Morskaja prospect and on the square in front of the Winter palace. The correspondent of the Associated Press secured a position midway between the two palaces, from which he was able to obtain a good view of the procession behind windows which, as usual in winter, were fastened in an air tight manner.

From this point of vantage could be seen thousands of faces eager to greet the czar and his bride. The large majority of the stores were closed and the colored portraits of the czar and Princess Alix. At 10:15, in the distance was suddenly heard the grand swelling strains of the national anthem, and all along the route the multitudes uncovered their heads in anticipation of the approach of the bridal party.

Soon after there appeared an open state carriage drawn by four white horses. In this vehicle were the czar and his brother, Grand Duke Michael. They wore the uniform of Hussars of the guard and were greeted with a vociferous burst of cheering, which was renewed again and again. The czar's equipage was preceded and also followed by a detachment of chevalliers des gardes and hussars and lancers of the guard, all in uniform.

Then came a superb landau, also drawn by four white horses, in which was Princess Alix and the czarina. They received a possible even a more hearty popular greeting than the czar himself. Handkerchiefs and hats were waved in the air and the most intense enthusiasm prevailed.

After the carriage of the princess and the czarina followed a long train of carriages, in which the royal guests, including the prince and princess of Wales, the princess Irene of Prussia, the Grand Duchess Sergius and other prominent members of the imperial family as well as all the wedding guests.

Military bands were stationed at various points along the route between the two palaces and they each struck up the national anthem as the cortege appeared. The national hymn was thus sounded in the ears of the imperial party along the entire route.

The wedding procession entered the Winter palace at 1:15 p. m., where so soon as possible afterwards were assembled all those who had been invited to be present at the wedding.

Along the prospects there was a magnificent scene, thousands of cavalry and infantry lining the roadways, and behind the troops were the immovable multitudes of spectators all waiting patiently for a view of the procession on its return from the Winter palace, when the imperial party will alight and enter the cathedral of Kazan, where the protection of the Almighty will be invoked upon the new czar and czarina. The ordinary theaters today received permission to recommence their performances.

According to current reports the czar has caused conversation among the officers of his household by leaving the palace unattended and walking through the streets in a military mantle or walking in arm in arm with the first officer who recognizes him. On Saturday the czar went for a walk with Princess Alix, entered a glove store in front of the Anichkov palace and made several purchases. In the evening his majesty was recognized by the people and loudly cheered.

His majesty also received the ministers very graciously. When M. DeGiers, the minister of foreign affairs, tendered his resignation, the czar insisted that he hoped they would work together for a long time yet. To this M. DeGiers replied: "But, your majesty, look at my feet. They cannot carry me," whereupon the czar replied: "I don't want your feet, I only want your head."

Reaching the Winter palace the royal party entered the Malachite hall, where the bridal procession was formed. At its head were the court functionaries and then came the czarina, escorted by the king of Denmark, her father. The czar and Princess Alix came next, followed by the prince and princess of Wales and the other members of the imperial and royal families, another batch of court officials bringing up the rear.

The procession first slowly traversed the hall, the panels on the walls being the silver plates upon which the Russian people presented to the late czar bread and salt during his journey through the empire and upon the occasion of his coronation. A large crystal candelabra

CAPT. HOWGATE'S CASE

The War Department Defaulter Is Not Likely Ever to Be Brought Up for Trial.

Flaws Have Been Found in the Indictment Which Will Be Important Enough to Prevent.

The Acquittal of Andrew Johnson, Secured by the Votes of Two Senators Being Purchased.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—[Special to The Herald].—When Capt. Howgate was brought back from New York a few weeks ago the opinion was very freely expressed in the war department, as well as through the city generally, that Howgate would never be brought to trial. It was known that any action by the courts looking to the punishment of the defaulter would certainly involve a great many people of prominence ten or fifteen years ago and it was believed that no legal stone would be left unturned to prevent a trial of the war captain. Now it is announced that flaws have been found in the indictment which will be important enough to prevent a trial.

And this another unenviable account will be carried by the books of the treasury department for years to come. In this connection a very interesting piece of ancient history cropped out today. It was reported by a gentleman who had intimate knowledge of the affair that the acquittal of Andrew Johnson was secured by the purchase of the votes of two United States senators at $10,000 each and that the purchase price of one of these senators was furnished by a prominent federal official of the North, while the balance of the money was contributed by an equally prominent official in the South.

It is, however, concluded he might as well make a little something for himself and instead of stealing $10,000 he nipped $240,000. His defalcation was known and the record of it is still in the treasury department, but no step was ever taken towards his prosecution because such action would have resulted in involving too many people high up in the councils of the nation.

There is hardly the usual interest in the approaching meeting of congress which is generally manifested about the capitol. There have been fewer arrivals both of senators and representatives and the balance of the money was contributed by an equally prominent official in the South.

Members of the committee living in the states comparatively near Washington remained in the city only long enough to transact the business for which they were summoned and then returned to their homes. There are probably more than a dozen senators and forty members of the house in Washington today. Consequently upon this meager attendance of congressmen is the difficulty of presenting any definite or tangible forecast of proceedings.

Nothing like a discussion of politics by the leaders of either political party has been possible. Any prediction ventured upon is simply the surmise of the private opinions of the probable course of events as uttered by the leaders now in Washington. Among the opinions which one hears most frequently is that the silver side and especially among Southern Democrats is that there will be a revival of the effort to repeal the silver coinage bank law, and it is already stated that strong pressure will be brought to bear in that cause. There is a general impression that the silver question will also cut a figure of some sort in the next session, but as few of the prominent Democratic silver leaders have arrived and as none of those who are here have definite plans, it is impossible to say what may be undertaken. The sentiment among many of the more conservative of the silver men is evidently against taking up the question at all, because of the futility of such a course in view of President Cleveland's opposition to free coinage. All expert straggling references to the question, and some believe it will be a leading issue of the session, is taken for granted that the administration will propose a financial scheme on the lines of the Baltimore plan, and it was suggested that by a leading Democratic senator that if an effort should be made to put a bill through carrying this plan into effect, it would be amended by a free coinage rider and allowed to pass.

There is a division of sentiment among Democratic senators and representatives regarding the practicability of the Baltimore plan or any other plan on the same lines, and it is already evident that the subject will, if introduced, lead to a wide range of discussion. The propriety of the recent bond issue, surely prove a prolific source of speech-making.

With reference to the supplementary tariff or free raw material bills, which were put through the house with such expediency last August, it may be said that Democratic senators almost without exception say there is no probability that they will become laws, and in making this admission they call attention to the proceedings in the senate when the bills were called up prior to the last adjournment, and say these proceedings will be repeated. It is not, however, an attempt to get the bills before the senate.

To sum up, the indications for the present are gathered from the few members in the city, are that the session will be of more or less straggling effort at financial legislation; that the tariff law will be allowed to stand as is; that the Democratic majority will devote itself in the main to getting the appropriation bills through; that the several bills of a general nature but non-political in character, such as the Pacific railroads, the Nicaragua canal, the personnel of the navy, and the pooling bill when the more or less attention, but that upon the whole the record of the session will not be one of many or important accomplishments.

United States Minister McKenize has notified the state department that the government of Peru has issued two decrees affecting customs duties, one provides that commercial and such other goods are exempt from duty under Article 1 of the act of Dec. 31, 1893, shall pay hereafter a duty of 3 per cent ad valorem. Gold and silver bullion, of coin, and ammunition for the rifle or revolver shall remain exempt.

The second decree increases rates of duty on a large number of commodities including agricultural and manufacturing products, hardware, iron, steel, hides, bricks, etc. The cause of this increase is found in the necessity for raising funds to suppress the revolution, and the congress has clothed President Caceres with almost unlimited power to raise revenues.

The Ecuadorian government has, for charitable purposes, imposed a tax of 5 cents per quintal on sugar made in the country or imported, and an import tax of 2 per cent on all foreign liquors except wines. For the purpose of establishing a fund to be used for the construction of railroads a tax of 10 cents on all liquors has been levied. The private opinions of the probable course of events as uttered by the leaders now in Washington. Among the opinions which one hears most frequently is that the silver side and especially among Southern Democrats is that there will be a revival of the effort to repeal the silver coinage bank law, and it is already stated that strong pressure will be brought to bear in that cause.

A Flurry Among Bakers. READING, Pa., Nov. 26.—The market commissioner of this city has created quite a flurry among the bakers of this city by issuing a notice that on and after Jan. 1, 1905, they will be required to sell all bread by weight. This action is taken under an old act of assembly passed in 1797, which directs that all bread shall be sold by the pound and imposes a penalty of $10 for every violation. As the law has been a dead letter for generations its enforcement is likely to work a revolution in the baking in this city.

American Papers Barred. CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 26.—The red-acted calling for the seizure at the frontier of foreign newspapers containing accounts of the Armenian massacres, prohibits the entry of every American newspaper into Turkey. This action on the part of the Turkish government is supposed to be due to the attitude assumed by the American press on the Armenian question.

A "Jack the Ripper" Case. LONDON, Nov. 26.—A comely woman of the unfortunate class, about 40 years old, was found dead in a frequent thoroughfare near Holland Villas road, Kensington, at about midnight. Her throat was cut from ear to ear, and some of the newspapers here intimate that it is another crime of the "Jack the Ripper" order.

Will Propose Arbitration. GUATEMALA, Nov. 26.—It is reported that Minister Llonos expects to convince the Mexican government of the justice of Guatemala claims. If he fails, he will propose arbitration by any power that may be selected by Mexico.

FOR THE AMERICA'S CUP.

Lord Dunraven Has Not Received the Cup Committee's Reply.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Up to today Lord Dunraven has not received the reply of the America's cup committee to his propositions in regard to the next international yacht race. It is believed that the letter of the committee was delivered to him by a messenger on Saturday, and that it was forwarded to him, unopened, to the place where he is staying in Ireland.

Lord Dunraven has been questioned by the Associated Press in regard to the story circulated in the United States, that differences of opinion had arisen between himself and George L. Watson, the yacht designer, as to the class, center board or keel, of the cup challenger which his lordship is understood to be running on the point of ordering.

It has been stated in this connection that the differences of opinion consisted in Lord Dunraven favoring a center board yacht and Mr. Watson insisting upon the merits of a keel craft. Replying to the Associated Press as to whether the reply of the cup committee published here was satisfactory, Lord Dunraven telegraphed that not having heard from the committee he cannot say anything upon the subject.

The Associated Press learns from another source that there is no foundation for the story that differences of opinion between Lord Dunraven and Mr. Watson exist. Both these gentlemen are working in harmony.

BAKER FOUND DROWNED.

The Supposed Accomplice of Defaulting Banker Secley Is Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The body of Frederick Baker lay in the parlor of his country house on Sand Point yesterday guarded by the sons George and Percy Hicks, a neighbor. The question as to whether Mr. Baker's death was the result of suicide or an accident has as yet not been determined. George Baker said that he did not believe his father had been a defaulter.

"I don't know much about his financial affairs," he continued, "but I do know that he had not been a depositor in the Shoe and Leather bank for five years. The bank was closed down by the sheriff, and the father was not in the bank at the time of its failure. He was a purely accidental and any assertion that he feared exposure is a cruel slander."

Lawyer Bishop, attorney for the Shoe and Leather bank, was seen at his home. "The Baker who was drowned," he said, "is the man for whom the officers were looking." When asked, however, whether they really had any accomplices he simply said, "Well, we may believe so and so, you know, but it is nothing to warrant a positive statement that others were implicated."

A FURNACE OF FIRE. The Hazardous Work of Subduing a Fire in a Mine Succeeded.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Nov. 26.—The fire which has been raging for sixty-two hours in a breast of No. 10 vein of the Nelson shaft is under control and will be entirely extinguished in a few hours. The fire, which has been burning since the morning of Nov. 10, has been burning in a breast of No. 10 vein of the Nelson shaft is under control and will be entirely extinguished in a few hours.

It was found necessary to load this burning coal into cars, the work being extremely hazardous, as the men had to combat the flames amid deadly mine gases, intense heat and scalding steam.

THE WAY IS NOT OPEN

The Large Subscriptions to the New Government Loan Will Help to Restore Needed Confidence.

Still the Way Out of the Condition of Slow Financial Revival Is Not Clear.

Henry Clews' Weekly Review of the Situation Thinks That It Should Be Easily Solved.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Henry Clews says in his weekly financial review: Although the railroads are now doing a fair business, yet some of them have to take freight at low rates, and in the absence of any special "bull" factor, there is a disposition to let prices drift rather than make any special effort to advance them. The reception given to the new government loan has not yet materially helped other securities.

The effect of this sensitiveness about the policy of the government is to emphasize the importance of the treasury getting more of its getting it. It cannot be said that the subscription has been paid in the form of gold, but it has emphasized the discussion of the government's policy, which only increases the confusion on that question and is giving to it an imaginary importance beyond what it really possesses.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed and delivered by O. W. Palmer, mortgagee, bearing date the 5th day of September, A. D. 1891, in favor of the county of St. Louis and state of Missouri, on the 5th day of October, 1894, at four o'clock (4:00) o'clock p. m., in Book 21-182-36-37 of mortgages, on page one hundred and thirty (130), which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of seven hundred (700) dollars and interest according to the conditions of one certain promissory note bearing even date with said mortgage, made by said O. W. Palmer, on the 1st day of October, A. D. 1891, with interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and

Whereas, said mortgage has paid the sum of two hundred and thirty (230) dollars in insurance premiums for insurance on the building situated upon said property, said mortgagee having failed to keep said property insured, which is made a part of said mortgage, and

Whereas, such default, consists in the non-payment of the principal and interest money secured by said mortgage, upon which mortgage there is claimed to be due, and there is due at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred and thirty (730) dollars and interest, and also the sum of twenty-one (21) dollars and interest, and also the sum of fifty (50) dollars attorney's fees, for proceeding at law or otherwise, in action or proceeding to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, which has become operative by reason of the default of the mortgagor, the said mortgagee, O. W. Palmer, do hereby declare that the same is foreclosed by the sale of the premises described in said mortgage, to-wit: Lot 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 8

WEST DULUTH ITEMS.

Fine Performance Given Saturday Evening at Great Eastern Hall by the Bohemians, of Duluth.

The People Were Pleased But Manager Rown Is Not Happy as the Audience Was Small.

Catchy End Songs, Good Fresh Jokes and a Comical Farce Made an Entertaining Performance.

The entertainment given by the Bohemian club on Saturday evening was not very well attended and Manager Rown will probably give up the effort to supply West Duluth people with theatrical amusements. The club gave a very meritorious performance and was enthusiastically applauded.

The end songs by J. F. Martin, E. Hanagan and H. Lawell seemed to catch the audience, the latter in "Casey" and "The Ballad of the Irish Boy" receiving particular praise. The local bits were fresh and well taken, one of the best being the appearance of Adam Bede in his birch bark pants.

The farce, "Box and Cox," was given in proper spirit and dash, the character and make-up of Mrs. Bouncer being the feature of the play. The orchestra was a little too strong for the voices.

West Duluth Briefs.
The funeral of Harry Hill, age 5 years, who died from spinal meningitis, will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the residence of Mrs. D. Gurin, Fifty-third avenue west.

The social event of the week in West Duluth will be the K. P. ball which takes place at Great Eastern hall on Thursday evening.

A literary and debating club will be organized at the city hall tonight by a number of West Duluth young men.

F. L. Hamlin has returned from his old home in Pennsylvania.

The election of officers of the Odd Fellows lodge will be held tomorrow evening instead of Saturday as heretofore stated.

M. N. Berg, of Clouet, is in the city on business.

STEWART BID ACCEPTED.
All the Bond Issue Given to One Large Syndicate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Secretary Carlisle has decided to accept the Stewart syndicate bids for the entire new issue of $5,000,000 5 per cent bonds. The figure offered by the syndicate was $17,077.

The following official statement concerning the acceptance of the syndicate's proposal was made at the treasury: "The secretary of the treasury has accepted the proposal of John A. Stewart, president of the United States Trust company, and his associates to purchase the entire issue of 5 per cent bonds amounting to $5,000,000, at $17,077 and accrued interest from Nov. 1. The proceeds of the bonds under this bid will be $17,077,500, which is the highest bid received. A very important advantage to the government in accepting this bid is the fact that all the gold will be furnished outside and none drawn from the treasury. It is also more convenient and less expensive to the department to deal with one party rather than with many."

ELUDED THE DETECTIVES.
The Supposed "Mrs. John Harris" Has Skipped From Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Mrs. Matilda Gerst, of Allegheny, who is supposed to be the "Mrs. John Harris" who deposited funds of the bogus Pennsylvania Land and Lumber company in Chicago, Toledo and Cleveland banks, has eluded the detectives and escaped. It is supposed she has gone to join W. E. Delaney.

Detectives have had her residence under surveillance for several days, but have been deterred from arresting her on the charge of conspiracy to defraud by reports of her serious illness. This morning a constable went to her residence to deal with one party rather than with many."

C. H. Delaney, a brother of W. E. Delaney, was arrested and held for court on three charges. It is supposed that Mrs. Gerst has been gone several days.

Winter Tourist Rates.

DOCTOR'S BILLS SAVED.
Mineral Point, Wisconsin, Ohio, Dr. Francis Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sir—I am glad to say that the use of your "Golden Medical Discovery" has saved me many doctor's bills, as I have for the past eleven years, whenever needed, been using it for the erysipelas and also for chronic diarrhea, and am glad to say that it has never failed. I have also used it for many of my neighbors, with the most successful results, and I am recommending it to all who are afflicted with these ailments.

PIERCE Guarantees a CURE OR MONEY RETURNED.

The "Discovery" purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, thereby restoring the system and building up wholesome flesh when reduced by wasting disease.

Winter Tours.
Low excursion rates now in effect via "The North-Western Limited" to principal points in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Mexico, Arizona and California.

As usual the accommodations are superior and the time much quicker than via other lines. See that your tickets read via the "Omaha," thereby being assured of first-class service over direct routes.

Tickets, folders and full information at 405 West Superior street, Duluth.

Thought to Be a Murder.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—The saloon of Price Ditch, in the village of Festus, a few miles south of this city, was burned to the ground this morning and the charred remains of Ditch were found in the ruins. Indications point to a murder and incendiary fire to conceal the crime. Officers are investigating.

War in China!
But it does not effect us. Choice of any suit in our store, on display, made to order for $22.

Deserves the Birth.
Cloquet Pine Knot: M. A. Hays, formerly manager of the News Tribune, is looking to be clerk of the senate, giving as an excuse that he has caught the political habit. It is to be feared that he will not help much, for there are at least seven other fellows similarly afflicted, after the office, besides Mr. Hays. But he is a good fellow and deserves the berth more than most of the candidates.

Don't be a Ready Made Man
When you can get a suit for $20. Three hundred patterns to select from.

WHEAT ADVANCED A CENT.

A Strong Opening, Then a Break, Followed by a Quick Reaction.

An array of bullish factors gave the wheat market a strong opening here today. It opened at 60 1/2¢ higher than Saturday's close with May at 60 1/2¢ and December at 57 1/2¢. Cables came higher, all domestic markets were better and there was a decrease of 25,000 bush in the amount of ocean passage, and the stocks in Liverpool showed a decrease last week of 261,000 bush. There were also dispatches from the Northwest showing continued drought in that region, which was already miring the wheat. Another bullish circumstance was the fact that the receipts in the Northwest were 150 cars less than on the same day a year ago. May sold steadily at 60 1/2¢ up to 11 o'clock, when it increased to 60 3/4¢. The reaction followed, but a cool reaction followed. The reaction was due to the fact that the trade has sold too much during the week period growing out of the big increase in the visible, and when it was announced that the English visible had increased 1,235,000 bush there was a general effort to cover. May sold up to 61 1/4¢ and closed at 61 1/4¢. December sold at 57 1/2¢ and closed at 57 1/2¢.

Considerable business was done in cash stuff. Shipments took about 50,000 bush in the week. The elevators absorbed about 60,000 bush. The close was 1¢ higher all round than Saturday, except December, which was advanced. Following were the closing prices:

DELAY IN THE TRIAL

Hulett Case Not On Today Owing to the Illness of F. W. Maynard, One of the Jurors.

Trial Will Be Continued Tomorrow with Eleven Jurors If He Is Unable to Appear.

Another Handwriting Expert Will Probably Be Called as a Witness in the Case Tomorrow.

The district court session went to pieces this morning on account of the illness of a juror and a slight misunderstanding with the county attorney, so there was no court in any room except room 3, where Judge Ensign was hearing the Levine insurance cases.

When court convened this morning it was found that Fred Maynard, who is one of the Hulett case jurors, was indisposed and threatened with an attack of typhoid fever. The case was consequently adjourned until tomorrow morning, when, if Mr. Maynard is still too ill to appear, the trial will continue with eleven jurors. It was stated by the respondents this morning that they had about two hours of testimony yet to come. After that the appellants will probably have some rebuttal testimony to offer. The evidence will all be in tomorrow.

C. C. Curtis, of Curtis' business college in Minneapolis, who frequently testifies as a handwriting expert, came to Duluth this morning, and it is said that he will be introduced by the attorneys for the estate to offset the testimony of H. L. Tolman, the Chicago expert, who testified favorably to the genuineness of the signature to the marriage contract alleged to have been made by Hulett.

An offer was made during the trial Friday morning to prove by E. H. Burger, of the First National bank, not only that Nchemiah Hulett did not write the signature, but to prove who did really write it. His testimony on that score was ruled out as not being that of an expert. It is possible that Mr. Curtis is to be called for the purpose of testifying in that relation.

The Criminal Cases.

The remainder of the criminal cases had been set for the morning and Judge Moer would have taken up one of them to finish out the day, but the county attorney had understood that they were to come up Tuesday, and had told the witnesses they might leave, so the criminal cases were continued to tomorrow, when they will come up before Judge Lewis.

Judge Lewis will not be back from Otter Tail county, where he has been exchanging with Judge Baxter, until tomorrow, so there was no court in room 3 this morning.

The election contest hearing was set for this morning, but because of Judge Lewis' absence it was continued until tomorrow morning at 9:30.

After that is concluded Judge Lewis will take up the criminal cases. The Elder caps will be taken up as soon as J. L. Washburn, Elder's attorney, is released from duty on the Hulett case.

The case against John Boschert for grand larceny in the second degree has been dismissed on motion of the county attorney, and Boschert has been discharged.

The insurance cases are still dragging on before Judge Ensign. The testimony for the plaintiff was not nearly concluded at noon. The cases are to be bunched in several lots, and as each trial consumes some time it will probably be a week or more before they are finished.

The Lewines are trying to show that the adjusters did not give them a fair and impartial showing in adjusting the damage from the fire.

Besides the four cases on trial and the criminal cases there are only four jury cases to be tried. The damage suits of John Hineman and Hazen Stevens against the city, M. W. Bates against the B. B. Richards Lumber company and J. W. Willis against the West Duluth Light and Water company are the only remaining cases. Three of these are personal injury suits. This term has been singularly free from personal damage suits.

The Chautauqua Circle.

The Chautauqua circle meets Wednesday evening and the following program will be followed:

Charity Ball Tickets.

Tomorrow evening the charity ball will be given at the Spaulding hotel and the ladies of the Relief society are earnestly hoping that it will be a financial success. Tickets may be secured at the Spaulding today or tomorrow and in the evening at the door.

Wants Another Extension.

W. B. Silvey, as receiver of the E. P. Emerson estate, has petitioned the court for a further extension of the time for settling the affairs of the estate for a settlement of the estate for a year from Jan. 1. He also says that a $35,000 mortgage which matures Dec. 9 may be extended upon payment of the interest and part of the principal, and he asks for permission to make the payment. Judge Moer ordered the hearing of the petition set for Dec. 9.

LESTER PARK FEUD.

Two Husbands at War and Almost Exchanged Shots.

It is a cold day when Lester Park does not have something to talk about, and just now it has food for gossip sufficient to last through the winter. There has developed, in fact, a regular feud of the most approved Kentucky style out there. It may continue through generations, with all the horrors and firearms and bowie knives if the initiatory conflict can be taken as an indication of what is to follow.

This is the way it came about. Two families live side by side in the pretty suburb and have always been friendly until lately, when it came to the ears of the head of one house that both sides of the other house had been spreading complimentary tales about his wife. A warning was given that this must not continue and some little business sprang up between the families. The talk continued and the bitterness was fanned into a flame.

Saturday evening brought the crisis. Both couples happened to be in the same car going out to their homes at Lester Park. By and by the other passengers all got off until the quarter had been called to themselves. Some words passed, and the husband of the much-talked-about lady told the other man to prepare to be thrashed. The other announced his readiness and they climbed off the car near their homes and went at it. The wives ran screaming to their respective homes.

The combat did not last long. The man who was to get the licking broke away and dashed into his domicile muttering "he had a bowie knife." Procuring a good long bowie knife himself he started back to fight his duel out.

Imagine his consternation he got out on his piazza to see the other man coming from his mansion with a rifle on his arm. His presence of mind returned and into the house he dashed.

A moment later he was on the scene again with a big double barreled shot gun. Matters looked ominous and there was grave danger of bloodshed, but a fortunate interruption came.

With manlike bravado each husband had announced to his wife at the time that he was going to kill the other man. Of course the result was that no sooner were they out of the house than each man had a hysterical wife dragging him back.

Hostilities were thus averted for the time being and the indignant men retired each to his own home.

One of them was talking of getting a warrant, however, and there is a possibility that the war is not yet over and that the scene of many a melodrama may yet be laid at Lester Park.

BIG MONDAY GRIST.

Sunday Produced a Large Lot of Municipal Offenders of Various Kinds.

There was a grist of old style size in police court this morning. What an odor there was, too. Garlic, unwashed pedal extremities, musky grime and all the many odors peculiar to those who are most prone to line up before his honor. It was nauseating and many a strong man had to leave the court room before the grist was ground out.

William McNaughton was up for assault in the second degree. His hearing was set for tomorrow. Frank Gergel alleges that the defendant hit him over the head with a loaded revolver.

George Stuntz was up on the charge of threatening a woman, but peace. Julius Oestreich alleges that on Nov. 21 the accused threatened to "put a head on" Theresa Oestreich. The trial was set for the afternoon session.

W. M. Abramson alleges that William Coney is guilty of petit larceny. William denies it and in default of $50 bail, was committed to the county jail until tomorrow when he will have a chance to establish his innocence.

James Smith, James Daniels and John Anderson went up five days each for trespass. Luke Harcourt went along five days for vagrancy.

Kate Finerty went up sixty days for getting drunk the third time. Ed Hall was up the second time for a similar offense, but by some hook or crook he secured a suspended sentence.

Richard Barrett, charged with drunkenness, forfeited $15 bail. Albert T. charged the same, was given a suspended sentence. John Lyons went up for ten days, as also did Michael and John. Millan paid $12 and gained his freedom. James Kich declared that he had not been drunk, so his trial was set for this afternoon.

A. Florence and M. Dominick, who got into a rumput at Twelfth avenue were run in, protested against the charge of disorderly conduct and pleaded guilty. Their trials were also set for this afternoon.

THEIR IS NO FORCE.

Duluth Relief Committee Endorse the Work of the State Commission.

At a meeting of the citizens' relief committee, of Duluth, held this morning, the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, that we take opportunity to express our complete accord with the work of the state relief commission, and to state that any disapproval which may come from a disaffected people at Hinkley, Sandstone and Duluth, has not been received for one moment by this committee.

"We ask the newspapers of Duluth to publish the fact that both committees have invariably worked together for the general good of the fire sufferers, and to express our admiration for the all important work that Mr. Holt, secretary of the state commission, all other members of the said commission and also Mr. Holt, the local representative of the commission here, have done.

"We pledge the state commission our earnest support in getting the needed appropriation from the state legislature to carry to completion the great work so well begun."

The Ketchum at Duluth is Waiting for Better Weather.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 26.—(Special to the Herald.)—The Ketchum cleared from here at 10:30 Sunday forenoon in tow of the Boynton and Brockway (or Milwaukee). The Ketchum is here waiting for better weather. It is blowing a gale from the southwest with heavy snow.

The Marine Situation.

The marine situation has nearly reached an end for this season. Lumber and ore shipments have practically ceased, and there will be but few more cargoes of wheat and flour. There is still some coal to come. Rates are an unknown quantity. Most of the liners many other boats are laying up. The Monarch has left Duluth for the last time this year. The other Sarnie boat, the United Empire, has already gone into winter quarters.

The thaw has again nearly cleared the bay of ice. The wind last night took out all the ice at Superior, and there is none to hinder navigation this side of the Northwestern's No. 3 dock.

Various People Testify in Defense of Mrs. Hirschfeld's Character in the Fargo Divorce Case.

A. E. Porter, a Popular Railroad Man, Found Dead in St. Paul With His Skull Fractured.

The Otto Murder Case at Morton Still Mysterious But the Three Brothers Evidently Innocent.

Police Officer Gus Ryder, of St. Paul, Shot in the Right Leg by a Hobo Today.

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 27.—The deposition of ex-Secretary of State L. W. Walker was among those read in defense of Mrs. Hirschfeld's character this morning.

Walker was one of the proprietors of the hotel at Helena where Mr. and Mrs. Hirschfeld stopped. They seemed to be very happy, Hirschfeld leaving the bank many times a day to visit her.

Witness had never seen anything in defendant's action to criticize, either before or after marriage. Miss M. K. Lewis, superintendent of the glove department, New York store, where Miss Hogan was employed as cashier, paid a high compliment to her character during the time she knew her.

Ed Greene was the porter on the sleeping car on which Hirschfeld and Miss Hogan rode when leaving Helena for Minneapolis. Hirschfeld had testified that she was following him, not accompanying him, and he had nothing to do with the matter.

THE FOREIGN MAILS.

The Practice in Vogue Has Built Up Speedy Transit of Mails Across the Atlantic.

Every New and Fast Steamer at Once Placed at the Disposal of the Department.

Leading Feature of Secretary Smith's Annual Report Will Be Its Reference to Indian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The annual report of Col. N. M. Brooks, superintendent of foreign mails, contains some interesting points on the service with foreign nations. Of the trans-Atlantic service he says: "The entire trans-Atlantic merchant marine is freely tendered for the conveyance of United States mails at the rates of compensation offered by this department. Consequently the mails of Great Britain and the continent of Europe are dispatched by every fast steamer, and when two fast steamers sail on the same day, or succeeding days the mails are invariably assigned to one whose previous speed record gives reason to believe that it will deliver the mails on the other side."

"It is difficult to imagine a condition of affairs more satisfactory from either a postal or commercial standpoint than the practice in vogue has built up; under it speedy transit is the only condition considered in the dispatch of the mails, and the letter destined for Europe, which is carefully thrown into a street letter box as sure of the quick transit as the letter for the same destination which is superscribed to be sent by a particular steamer, are handled with the same care and dispatch."

"Other things being equal, preference is always given to vessels sailing under the flag of the United States, and these steamers are allocated to their service all the postage collected on the mails they carry from this country, that is to say, 5 cents a half ounce, $1.00 a pound (or $300 a short ton) for letters and post cards, and 1 cent for two ounces, 8 cents a pound (or $240 a short ton) for other articles. But if a steamer flying a foreign flag can deliver the mails at a lower rate than the United States flag, the mails are assigned to the former steamer and the rate allowed compensation with the rate of 4 cents a pound (or $80 a short ton) for letters and post cards and 4 1/2 cents a pound (or $90 a short ton) for other articles."

"The advantage of the present practice is that the mails are invariably dispatched by the fastest vessels, every new and fast steamer being at once placed at the disposal of this department, and at a reasonable rate of compensation. The disadvantage is that the department has no control whatever over the movements of the steamers which are controlled exclusively by the exigencies of trade or commerce without regard to postal interests, so that whether or not a vessel sails at her appointed time or whether or not she carries the mails is a matter entirely at the discretion of the vessel owners or agents."

"The communication with Central and South America is regular and reliable, at least three times a week, and vessels are dispatched to New York and Colon and to Venezuela with the same frequency. Col. Brooks notes the increase of the Pacific mail service in the following way:

"By utilizing the fast steamers sailing once or twice a month from Tacoma, Wash., as well as the steamers sailing regularly three times a month from San Francisco, the opportunity for the exchange of mails with Japan and China has been increased to not less than four and some times five dispatches during one month. This is an actual gain of one month. In addition, a monthly dispatch to the postoffice of Tacoma, which office by its zeal and discretion justified the expenditure of trusting to it the care of these important international mails, which are required to be handled and treated in strict accordance with the stipulations of the universal postal convention. "No change has occurred in our means of communication with the Australian colonies, the service being regular once every four weeks from San Francisco to Sydney, performed by the Oceanic Steamship company under an arrangement entered into with the colonies of New Zealand and New South Wales many years ago, but which is renewed from year to year. This department is not a party to the arrangement, but concedes to the support of the service to the extent of its ability under the statutes in force by allowing the Oceanic Steamship company all of the postage collected on the mails conveyed by its steamers sailing under the United States flag, which amounts to about $5,500 a year.

"Advantage is also taken of opportunities offered for the dispatch of correspondence for the colonies by means of a Canadian line of steamers sailing from Vancouver, B. C., once a month, so that practically the frequency of the service has been doubled.

"The steamers above referred to call at Honolulu, and the Oceanic Steamship company dispatches an additional vessel every month to that port. Besides about one steamer a month en route for Japan and China calls at Honolulu, so that there are not less than three opportunities a month for communication by mail with Hawaii, and generally there is not less than four.

"The leading feature of Secretary Smith's annual report of the doings of the interior department is the reference to Indian affairs. The report has been submitted to the president. Since preparation Secretary Smith has been devoting some time to the Indian question and will perhaps make an additional report devoted strictly to that problem. It is probably with this end in view that he has addressed to the various Indian agents a letter of inquiry designed to give him complete information of the condition of the Indians at each agency. The letter is as follows: "I desire you to report to me at the earliest practicable date the condition of the land of the reservation under your charge, agriculturally and from a mineral standpoint; the amount of work done by the Indians, and the amount and kind of crops raised; the condition of the stock raising, and every detail that will give the department such information as will enable it to know intelligently what development your reservation is susceptible of, also the possibility of making your Indians self-supporting and your opinion of the best method of doing so. Further, you will please state the number of houses on the reservation and of Indians living in them, and of Indians living in tents; the number of tracts of land acreage thereof cultivated, and of Indians working them, and generally the resources of the Indians (horses, cattle, etc.), and whether they are capable of managing their own affairs, and how many of them have taken allotments."

"The communication with Central and South America is regular and reliable, at least three times a week, and vessels are dispatched to New York and Colon and to Venezuela with the same frequency. Col. Brooks notes the increase of the Pacific mail service in the following way:

BEHIND IN PAYMENTS

A Chicago Concern That Must Pay or Surrender Its Lands to the State of Colorado.

The State Land Board Asked to Accept the Canal Work Done for Full Payment.

About Ten Thousand Other Acres Held by Smaller Holders Are Also Listed for Reclaiming.

DENVER, Nov. 27.—A meeting of the state land board has been called for today for the purpose of closing out its contract with the Consolidated Land and Water company, a Chicago concern, at the head of which is John V. Farwell. This company is two years behind in its payments, and six months ago was notified that it must pay up immediately or surrender its lands. Should the board close the contract, as the members claim to have power to do, and say they will do, Colorado will regain possession of 9982 acres of irrigable land near Cortez in the Dolores river.

In addition the state will in a way acquire 100 miles of new ditches, representing, together with developments now being done by the company, $500,000 worth of improvements. On Dec. 10, 1899, the company entered into a contract with the state to reclaim and lease 425 acres for $14,135.50 and to complete the system of ditches, this rental afterwards to be raised to 25 cents per acre per year. In consideration of the state allowing the syndicate to have the land, the latter agreed to build a large canal from the Dolores river through it, run laterals, and place it "under water" within two years from the date of the contract.

By the contract the land was all to be irrigated, or "under water" by Dec. 10, 1899. Dec. 10, 1899, found the company in possession of land with its contract unfulfilled, and the purchase price of $575 acres was still due the state. By the terms of the contract, the company had to complete the system of ditches, and in the power of the state to reclaim the land for non-fulfillment of contract, but an extension was given until Dec. 10, 1901. The contract was not even filed by that time.

Not even in last June, when the syndicate filed a petition with the present land board, the petition reads: "On Dec. 10, 1899, our company had finished building the lateral, but still had to complete the system of ditches, which would entail the expenditure of about $300,000 more. This lateral would require about 4555 acres of land. Altogether the company had expended $500,000 on this section, and has now 100 miles of ditches completed. It will be necessary to expend $500,000 more to complete the system of ditches, and the honorable body to accept the work which has already been performed as a complete part of our contract and to confirm the sale of the land under the contract to us."

The board held that if the company was not doing as improving the land, and had got a lot of these properties, $250 per acre being $1 lower than the regular price, it should at least pay for the land, and the syndicate was to be paid for the interest then due from the company in consideration of an extension of time Dec. 10, 1899, now approaching. Not even in last June, when the syndicate filed a petition with the present land board, the petition reads: "On Dec. 10, 1899, our company had finished building the lateral, but still had to complete the system of ditches, which would entail the expenditure of about $300,000 more. Not even in last June, when the syndicate filed a petition with the present land board, the petition reads: "On Dec. 10, 1899, our company had finished building the lateral, but still had to complete the system of ditches, which would entail the expenditure of about $300,000 more. This lateral would require about 4555 acres of land. Altogether the company had expended $500,000 on this section, and has now 100 miles of ditches completed. It will be necessary to expend $500,000 more to complete the system of ditches, and the honorable body to accept the work which has already been performed as a complete part of our contract and to confirm the sale of the land under the contract to us."

The board held that if the company was not doing as improving the land, and had got a lot of these properties, $250 per acre being $1 lower than the regular price, it should at least pay for the land, and the syndicate was to be paid for the interest then due from the company in consideration of an extension of time Dec. 10, 1899, now approaching. THE PRINTING BILL. Reforms Proposed by a Bill Likely to Pass Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Among the bills of a non-political character which are on the congressional calendar is that providing for methods of distributing the various government publications different from that now employed, known as the printing bill. The bill has already passed the house of representatives, owing to amendments.

If the bill becomes a law it will create another important office, namely, that of superintendent of public documents, which is provided for. Among other changes which the proposed law will inaugurate is one providing for an annual issue of government publications, of which none has been prepared for the past ten years.

It is also intended to materially increase the distribution of books among libraries, and to diminish to an extent the number distributed among members of congress. Still another reform contemplated by the bill is a provision for the more rapid binding of all the copies of a government work printed.

"Lucky" Baldwin's Trainer and a Stable Foreman in Trouble.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Unless something turns up before this afternoon, William B. Baldwin, trainer for "Lucky" Baldwin, and Willis Duff, a stable foreman in Baldwin's employ, will be ruled off the race track by the board of the California Jockey club for crookedness.

Duff appeared before the board and, though he became badly tangled up by questions asked, he denied that either he or Brien had ever dosed any horses in the Baldwin stable. The board would not make the exact nature of the evidence as accumulated, public, but it is known that Brien is accused of either working in the interests of a certain bookmaker or of offering "to do business" with him. The investigation was finished last night, but it was intimated that both the accused men would be ruled off.

Returned to Their Old Home. DEXTER, Me., Nov. 27.—Two homing pigeons, sold by F. H. Hayes, of this place, to a fancier, of McKeesport, Pa., three months ago, have been found by Mr. Hayes in his loft. The birds had been kept shut up at McKeesport until a few days ago. Then two of them were liberated. They immediately began circling, and soon started towards the north-east, reaching their former loft some time Saturday. The distance is about 700 miles.

A Turkey for Grover. WESTLEY, R. I., Nov. 27.—President Cleveland will have a 25-pound wild turkey for his Thanksgiving dinner. Nothing happens, however, as yet, well known poultry dealer, has started the bird for the White House as it has been his custom to do for several years, just preceding Thanksgiving. A turkey was also sent to Postmaster General Bissell but the name of the donor was not given.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of one hundred and eighty dollars which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Emily H. Wallace, of St. Louis, Mo., bearing date the 17th day of December, 1898, at 10 o'clock p. m., in book 44 of mortgages on page 280, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise, having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, to-wit: The southeast quarter (sw 1/4) of the northeast quarter (ne 1/4) of section twenty-three (23), township fifty (50), range fifteen (15), all in the county of St. Louis, state of Missouri, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash to pay said debt and interest and the taxes if any on said premises and fifty dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in the disbursements allowed by law, which sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis County at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the 10th day of December, 1899, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption within one year from the day sale as by law provided.

Literary and Debating Society Organized Last Evening at the City Hall by Several Citizens.

Weekly Meetings Will be Held at Which Literary Programs and Debates Will be Given.

No Change in Affairs at the Great Western Works and the Men Are Still Out.

A literary and debating society was organized at the city hall last evening in accordance with notices previously given out. S. J. Nygren was chosen president, J. Allyn Scott, vice president, L. A. Barnes, secretary and W. H. Cruikshank, treasurer. The officers with the exception of the secretary will form an executive committee to attend to the financial and general business of the club. The president was authorized to appoint a committee of three members to arrange programs for the meetings. The club will hold weekly meetings, at which a program of music, recitations and debates will be given for the benefit of themselves and the general public. The question of a name for the club was discussed last evening at some length, but no definite conclusion was reached and the matter was left for the next meeting which was set for Monday evening. The club will be composed of the leading men in the community and promises to be the leading function in West Duluth the coming winter. It is non-political, non-partisan and non-sectarian and admits to membership all who are ambitious for self improvement.

The situation at the Great Western remains about the same. It was reported yesterday that O. H. Simonds had returned from Chicago and a committee of employees went down to interview him but they found that he was not in the city and was not expected back until Thursday. They have decided to take no further steps until he returns.

P. R. McDonald has secured a lumbering contract at Little Canada, Wis., where he has sent all his teams. John Green and W. Grey have also secured a contract for banking 4,000,000 feet of logs on Swan river.

N. M. Little left yesterday for Cincinnati to spend Thanksgiving.

P. Mitchell returned yesterday from a trip to Chicago.

Charles Stevens has returned from a six weeks' trip on the Mississippi canal survey.

L. H. Harris, of Chicago, was in the city yesterday.

Miss Anna Cullen's friends called on her last evening and spent an enjoyable time. Cards were dealt and tea was served. A number from Duluth were present.

A dwelling house belonging to a man named Wylie burned last night at Spirit Lake. The family was in Duluth. Part of the furniture was saved.

DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Indiana's Fee and Salary Law is Pronounced Invalid.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 27.—Judge Hackney, of the supreme court, today decided that the fee and salary law, as applied to county treasurers, is unconstitutional. He held that the act of 1891 was void because an omission of Shelby county in its provisions kept it from being general. The act of 1893, providing for Shelby county, was also void and could not amend an invalid statute.

In the case of the county recorder of Lake county, brought by John F. Krost, the question of constitutionality was declared not involved. It was decided that $1, the fee provided by the new law, was the proper amount for filing mortgages.

WHEAT WAS LOWER TODAY.

Yesterday's Advance of a Cent Was Lost and the Close Weak.

The wheat market here today opened weak at 45c decline for December at 53 1/2c and 54c for May at 51 1/2c. Trading was mostly in May and was not active. The market ruled rather firm in the first hour, advancing to yesterday's close. Then it lost the advance, but rallied to 54c, and then to 54 1/2c, and then to 54c, and then to 53 1/2c, and then to 53c, and then to 52 1/2c, and then to 52c, and then to 51 1/2c, and then to 51c, WAS A SHORT SESSION

Aldermen Did Not Waste Much Time Last Evening, but Adjourned to the Minster Show.

North American Telegraph Company Wants a Franchise for an Underground Conduit on Superior Street.

Water Purchase Question Not Brought Up at All—Amendment to the West Duluth Franchise Submitted.

Too many of the councilmen held tickets to the Bohemians in Black last evening. They met promptly at 7:30 o'clock and in one short half hour the janitor was turning out the lights. All were present save Aldermen Olafson and Lerch.

Mayor Lewis sent in a communication saying that Henry Truelsen's notice of contest of the water-works election had been served on him and that he transmitted the documents in the matter to the city council. That body had a similar notice, but the one from the mayor was referred to the city attorney.

The mayor submitted papers that had been served on him in another case. The clerk failed to call the title of the case and before he could do so President Howard ordered the papers to be referred to the city attorney.

The bonds of the First National and Security banks as city depositories were approved.

Maj. H. C. Braden sent in word that the militia companies of this city are in an excellent state of discipline but that the armories are uninvited. That state of affairs is wholly against a continuance of this discipline, hence the major asks that the council seek ways and means for infusing a little heat into the headquarters of the blue coated "Sons of Mars."

The street cars once ran to Fifth avenue west on Fourth street. Then they ceased to run only to Second avenue west. Now they run only to Third avenue west. Last evening R. S. Munger and others sent in a petition praying that the street car company be required to run its cars clear through to Fifth avenue west as of yore. Referred.

A small batch of general bills was allowed and ordered paid.

The ordinance committee recommended that the "peddlers' ordinance," the measure calculated to impose a sky high protection tariff on all transient business firms, especially bankrupt and fire sales, take its second reading.

An Underground Conduit.

Alderman Hale introduced an ordinance granting the North American Telegraph company a franchise for an underground conduit or subway for its wires, on the north side of Michigan street from Sixth avenue west to Third avenue west, the same to be two feet wide and two feet six inches deep and to be constructed under the supervision of the board of public works.

Alderman Hale moved a suspension of the rules and a second reading of the ordinance. The company, however, either had neglected to consult Alderman Cox in the matter, or else he was opposed to putting telegraph underground. Anyway he protested against the suspension of the rules as well as the granting of the franchise. A vote being taken, Alderman Hale's motion was lost by a vote of 10 to 4. The ordinance was then given the regular reference to the committee.

The water-works deal with Mr. Belknap did not come up at all. In the evening the only thing that came up was a proposed amendment to the West Duluth franchise. It is desired to reduce the number of hydrants from seventeen to twelve and the rental of each hydrant to $20 a year. It is calculated, too, that the city shall have the privilege of buying the plant at any time after one year, the price to be fixed by arbitrators. It is said that the company wants $300,000 for its plant. The ordinance was laid over for a couple of weeks.

The Place of Torment.

Of bilious people is chiefly in the region of the liver, but with the extreme discomfort located there are associated sour stomach, constipation, and all of these unpleasantnesses, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a swift and agreeable remedy. It is greatly preferable to any vegetable purgative or drastic mineral cathartic. Such pseudo-specifics usually do more harm than good. In malarial complaints the liver is always involved. For such disorder, as well as for rheumatic and kidney trouble, nervousness and debility, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a benign remedy. Physicians strongly commend it for its promptitude and thoroughness, and professional approval is fully justified by public experience during more than a third of a century.

I did not intend to advertise that I had anything to give away, though the prices at which I can sell excellent properties in desirable parts of Duluth almost justify the inference. It is worth your while to learn what bargains there are in the market, even if you don't want to buy yourself.

AMUSEMENTS.

Bohemians in Black.

The Bohemians in Blacktown comedy filled the Temple last evening and financially, at least, it was the most successful entertainment. The Bohemians have given. It was a warm audience also and expressed its appreciation unreservedly. The first part was well done. The vocalists were: F. J. Salter, C. D. Knapp, Jr., H. V. Eyn, A. W. Little, Norton Matlocks, W. M. Barrett, F. B. George, H. C. Gearhart, S. H. Jones, H. S. Moody, E. L. Prescott. J. H. Davis was the interlocutor and the end men were Ernest Haneson, J. F. Martin, Elmer Halling, J. H. Noyes, H. Lavall, John McDougall, James O'Connell and A. B. Lautzenheiser. The overture by the full chorus, with horns and tambourines, was finely rendered.

Solo numbers were given by J. F. Martin, W. M. Barrett, Ernest Haneson, J. H. Noyes, H. C. Gearhart and J. Lavall. All were well received especially the comic songs by J. H. Noyes. The jokes were all good and were well perpetrated.

Master Jack Howard sang "You Can't Play in Our Yard" very prettily and for an encore gave "Rosebud" in "Heather." He has a sweet voice and sings well.

The second part of "course" as the program styled it opened with selection by the Duluth Banjo club. Not the least pleasing feature of this was the appearance of Master Wood, a lad of about 9 or 10 years, who played excellently. The song and dance by Messrs. Haneson and McDougall was well executed. Monick Oreckowsky gave clever dances. Ned Parker, returned and jolly looking was given an ovation on his appearance. He sang a comic selection and recited two pieces. John J. Corcoran and Richard F. Marvin, both of St. Paul, gave a fine guitar and banjo duet.

The acrobatic act of Messrs. H. Mitchell, F. Grochou and F. Grene, was one of the best ever put on by amateurs here. It was on the eccentric order and was well done. In conclusion a comic farce "Box and Cox" was given on, J. F. Martin, C. D. Knapp, Jr., and Elmer Halling taking the parts. It served to properly conclude the excellent program.

Marie Tavyary Company.

The announcement of a season of English opera at the Lyceum, beginning next Monday and continuing three evenings with a Wednesday matinee, has awakened great interest in Duluth. The Marie Tavyary Grand Opera company is a highly deserving organization. This company contains what is best in the three or four organizations which have preceded it in the same realm of artistic effort. Mme. Tavyary, who heads the company, is a prima donna who came to America most opportunely for herself and for the art which she so conspicuously adorns. She is the first heard of in this country for seasons ago. Mme. Tavyary is a Russian by birth, but like most of her countrywomen, she is a great linguist and sings in English, French, German and Italian with equal facility. Mme. Tavyary is seen at her best perhaps in those lyric soprano parts requiring great facility of voice. The company in support comprises the best known singers who come with the stamp of European approval.

The musical director—that man upon whom so much depends in grand opera—is Signor Emmeric Morreale, who comes from the National Opera house in the city of Mexico, where he has been for years in charge of the orchestra. The company is under the direction of Charles Pratt, the impresario who directed the artistic destinies of Emma Abbott. Mr. Pratt gives assurance that the operas presented during the week at the Lyceum next week will be appropriately costumed and scenically invested, and that the choral and orchestral features will leave nothing to be desired.

The Metropolitan.

A unique musical organization is "The Metropolitan." It consists of but six or seven people and they present for a performance two or three short operas without choruses. The prima-donna soprano of "The Metropolitan" is one of the handsomest and most talented American cantatrices, Miss Florence Wolcott. The tenor is James Connell Abdlil, for many seasons the leading tenor of the Emma Abbott Opera company. The contralto is Miss Katherine MacNeill, whom Mr. D'Arcy, of the London Era, summer before last heralded as the coming American Scatchi. The basso is Arthur Donaldson, who is known to have a very rich and powerful voice. The comedian is James Duran, and the musical conductor is Carl Martens, who filled a similar position with the American Opera company. The company will be at the Temple on Thanksgiving.

Was Cruel to His Horse.

In police court this morning C. L. Edwards, a teamster, pleaded guilty to cruelty to animals and was assessed a fine of $5 and costs. Humane Henry Haskins made complaint. Edwards left his horse standing out until an hour unreasonably late. Gus McLennan and E. J. Gilmore went up ten days for drunkenness. Ed Johnson paid $10 for a similar offense and Annie Parker secured a suspended sentence.

THE CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

Large Attendance at the Exhibition at the Union Church.

The chrysanthemum show is a very popular order of entertainment, and Duluth's second event of the kind, given at the Union church last night, proved to be no exception. It was a success of the most pronounced kind, and the number of chrysanthemums which will be shown at the chrysanthemum show will be some indication of that.

At last year's show thirty-one varieties were shown and this year the number was fifty-two. Many of the specimens were of exceptional size and the number of chrysanthemums which will be shown at the chrysanthemum show will be some indication of that.

The flowers were all grown by Anderson, the Glen Avon florist. The ladies who had charge of the entertainment, who deserve much credit for the success, are as follows: Mrs. Hays, Mrs. Triggs, Mrs. Goffe, Mrs. H. A. Ware, Mrs. L. J. Hopkins, Mrs. A. F. Finner and Miss Kugler. Fully 300 people attended the show and the amount that was cleared by the church will aggregate $100. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Anneke and Mrs. Goffe.

From the success of last night's show and the interest exhibited by those who attended it would appear that the chrysanthemum show is a permanent fixture in Duluth so long as the shocked flower continues to reign as a popular idol, and that future shows will be even more successful than the initial ones.

Want Duluth Delegates.

Secretary Wynne of the Board of Trade, has received a letter from W. B. Abeling, editor of the Hay Trade Journal and Directory, asking that the Duluth board send a delegation to a meeting of hay handlers to be called at some city not yet decided upon with a view to bringing about a uniform system of grading hay. An invitation has also been received to send a delegation to a manufacturers' convention in Cincinnati, Jan. 25, for the purpose of advocating legislation for the permanent exhibition of American products in various cities in the world.

Sale Begins Tomorrow.

The demand for single seats for the performance of the Marie Tavyary Grand Opera company at the Lyceum next week is so large that it has been decided to place them on sale tomorrow morning instead of Friday. All those wanting single seats had therefore better be on hand tomorrow or their chance for getting them will be rather slim.

He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. After having a gripple he himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine, and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

A VICTORY FOR PASKOLA.

It Receives the Official Endorsement of Eminent Experts and a Jury of Representative Citizens.

The suit brought by Ohio's Food Commissioner against a Cincinnati druggist for selling Paskola on the ground that it was nothing but glucose, resulted in a great victory for Paskola and a verdict against the state.

During the course of the trial, Professor Shaller of the University of Cincinnati, testified that Paskola was not glucose, and even if it was, it would be harmless. He also bore witness to its activity as a digestive agent.

Professor William Dickore of the Miami college, testified to the same facts. So did Professor Schmidt, the chemist of the school of health, Professor Wm. Hoffman and others.

A practical test was made in court, showing the digestive action of Paskola on eggs as a means of various kinds, whereas glucose under precisely the same conditions produced no effect whatever.

This test but confirmed the experts' statements and proved Paskola to be of great value in indigestion and wasting diseases.

This verdict disposes of the malicious attack that has been made against Paskola by interested rivals, and suits have now been brought against the proprietors of a well-known emulsion of cod liver oil for having given wide circulation to a false formula and other misrepresentations regarding it.

A PERPETUAL INJUNCTION.

The Nebraska Maximum Freight Rate Law Invalid.

OMAHA, Nov. 27.—The decree of Judge Dundy, of the United States district court, making perpetual the injunction against the Nebraska maximum freight rate law, was rendered in conformity to the opinion handed down two weeks ago by Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court.

The decree declares that the law "is repugnant to the constitution of the United States, inasmuch as by the provisions of said act, the said defendant railroad company may not exact for the transportation of freight from one point to another within the state charges which yield to the company reasonable compensation for such services."

The decree also says that the state board of transportation "may hereafter, when the circumstances have changed so that the rates fixed in the said act shall yield to the said company reasonable compensation for the services rendered, apply to this court by supplemental bill or otherwise, as they may be advised, for a further order in that behalf."

THE CHARITY BALL.

Annual Entertainment of the Ladies' Relief Society This Evening.

Tonight the annual charity ball of the Ladies' Relief society will be given. Its social feature is the one which is probably most prominent in the minds of people who attend, but it has another which is really paramount. Through the receipts from it the Ladies' Relief society secures all the funds with which it carries out the winter's work of relief. This is about all they have to rely on for their much needed money. It is therefore deserving of the patronage of all business and professional men. The relief society always responds when called upon and is constantly working, quietly it is true, but effectively nevertheless.

The ladies of the society will receive the guests this evening. The ushers will be: J. C. Hunter, W. B. Silvey, O. C. Hartman, A. S. Wilson, W. B. Chapin and E. W. Markell. The floor will be in charge of W. C. Sargent, N. C. Kingsbury, C. B. Woodruff, S. S. Bradley, H. T. Abbott, C. W. Culver, A. W. Hartman, W. R. Peyton, Walter Turle, F. W. Farrington and C. J. Kershaw.

Hoare's orchestra will play and supper will be served. Arrangements have been made with the street railway company for a car to leave the Spaulding corner, on every line, at 10 o'clock.

Henry Wilson.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Washburn, Wis., says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer? Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, ss. County of St. Louis, ss. District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.

In re: Application of William H. Silvey, the receiver in the above petition, that the time in which said receiver shall and may convert the property and assets of said estate into money and distribute the same to the creditors of said estate, be extended for a period of one year from January 1, 1895, and that said receiver be authorized to operate the said hotel in like manner as he has been operating since the 9th day of September, 1893, and that he may have permission to make such payment upon the mortgages which cover the leasehold estate in said building and the furniture and fixtures thereof, and to secure the extension of such mortgage until January 1st, 1896, the amount of said payments to be fixed by the further order of the said court.

It is ordered that the said application be set for hearing at the special term of the district court to be held December 28th, 1894, at the court house of the city of Duluth, at 9:30 a.m., or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard. And it is further ordered that notice of this application be given by the publication of a copy of this order in the Duluth News-Tribune and the Duluth Evening Herald, two days successively, three times in each paper, between the 27th day of November, 1894, and the 27th day of December, 1894.

Dated Duluth, Nov. 26th, 1894.

Seized the Venison.

Sam Fullerton, deputy game warden, yesterday seized all the venison he could find in butcher shops in Duluth and shipped it to St. Paul to the state warden who will dispose of it. Not all of the dealers seemed to know that they are only allowed to have deer in their possession five days after the close of the season. There is quite a fine for the offense but nobody will be prosecuted unless they do some unreasonable kicking.

WITH ELEVEN JURORS

Trial of the Hulett Will Case Was Resumed This Morning With Juror Maynard Absent.

C. B. Aske Denied the Marriage Signature Was Genuine, But Got Puzzled Over Some That Were.

Marshall Davis Ewell, a Hand-Writing Expert From Chicago, Introduced for the Heirs Today.

The trial of the Hulett will case was resumed before Judge Moor this morning with eleven jurors, F. W. Maynard still being ill. There was a large crowd in attendance. C. B. Aske, of the National Bank of Commerce, was called in by the respondents, and on the stand said that he was confident that the signature to the alleged marriage contract was not Nehemiah Hulett's.

On the cross examination, however, his testimony was rather mixed. He was shown a number of signatures covered by a sheet of paper so that nothing but the signatures would appear, and asked to pronounce upon them. He hesitated slightly and being pressed he discarded all but one as spurious, saying that he would not pay checks containing them. On being uncovered they proved to be signatures of Hulett's which had been admitted to be genuine.

Marshall Davis Ewell, of Chicago, was the next witness, and he was evidently the highest card the estate held. In laying the foundation for his expert testimony Judge Spencer brought out that he was president and dean of Kent College of Law, lecturer on jurisprudence of the university of Michigan, ex-president of the American Society of Microscopists and member of half a dozen scientific societies. He is also the author of several well known legal textbooks. He testified that he had spent ten years in studying everything pertaining to handwriting.

Among the more prominent cases in which he had testified he mentioned the well-known section 30 case in Duluth, both trials of the Cronin case, the Norton will case in Jersey City and the Davis will case in Montana.

Signature Not Genuine. "I call your attention to exhibit 30, the alleged marriage contract," said Judge Spencer. "Have you seen that before?" "Yes, sir."

"Have you made an examination with the purpose of ascertaining whether the signature is genuine or not?" "Yes, sir."

"Will you please state the extent of the examination you made?" "I first saw the contract at 11 o'clock yesterday, and worked all the afternoon and part of the evening. I compared the contract with about fifty other signatures and upon that examination I formed an opinion."

"Was anything said to you about the question involved, or were you told to find it out for yourself?" "I was told to find out for myself. I did not know when I left Chicago by which side I was employed."

"Will you please state your opinion about that contract?" "I do not think that the signature was made by the same party who signed the checks I have examined."

"If the other signatures are genuine, what is your opinion of the one on the contract?" "It is fictitious. The lines purporting to be written by N. Hulett seem to be simulated. It is not a natural hand writing. There are too many changes of angles in the few lines. They seem to see-saw back and forth in a style I never saw before."

Then followed a proceeding which resulted in a defeat for the respondents. In response to an inquiry the witness produced a number of letters. Judge Spencer asked him whether or not the hand writing on those letters was made by the same hand as the one that signed the marriage contract.

The question was objected to and after some argument was stricken out, and Judge Spencer started to make the formal offer.

"We offer to show that —" "Senator Davis—Now, your honor, this style of bluffs is not unknown in the courts. These people should not say what they could prove if they had a chance, before the jury, and I ask that they be excused from the room."

Excluded the Testimony. Rather than exclude the jury from the room the offer was presented in writing, the objection sustained on the ground of incompetency and an exception taken. The offer was practically to show who forged the marriage contract.

The testimony as to the genuineness of the signature was then taken up again. Dr. Ewell said that the writing could not be Hulett's because it does not show a sign of tremor, which appears in all of his other writings. Another reason was that it was too short. In a number of checks the shortest signature was at least a third longer than that to the contract.

As to the "pistol epistle," he said that he thought the body of the note might be in Hulett's writing, though the age and condition of the paper made it difficult to determine. The address on the back, Mrs. N. Hulett, he was confident was in two different handwritings.

The Cross Examination. Just before noon the cross examination was taken up by Mr. Pence. Referring to the statement that one of the principal reasons for deciding against the signature's genuineness was that the change in angle was too abrupt, he produced a changed, and showed them to the witness. Dr. Ewell admitted that the angle changed some, but not so abruptly as in the marriage contract. Mr. Pence did not exactly agree with him, apparently, and after each check was pronounced upon by the witness he showed it to the jury.

At this point court adjourned. The Election Contest. The election contest of Henry Truelsen came up before Judge Lewis this morning in room 3, S. T. Harrison appearing for Mr. Truelsen and Fage Morris for the city. Judge Morris moved to dismiss on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction to try the contest, and Judge Lewis took the matter under advisement.

The case against John Brennan for grand larceny in the second degree was then taken up and was on trial at noon. The Levine cases are still on before Judge Ensign.

DEEP WATERWAY

The Latest Steps Taken in the Movement for a Deep Waterway to the Atlantic.

Senator Vilas Will Introduce a Bill Appropriating $50,000 for a Joint Commission of Engineers.

The Canadian Members of the Committee Promise That Country Will Take the Same Course.

It Is Probable That Another Convention Will Be Held at Cleveland in September Next.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—The movement for an international ship canal from the great lakes to the Atlantic, inaugurated at the deep waterways Toronto convention, was crystallized today in the rough draft of a bill which will be introduced in the United States senate the coming winter, probably by Senator Vilas, of Wisconsin. The executive committee of the deep waterways convention met today and began work on the bill.

It was decided to ask congress for an appropriation of $50,000 for the United States of an international commission, the proposed commission to consist of five civilian engineers and an engineer from both the war and navy departments. A similar board will be, it is expected, appointed by the Dominion government.

The commission will be expected to consider the engineering and financial requirements of the waterway and submit its report to the general government at the end of the first year of its service. The Canadian members of the executive board today expressed confidence that Canada will appoint its side of the commission as requested. The board adjourned this afternoon.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—The executive committee of the International Deep Waterways association has decided to hold the next convention at Cleveland, probably in September next. O. A. Howland and R. R. Doherty were appointed to confer with the Dominion government relative to an international commission to secure an international deep waterway from the great lakes to the Atlantic.

Plans are matured for carrying on a general educational campaign on behalf of the deep waterways to the sea. Bills were discussed which will be introduced at the opening of congress. The international commission, which the executive board is endeavoring to have the two governments appoint, is not only for the purpose of considering the best channel for getting to the Atlantic, but will have cognizance of the existing canals, through both Canadian and American territory, as the means of oceanic communication.

THE IRON TRADE REVIEW.

Inquiries From Railroads for Steel Rails Being Received.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—The Iron Trade Review this week says: One element of uncertainty in the figuring for 1895 in iron and steel is eliminated by the continuance of the steel rail agreement. At $22 there promises to be a fair volume of buying by railroads able to float bonds; inquiries from some of them are already in. The action of the steel rail makers will give support to other parts of the market, reinforcing manufacturers in the belief that 1895 will give a check to the policy of needless operation that has prevailed so long.

The silence of the coke operators in the Connellsville region about the price of their product after Jan. 1, is getting more oppressive. The general desire to know about the probable status of Bessemer pig early in the year is evidenced in the number of consumers and middlemen who are sounding the market. While there are rumors of transactions, it seems that there is little buying in the Pittsburgh, Valley and Wheeling districts.

HE DIED ON A TRAIN.

A Man Riding on a Charity Ticket Died on a Train.

LA JUNTA, Col., Nov. 28.—A traveler from Southern California died on the train from the South just after reaching this place last evening. The porter of the car in which he died says the man told him he had been operated on for a cancer and was on his way to a Denver hospital.

He had no friends with him and was riding on a charity ticket on which he had signed his name Charles Ross. He was dressed in plain working clothes and was about 35 years of age. As he had no money he will be buried in the potter's field. A paper in his pocket bore the name of Charles H. Ross, 617 South Spring street, Los Angeles, Cal.

MAY NOT NAME ONE.

Secretary Smith Unlikely to Name a Chairman of the Chippewa Commission.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—[Special to The Herald.]—Secretary Smith stated today that it would be some time before he appointed a chairman of the Chippewa Indian commission, if he appointed one at all. He said he could be carried on as well as by the two members now forming the commission as if they had a chairman. He said it depends on circumstances whether he names a new chairman.

The Bonds Advanced.
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The bond syndicate announces that the first $5,000,000 of bonds offered at 110 has been sold and the price has now been advanced to 110 1/2.

A BIG RAILROAD SCHEME.

Plan to Build a Very Direct Line Across the Continent.

MAUCH CHUNG, Pa., Nov. 28.—The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Construction company, chartered in the state of Illinois and behind which it is asserted there is a powerful English syndicate, has had a corps of sixteen engineers at work here for a week surveying their line through Carbon county and Mauch Chunk. The railway is to be across the continent from New York to San Francisco and passes through Chicago, which city will be brought within thirteen hours of New York and San Francisco within forty-five hours of New York.

The English syndicate, it is said, will take $150,000,000 worth of the bonds and have placed a bill in the hands of Congressmen Charles D. Keating, of Illinois, asking the government endorsement of the bonds, in return for which the railway company is to turn over 51 per cent of its capital stock to the government.

The survey is now completed from the Mississippi to the Delaware river, and the construction is to begin next spring and the division between New York and Chicago be finished within five years.

BENTON CASE COMPROMISED.

Settlement of a Noted Land Survey Case in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—By the terms of the compromise in the Benson civil case, the government foregoes all its claims for damages and the Nevada bank and Henry Pierce, the capitalist, will be able to collect something like $30,000 from the United States.

There are two branches of the Benson case, the criminal and the civil. It is only the latter that has been compromised, but according to the acknowledgment of the criminal prosecution, when the Benson had earned $100,000 from the Nevada bank and Dr. Pierce, the aggregate amount was $200,000 of which the bank holds claims for $20,000 and the capitalist for $80,000.

SET ON FIRE BY STRIKERS.

The Sheds of a Factory Set on Fire Twice.

DEFIANCE, O., Nov. 28.—The sheds at Shelby lumber factory in Holgate, ten miles east of this city, were set on fire twice last night and resulted in a loss to the firm of about $20,000.

Last Monday day all of the men employed at the factory went out on a strike. Late in the evening the city was reached by a group of strikers who when they got drunk and attempted to burn the works. Only the very excellent fire service of the Shellys saved their plant from total destruction.

Strenuous efforts were made by the strikers to fire the factory but they failed in that and contented themselves with applying the torch to the sheds. Many arrests will doubtless follow.

TO SUCCEED BISHOP MATZ

Father McGuire, of Chicago, Said to Have Been Selected.

DENVER, Nov. 28.—The Rocky Mountain News today says: "On the authority of an Eastern churchman it was announced yesterday that the successor of the Right Rev. Bishop Matz would be less a person than the Rev. Father McGuire, pastor of St. James Catholic church, Chicago. There is no official intelligence, but the statement was made in a semi-authoritative tone by one who is now in the East and has the advantage of the confidence of some of the most eminent dignitaries of the church."

VERY QUICK KNOCKOUT.

Harry Pigeon Lasted Only Six Seconds With Billy Lambert.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Harry Pigeon, a New York welterweight, scored one of the quickest knockouts on record in a glove contest with Billy Lambert, of England, last night before a South Side athletic club. The men shook hands and both left almost simultaneously and missed. Pigeon swung his left and Lambert ducked away, but in time he managed to catch a hard right swing on the jaw which knocked him completely out. The time consumed was exactly six seconds and was so short as to completely paralyze the spectators.

A Newspaper Changes Hands.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Nov. 28.—Negotiations which have been pending for some weeks were consummated today and the control of the Boston Daily Traveller passed into the hands of H. K. Taylor, a prominent attorney of this city, and Col. Charles E. Hasbrook, of New York, a well known newspaper man, who is recently was publisher of the New York Advertiser. Mr. Taylor will be the president of the company and Col. Hasbrook the manager. The Traveller is the Boston representative of the Associated Press.

Japanese Patriotism.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—A United States navy officer, who came over on the Oceanic, says never in any war has such patriotism been shown as that evinced by the Japanese. Rich and poor have contributed to the war fund and enrolled themselves as members of the Red Cross society, in the ranks of which are princes and nobles. The society has hospitals in every part of the empire and has done fine work on the field of battle.

Lieut. Welch Retired.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—President Cleveland has approved the war department issued an official order carrying into effect the finding of the army board in the case of First Lieut. B. C. Welch of the Fifteenth infantry, U. S. A., who is ordered to be placed on the retired list on three-quarters pay on account of physical disability.

TELLS HER SIDE

Mrs. Aaron Hirschfeld Today Told Her Story of Meeting Hirschfeld and Her Subsequent Marriage.

How His Sister-in-Law Tried to Prevent the Marriage and Finally Caused the Separation.

A Hennepin County Decision in an Important Case Reversed by the Supreme Court Today.

The Transcontinental Lines Anxious to Have the St. Paul-Duluth Roads in the New Association.

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 28.—Manager Hayward of the Western Union office, was the first witness on the stand today. He was ordered by the court to bring in all telegrams sent in by Aaron Hirschfeld and attorneys to witness and others who gave revolting testimony against his wife. Mrs. Aaron Hirschfeld, it tallied with the witnesses examined yesterday. Hirschfeld got acquainted with her through giving her sister typewriting. He began to call on her frequently. After a couple of months' acquaintance he asked her to marry him. She replied that she had known him too short a time. Hirschfeld said if she refused to marry him he knew one way to compel her, and that way was to get her in his power. She ordered him to leave the house. That was the first and last time unkind words passed between them. Next day Hirschfeld called on her and asked her to forgive him, and she did. Illicit relationship was commenced in August. About the middle of the month they left for Chicago to get married.

She had never written to him for money nor threatened Aaron with exposure. Aaron had never given her any money, but had paid out considerable to provide for her enjoyment. They occupied the same berth on the way to Chicago, and stopped at the Leland hotel, registered as Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hirschfeld, explaining that L. H. Hirschfeld was watching them, and this occupied the same room.

Next morning they were summoned to the Auditorium by Mrs. L. H. Hirschfeld, where detectives discovered their whereabouts. When they arrived there a stormy scene ensued. Mrs. L. H. Hirschfeld said she thought she had told him not to attempt going with women. Aaron said he would not marry Miss Hogan and would do as he pleased. Mrs. Hirschfeld said he would not while she was living. They then adjourned to the Leland hotel, while Sadie Hogan arrived. Witness testified to the same story told by Sadie. Hirschfeld struck Aaron with a cane, and Aaron had withdrawn, when he reiterated the statement that he was his own boss, she seized Miss Hogan's umbrella and broke it over his head.

Mrs. L. H. Hirschfeld then insisted that they go to a lawyer's office and finally agreed to do so in order to throw Mrs. Hirschfeld off the track. The agreement to separate was drawn up and signed by all of them. Miss Hogan left for Chippewa Falls, Wis., and Aaron for New York. Witness said that the previous night Mrs. L. H. Hirschfeld came to her room and stayed all through the night, locking the door and putting the key under her pillow, to prevent her from getting out to carry out the marriage program.

When she arrived at Chippewa Falls she found telegrams awaiting her from Aaron. He inquired after her health. Telegrams and letters came to her. Finally Aaron came from New York and together they returned to Helena, where they passed as an engaged couple. After several weeks they left again for Chicago where they were married. They went to the justice's office in armed to the teeth leading Aaron. He answered questions promptly. From the justice's office they went to a jewelry store where they purchased a diamond and plain gold ring with her name engraved. They returned to Helena. At St. Paul Aaron bought her a seal skin sacque and other presents. Aaron engaged rooms at the Helena hotel. They were together almost continually, Aaron only going to the bank at intervals during the day. He was very kind to her. Occupied the same apartments; he didn't sleep on a lounge as he testified. One day Aaron told her he had something to say that he was ashamed of. He said his brother hadn't spoken to him since his marriage, except to call him a scoundrel and he was urged to leave her.

A day or two later Aaron came in very much depressed and said the "old woman," meaning Mrs. L. H. Hirschfeld, had returned. Witness asked what difference that made. Aaron said she didn't know that woman's temper. Next day he came home from the bank sobbing and crying. Mrs. L. H. Hirschfeld said his brother and sister-in-law were driving him crazy. They wanted him to leave her. Mrs. L. H. Hirschfeld said she would never let him live with her. Aaron said she would want his money to go to her children. Aaron was sick all night and didn't attend him. She herself was ill next day. Hirschfeld went to the bank and soon came back, saying his relatives had been with him again. Went down to lunch together. Aaron then went to the bank saying he would return at 4 o'clock. That was the last she saw of him.

THEY SAW PRESIDENT HILL.

The Ashland Men Are Pleased With Their Conference.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 28.—The members of the A-hand delegation which came down to interview President Hill on the extension of his road to their city, returned home this morning.

They held a conference with Mr. Hill at his residence last evening, and this morning all expressed themselves as in the shoulder of the prospective result, but further than that none would talk. It is probable that Mr. Hill will visit Ashland soon.

A NEW ABBOT.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., Nov. 28.—Very Rev. Peter Engel, O. S. B., was today elected abbot of St. John abbey to succeed Abbot Lockner. Engel is 38 years old, born at St. Michaels, Minn., or dained in 1879, has been sub-prior professor of chemistry and philosophy at the institution several years. It is expected the election will be confirmed by Pope Leo by the first of the year.

Alms House Boudlers.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 28.—Judge Waller today denied the motion to dismiss the case against the alleged alms house boudlers and held the defendants, H. J. Sullivan, Joseph Meyers, W. J. Van Ryn and C. L. Lesser for trial under $5000 bonds. The two former are contractors and the latter two architects.

Judge Howe Dead.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 28.—Judge Isaac Howe, late Populist candidate for governor of South Dakota, died this morning at his home in Redfield. The exertions of the campaign brought on an illness from which he could not rally.

Increase of Pension.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—[Special to The Herald.]—A reissue and increase of pension was today granted to Jacob Swarz, of Ancker, Minn.

The Southern Utes.

DURANGO, Col., Nov. 28.—The Southern Ute Indians who have invaded San Juan county, Utah, are said to have left the Southern Ute agency, not Los Pinos, as stated in the Salt Lake dispatch last night under instructions of Col. D. F. Day, Indian agent at Ignacio. This report lacks verification as yet. The government has ignored the treaty it made with those Indians years ago, by which the Utes agreed to abandon their present reservation in Colorado for a new one in Utah. Ever since the treaty was made the Indians have been impatient to move.

A Surprising Move.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Chairman B. D. Caldwell, of the Western Passenger association, resigned today and the association was dissolved. The action was unexpected.

Drought in Oklahoma.

GUTHRIE, Okla., Nov. 28.—Drought has dried up everything in this territory and prairie fires are doing much damage.

THE ST. PAUL-DULUTH LINES.

They Will Be Represented in the Transcontinental Meeting.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 28.—Acting upon an urgent call of Chairman Treadwell, of the transcontinental lines, General Passenger Agent Russell, of the St. Paul & Duluth, went to Chicago to take part in the large passenger meetings there. The other St. Paul-Duluth lines are represented as follows: Eastern, Minnesota, F. I. Whitney; Omaha, T. W. Treadwell.

The former line would necessarily be in the transcontinental agreement and the latter in the Western passenger agreement and as one comprehensive agreement is in sight it is desired that all St. Paul-Duluth lines as individuals be included. They will probably be under the jurisdiction of the committee which will include the present Eastern committee lines, if such a committee is made.

Until the reports are submitted today speculation is valueless. This much, however, may be said: It is eminently desirable that in the new association the St. Paul-Duluth lines should be incorporated, as the head of the lakes is one of the points where American lines have to watch Canadian maneuvers closely.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

A Hennepin County Decision in an Important Case Reversed.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 28.—Five supreme court decisions were handed down today by Judge Cady. The most important is in the case of Charles H. Dunn, respondent, against the State Bank of Minneapolis, and William J. Hahn, assignee of the bank. The judge holds that the plaintiff is not entitled to maintain an action to have bank stock cancelled and reverses the order of the lower court. The action came up on demurrer to the complaint. The complaint states that Kristian Kontarski, managing officer of the bank from 1889 to the date of assignment, by fraudulent means, and through irresponsible corporations or officers, procured an increase in the capital stock from $75,000 to $100,000, and that having bought of the bank 220 shares of this increased stock in August, 1892, he paid the bank for it $22,240 by checks drawn by him as city treasurer of Minneapolis, on city funds, and in his name as city treasurer.

The complaint states further that in January, 1893, he sold the plaintiff fifteen shares of the same stock for $1575, falsely representing to him that all the increased stock was lawfully issued and fully paid for. The bank suspended in June of that year, and Dunn in his complaint asks for judgment for $1575, and that his membership in the bank be declared null and void.

The defendants each demurred on the ground that the complaint did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, and appealed from an order overruling the demurrers. The order is reversed and the demurrer sustained.

The Singer Manufacturing company, respondent, vs. T. E. Potts and Charles L. George, appellants. Judgment affirmed.

Joseph Neizer, respondent, versus the City of Crookston, appellant, the Northern American Land company, intervenor, respondent. Order reversed.

The Pioneer Savings and Loan company, appellant, versus Olaf A. Freburg, respondent. Order affirmed.

Charles H. Lathrop, respondent, versus William E. Schutte et al., defendants, Samuel Dearing, appellant. Order affirmed.

LI HUNG CHANG

After Losing His Yellow Jacket and All His Honors His Head Is Now in Danger.

Memorial to the Throne by High Officials, Charging Him With Corruption, Peculation and Deception.

Claimed That He Rejoiced at Japanese Victories and Prevented the Chinese From Gaining Success.

He Is Also Charged With Others With Conspiring to Procure the Overthrow of China.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—According to a dispatch from Shanghai, a sensation was caused there by a memorial to the throne, signed by over 120 high officials, impeaching Li Hung Chang and charging him with corruption, peculation and deception. The memorial also says that Li Hung Chang rejoiced at the Japanese victories and prevented the Chinese from achieving success. He is said to have represented that China was prepared for war when he knew the contrary was the case.

Li Hung Chang is also said to be implicated with Prince Kung, the emperor's uncle, and president of the Tsung Li Yamen and president of the admiralty, who was recently appointed dictator, and with the Taitai Wu and the commander of the Chinese forces at Port Arthur. These three officials are said by the signers of the memorial to be guilty of high treason and of selling state secrets and war material to the enemy. They are further charged with investing money in Japan, with harboring treasonable designs against the Chinese empire and with conspiring to procure the overthrow of China. The memorial demands the instant punishment and dismissal of all concerned in the conspiracy.

WILL BE QUIET AND SIMPLE.

Funeral of Princess Bismarck to Take Place at Vazina.

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—The remains of Princess Bismarck will be interred at Vazina. The funeral will be of a quiet and simple character. Prince Bismarck has received many messages of condolence from all parts, including words of sympathy from Emperor William, the Empress Francis Joseph of Austria, the Dowager Empress Frederick, Prince Hohenzollern, Signor Crispi, the Italian premier, Count Kalnoky, the Austrian premier, the crown prince of Denmark, Prince Luitpold, regent of Bavaria; the grand duke of Baden, the king of Saxony, ex-Chancellor Von Caprivi and most of the German princes and nobles.

FATAL FEUD IN OHIO.

Trouble Between Farmers Results in a Shooting Affair.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—At Middleburg, Ohio, ten miles south of this city, yesterday, Ferdinand Bergmann shot and dangerously wounded Peter Selzer and then turned his revolver upon a son of the latter, who received a bullet in the shoulder causing a bad wound. All of the parties are farmers and a feud has existed between the two families for several years. Yesterday two shots belonging to Selzer got into Bergmann's premises. A quarrel between the parties followed with the above result. Selzer, senior, will probably die. Bergmann is in jail.

A WHOLE TOWN BURNED.

Twenty-Five Families Made Homeless by a Fire in Ohio.

DETROIT, Nov. 28.—A special to the News from Blissfield says that the town of Metamora, Ohio, five miles south of there, has been completely destroyed by fire. Twenty-five families are homeless. A terrible fate is blowing.

Newspaper Man Killed.

MONTELOVA, Mex., Nov. 28.—George Martin, who claimed to be a New York newspaper man walking on a wagon from Pittsburg to South America, was killed near Santa Catarina, northwest of here, two days ago by being run over by a freight wagon from which he fell while riding to the Sierra Mojada mining camp. His remains were taken to Sierra Mojada, where they are held awaiting notice from his relatives or friends as to their disposition.

Anxious to Suppress It.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 28.—Some of the persons at Washington Court House who desire to have Sheriff Cook and Col. Colt indicted, asked Judge Maynard of that place to empanel the grand jury, but he said he would not unless the prosecuting attorney requested it. This occurred some time ago and has just leaked out, the persons asking for the jury being anxious to suppress it.

The Northwestern Dividend.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The Northwestern Railway company has announced the declaration of the dividend of 1 1/2 per cent (quarterly), on the preferred 2 1/2 (semi-annual) on the common stock. This is a reduction of 1/2 per cent on the common stock. Before the announcement Northwestern paid 1 1/2 per cent and the declaration of the dividend broke 2 per cent.

Six Were Drowned.

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—The fishing schooner Grace H. Benson was sunk in a collision with the steamer Reading, of the Philadelphia & Reading line at the entrance to Boston harbor early today. Six of the Benson's crew were drowned.

Nov. 28.—An extensive area of high pressure centered over the Great Lakes, with a low pressure over the Gulf of Mexico. The low pressure is moving northward, and will reach the Great Lakes on Wednesday.
In North Dakota and Minnesota, the temperatures ranged from 20 degrees above zero to 22 degrees below, and in Wisconsin from 6 degrees below to 10 degrees above zero. Freezing weather prevails southward to Kentucky and Arkansas. It is much warmer than on yesterday in the Rocky mountain and the northern Northwest, in advance of an approaching area of low pressure, central northwest of Montana.
The weather is generally fair in all districts, except cloudy in the Upper Missouri valley and scattered snow in the also region.
Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 6 de-

Both Similar and Dissimilar.
There appears to be a curious resemblance between the commercial situation in France and that in the United States, arising from diametrically opposite causes, as set forth in a report to the department of state by Stephen Angell, United States commercial agent at Rouen.

He quotes from a leading French authority that the commercial situation is grave, or it appears to be, which is the same thing for the general public. There are protectionists and free traders, both of whom seek the solution according to their respective views of the fiscal policy now in force, which is decidedly a protectionist one.

The financial crisis is contemporaneous with the inauguration of the new tariff and the supporters of this tariff are called on to explain the fact that from the commencement of the year 1892, which was the date of the enactment of the new tariff, until Sept. 30, 1894, there was a falling off in exports of more than 6,800,000 francs. Bad times exist. The commerce commenced with the new tariff.
There fore the tariff is the cause. Such is the reasoning which the free traders put forward, but the protectionists point to the fact that France does not suffer alone from the diminution of the exports;
that England, a country with a free trade policy, has suffered as well, and that the financial depression which exists in France is experienced everywhere.

It is generally admitted, nevertheless, that the tariff is responsible for the falling off of 6,800,000 francs in exports.
Exports to Spain and 30,000,000 francs. Exports to land during these thirty-six months.
The result is that the free traders and sufferers from the depression in general are crying out loudly and are demanding a change in the existing legislation.

In the United States, the Republicans asserted that the bad times, the general business depression, were due to the threat of free trade and to the enactment of the new tariff law. This fact was largely responsible for the general defeat of the Democrats in the recent election. It is therefore a curious fact that an entirely opposite cause is set up for the commercial depression in France, and that the protectionists there are being held responsible for it. The situation is therefore similar and yet decidedly dissimilar.

Essential to Prosperity.
In an article in the December number of the North American Review, which was published today, Hon. J. E. Ekeles, comptroller of the currency, contends that there can be no hope of undisturbed and substantial prosperity to all classes of the American people, unless and until the whole currency and banking system of the country is formulated into one harmonious plan in which each part shall be absolutely sound in principle and the embodiment of a monetary science. American financial legislation has been of the most pernicious character, and bad legislation in the field of finance must always exert a destructive influence on business. There is scarcely a single act upon the statute book affecting our currency system, which has not been placed there simply to meet some emergency that confronted the country at that time, in the belief that a difficulty might be bridged over.

The perfection of the currency and the banking system will undoubtedly be the leading feature of the coming short session of congress. It is extremely doubtful, however, whether any legislation will follow the discussion that will occur. The Baltimore plan for changing the banking system and providing a safe and more elastic currency has met with a considerable degree of favor, but it is likewise true that the plan is meeting with active opposition from many men who have given the currency system careful thought and study. That the coming session of congress will evolve a satisfactory settlement of the question is

"a consummation devoutly to be wished."
Certainly a change in the existing system is essential to the prosperity of the country.

Facts Versus Assertions.
Says the News Tribune of this morning: "Those who purchase the News Tribune, whether or not they are of the same opinion as the editor on the question of the water supply, do so because they want the news and they know that they will find it in our columns every day."

Last Friday afternoon Henry Truelsen began proceedings in the district court to contest the recent election on the water question. The News Tribune suppressed all mention of it. It was an important piece of news. Yet the News Tribune, which refused to publish it, has the effrontery to say that those who purchase that paper will find the news in it every day.

As a specimen of the "news" which the morning paper does publish, the following from today's issue is a fair sample:
"Six men were injured in the Yale-Harvard football game, which was one of the most fiercely contested ever played.
Yale was victorious." The Yale-Harvard football game took place last Saturday and a detailed account of it appeared in The Herald of that date. The News Tribune gives the result of the game—when it is four days old. The morning paper should refrain from drawing any attention to its news columns.

The Charity Ball.
The charity ball has become a fixed annual event in Duluth. It is always a success, and this year it was as successful as in the past. This must be a gratifying fact to the ladies of the relief society under whose management these balls are held and who labored so diligently to maintain the record of success and secure the needed addition to their treasury. That they have been well rewarded for their earnest work is pleasing.

The ball itself was a great success from a social standpoint. Society was well represented, and the handsome con-tumes of the ladies formed a brilliant scene. While all the ladies formed a scene, and the ladies formed a scene, they had also the pleasant thought that by their presence they were contributing to the aid of those less fortunate, whose wants will be attended to by the ladies of the relief society during the winter months.

When the Bank of England finds an over drain on its gold reserves it stops it immediately by putting up its discount rate. If the existence of the enormous capital outside prevents this from agreeing with the outside rate it borrows open market money until the two rates are the same. When the Bank of France wants gold she allows foreign shippers interest from the date of shipping, whether by steamer or railroad, and in extreme want pays a premium for it.

A St. Paul paper says the Omaha officials there deny that the road intends to run its trains into the Duluth union depot. Then it adds: "There is no reason why the company should discontinue the use of its own depot at Duluth."
The reporter who wrote that evidently never saw the Omaha "depot" in Duluth, otherwise he would never have dignified
it by that name.

The Sixth district is the largest in population as well as in size in Minnesota. This is shown by the vote this year. The total vote on congressmen in the various districts was as follows:
First district, 39,066; Second district, 43,039; Third district, 39,590; Fourth district, 36,385; Fifth district, 40,053; Sixth district, 47,693; Seventh district, 41,232.

fering severely from rheumatic gout and is a very sick man. Every person will hope that his illness may be of short console himself that there are many other sick Democrats at present.

The Populist vote at the late election was 1,636,000, a gain of nearly 600,000 in the Republican gain was very much greater, and that the Democrats lost to the Populists.

Bound to be a Winner.
Minneapolis Times: Duluth thinks that the 2nd City would be the best point in the country for a big stock and packing trade, for the reason that her climate possesses refrigerating properties that surpass those of any climate south of the Arctic circle. The argument is seriously advanced that beef killed in hot and sultry weather is never of good quality, and that those conditions never exist in Duluth, the stock and packing business ought to move at once.
This scheme does not go, and it is hardly probable that the stock and packing men will see the full force of the argument, there is still chance for some of good quality, but that kind of an argument, for they could load chunks of that refrigerative climate into box cars and ship it to cold storage concerns at a good profit. So Duluth is bound to be a winner either way.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of $200.00, an installment of interest, which became due on the 15th day of June, 1894, on a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by A. L. Lacroix, Prizma, unmarried, mortgagor, to Mary A. Noble, mortgagee, bearing date the 15th day of June, 1892, for the sum of $1000, payable three (3) years after the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of eight (8) per cent, per annum, payable semi-annually on the 15th day of June and December each year, which said mortgage, with the power of sale thereon contained, was duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 15th day of June, 1892, at 11

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly made and delivered by James & Hedson, for husband, mortgagor, to Anna J. Hedson, for wife, mortgagee, a corporation duly incorporated under the laws of the state of Minnesota, which said mortgage, bearing date the 15th day of June, 1892, in said county, Minnesota, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in the county of St. Louis and state of Minne-

CONTEST DISMISSED

Henry Truelsen's Petition Against the Water Bond Election Denied by Judge Lewis This Morning.

Laws Contain No Provision For Contesting Elections on Questions Submitted to Vote by Cities.

Another Contest Filed Yesterday Afternoon by John L. Dow and John H. Bingham.

Yesterday morning when Henry Truelsen's petition for the appointment of ballot inspectors in his bond election contest came up before Judge Lewis, City Attorney Morris moved to dismiss the petition. This morning Judge Lewis made his decision, granting the motion to dismiss and denying the petition in all respects. The ground is that the election laws contain no provisions for contesting such elections. All the clauses in reference to contests are for contesting the election of officers and county questions, and there is no provision for contesting elections on questions submitted by cities.

Notwithstanding this defeat, another notice of contest has been filed by John L. Dow and John H. Bingham, by Allen Baldwin, their attorneys. The contest is based upon much the same grounds as the Truelsen contest, except that it is stronger in language. The contestants allege that neither proposition 1 or proposition 3 were carried, neither receiving a majority, or even a plurality. Proposition 3, say the objectors, received more negative votes than affirmative. All votes for propositions 5 and 8 should have been counted against propositions 1 and 3.

It is also claimed that the election was not legally called or held, and that the council's canvass was illegal. There was no authority in the council to present proposition ten, and it was placed on the ballots only to mislead voters to vote on proposition three.

Hulet Case Arguments.

This morning the evidence in the Hulet case was all in and the arguments to the jury were commenced. In rebuttal the appellants offered a letter written by Mrs. Pomroy to her sister on the day of Hulet's death, in which she spoke of him as her husband and said that he had offered to send Walter, her sister's boy, to college. That closed the evidence for both sides and Mr. Pence opened to the jury in an excellent speech. He was followed by Judge Spencer. Senator Davis will close to the jury for the appellants.

This morning the jury in the grand larceny case against John Brennan found him not guilty in fifteen minutes. A charge of burglary against him was dismissed. The Elder cases were continued over the term on motion of the county attorney.

WASHINGTON RINK OPENING.

Manager Oestreich Will Open His Splendid Rink Tomorrow.

Washington ice rink, at the foot of Fourth avenue east, will be thrown open to the public tomorrow. The ice is in splendid condition; the dressing rooms are warm and there will be skates and music for all. The location is by far the most convenient in the city and the prices have been put down to meet the times. Single admissions will be 15 cents; a single season ticket will cost $4, and a family season ticket will cost $6. Every one should attend, as the rink under Mr. Oestreich's management will be well conducted, and open air skating is by far the most enjoyable.

THANKSGIVING LUNCHEON.

Campbell & Doran Will Give Their Patrons a Splendid Lay Out.

Campbell & Doran, at 205 West Superior street, have made arrangements for one of the finest Thanksgiving free lunches ever spread in Duluth. The lunch, in which wild turkey will be a central figure, will be served from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., from 1 p. m. to 7 p. m., and from 8 p. m. to 11 p. m., practically all day, the divisions of time only being made to allow the force of stewards to reset the tables. Their salads will be something extra fine. In addition to the elegant lunch the two beautiful paintings recently executed by G. F. Kaumeier, the renowned female painter, each 44 by 72 inches, will be on exhibition. Mr. Kaumeier's work is found in the best galleries of the Old and New Worlds. The titles of the pictures are "Warm Enough to Fan" and "La Magdalena," and they are worth a long journey to see. It is needless to say that Campbell & Doran have an extra fine stock of wines, liquors and cigars. Everyone knows that. All are invited to their Thanksgiving spread.

Will Move This Week.

The land office will be moved to its quarters in the new federal building on Friday or Saturday of this week. There will not be a begonia of land attorneys from the Temple building. Some will settle in the Lyceum, some in the Torrey building and possibly some in the Phoenix block.

ANOTHER LESTER EPISODE.

Personal Encounter of a Lawyer and a Lawyer's Clerk Yesterday.

Lester Park, as a scene of strife and warfare these cold winter days, is a strong rival with China, Corea and Japan.

Yesterday, a young man who recently came from Michigan, and who now holds a position as collector for a leading firm of attorneys in the First National bank, went out to collect a butcher's bill from an attorney out there who has some prominence both as a practitioner and a wheel horse in the Democratic party.

The young man entered the residence of the disciple of Blackstone and presented his little bill. The attorney took it, read it and then, glaring at the young man, drew himself up with all the dignity in the world and said in his most impressive tones:

"Young man, are you a young lawyer who has degenerated into a common dun?"

The young fellow felt somewhat insulted and his employers felt more so, especially when the fact remained that the attorney had failed to pay the bill.

"We'll sue him at once," they said. So proceedings were commenced and the young man sent to Duluth's swell suburb with a summons to serve upon the dilatory creditor.

When a copy was served on the attorney, he grabbed the collector by the lapels of his coat and shook him good. Then he gave him a tongue lashing. That was followed by an assault in the form of a blow that struck the collector on the breast. At that stage of the game the rate lawyer's wife fled from the room in terror and shame.

The attorney next picked up a stove poker and drove the young collector from the house. Even after the "debtor chase" was outside, the delinquent debtor followed him, pulled out a knife, whether a bowie knife or not was unknown to The Herald's informant and threatened to make shoe strings, mince meat, fi-h-bait, dog food out of the symmetrical body of the persistent collector. The latter, however, had no desire to let an angry attorney chase him with a knife, so he held himself back to the civ. It is declared that a complaint will be entered and the belligerent lawyer hauled before the police magistrate on the charge of assault.

RULE STILL STANDS.

Board of Trade Members Called to Abolish It This Morning.

The commission rule matter came up in the board of trade again today. The rule prescribes a 1-cent per bushel charge, but this has been cut right along. After considerable discussion an amendment was submitted to the committee abolishing the commission rule. The committee recommended it to the directors and the directors to the whole board.

This morning the vote on the amendment was taken and it was carried by a vote of 18 to 15. The rule therefore stands.

An endeavor will now be made to enforce the rule and the president will be called upon to deal with violators. As many of the traders are cutting the rate there may be some trouble.

Had No Fire Escape.

In police court this morning Joseph L. Miller was found guilty of failure to provide a fire escape on his building. Sixty of sentence was rendered, to be served until Dec. 28. The authorities say that all who fail to comply with this ordinance will be punished up just as hard as the law will allow.

Dan McCawley and Pat McCoy pleaded guilty to drunkenness and a similar plea was entered by Ed Custer and Tom Crisler, charged with the same offense. Judge Powell was in a compassionate mood and all of them received suspended sentences.

Foundation Contract Let.

The contract for the foundation of a 4-story building to be erected at the corner of Lake avenue and Superior street was let today to Fredin & Wilson, to be completed by Feb. 15, 1895. Mrs. Martha A. Triggs and J. L. Washburn will erect the building. The contract for the superstructure will be let later. The whole building will be completed about Oct. 1, 1895, and will cost about $100,000.

A FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Conditions Under Which One Can Be Secured

for Duluth.

City Clerk Richardson is in receipt of the following letter from Dr. J. C. Cur-

ryer, of Mankato, assistant superintendent of the State Farmers' institute:

"The prospective route, now being arranged for, will enable the management to provide your section with a state farmers' institute on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 17 and 18, on the following conditions:

First, free hall, fuel, lights and janitor; second, free local and newspaper advertising; third, first-class hotel accommodations at reduced rates; fourth, list of 500 or more of your farmers' names and postoffice addresses, that we may send them circulars of the work through the mails in good time to attend the institute; fifth, the hearty cooperation of all classes of your business men in getting your farmers and gardeners to attend the institute. This is a state work and should interest everybody.

"If an institute is desired on the above dates and conditions, write me at once. Let your local president know you are going to the word and making arrangements to reach everybody and I assure you that we will strive to make the institute a complete success.

"Prompt action on the part of your people and a favorable report to me will secure these dates and this valuable work, but delay will necessarily change the route and indefinitely postpone the work at your place.

"The urgent demand for this work over the state is beyond our ability to supply, but we sincerely desire to cultivate the whole field and go where we can do the most good to the greatest number. Your section has not had the benefits from the fact that there has not been a demand from that section as in the more agricultural districts, until of recent date. We now can supply your demand if hearty co-operation can be assured on the part of your business men who have the very best opportunity to teach all your farmers, truckmen and gardeners and get them out to the institute."

Thanksgiving at the Churches.

Tomorrow morning the First Methodist, First Presbyterian, First Baptist and Pilgrim Congregational churches will unite in a Thanksgiving service, at the Pilgrim Congregational church. Dr. Thoburn will preach the sermon.

On Oct. 6, church and Hazelwood Park Presbyterian church will hold a union Thanksgiving service at the Onesta M. E. church on Thursday at 11 a. m. Rev. William B. Greenshields will deliver the address.

Thanksgiving will be observed by the congregations of Lakeside Presbyterian and Lester Park Methodist churches at the Methodist church, 11 o'clock. The pastor of the Presbyterian church will deliver the sermon.

A GREAT BATTLE

The Big Football Game Between Pennsylvania and Harvard Has Been Favored By Beautiful Weather.

Everything Ready for the Greatest Struggle on the Gridiron Field During the Present Season.

The Seating Capacity of the University Field at Philadelphia Increased to Twenty-five Thousand.

If the Pennsylvania Men Defeat Harvard They Will Be the Undisputed Champions of 1894.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—If Capt. Knipe of the University football eleven and the thousands of football enthusiasts who will attend today's big game between Pennsylvania and Harvard had been allowed to select a day from among the unlimited variety that old Prob has been handing out to us for the past fortnight just such a day as today would have been chosen. It is an ideal one for football. Last night the followers of the long hair fraternity retired with the idea that today was to be almost as cold as some of the weather that Peary has experienced in his Arctic explorations. But what a pleasant disappointment when they awoke this morning to find that the piercing winds had almost vanished and the frosty morning was tempered with the warm rays of the November sun.

Everything is in readiness for probably the greatest battle that will be seen on the gridiron field during the present season. The seating capacity of the University field, which but a few days ago was limited to 3,000, has been increased to the extent of almost 25,000. The entire field has been encircled by sixteen tiers of open seats which begin within a few feet of the side lines of the football field and extend backward and upward about thirty feet and on two sides monopolize a portion of the sidewalk.

The city has taken on a regular football garb. All the principal business houses display the red and blue and the crimson, and the friends of either college show their preference by decorating themselves with the bright colors. It is the first big match that has been played in this city between these two teams. Everybody will be a college boy today, and the man who is too staidly to understand himself to the hilt on this occasion won't be in it.

Today's great battle will decide whether or not the red and blue shall float the championship flag from the staff. An unbiased observer will scarcely deny that Yale, while she won last Saturday's game, was outplayed by the crimson eleven, and that it was by the proverbial good luck of the blue that she triumphed over the sturdy Cambridge eleven.

The red and blue have trampled the orange and black of Princeton into the soil of New Jersey and have also kept the lib-cas from crossing their goal line, and this latter victory accomplished with a team weakened by the loss of two of her best men—Capt. Knipe and Otto Wagonhurst. These two men, however, will be in their places and ready to fight the battle of their lives.

Harvard, on the other hand, will go into today's game with a team a few points weaker than the one she pitted against the blue. The crimson will be a trifle stronger on the line but materially weaker in the back field. Capt. Knipe's team will take his regular position at left end, and as he is a better and more experienced player than young Cabot, who played against Yale, he should strengthen Harvard on the line. Hal-lowell will start in at left tackle and may possibly be able to start the game out.

Back of the lines the crimson have lost a valuable man in Wrightington. His position at left half back will be looked after by Hayes. The latter is a good substitute, however, that there is but little to choose between them. A Yale Brewer will start in at his old position—right half back—but it is almost certain he will be unable to stand the warm play that will be set by the two teams. In such an event Whittenover will probably be called in. He is a good, conscientious player but hardly in the same class with Brewer.

AN EXCLUSIVE SOCIETY.
Only Those Arrested Four Times Eligible to Membership.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The Maxwell street police arrested seven young men last night who they claim had organized themselves into the "Thieves Protective and Mutual Benefit Club," and had made a clubhouse of a deserted 1-story cottage on Taylor street.

The attention of the officers was called to the place by people living in the vicinity who complained of the noise made by the members of the club when they held their meetings. A search of the cottage revealed a large quantity of stolen clothing and other plunder.

A meeting was in full blast, and the officers found by what they could overhear of the deliberations, that membership was only possible to one who had been at least four times arrested and served at least one term in the bridewell. Among those arrested was Mock Hogan, an ex-politician, who was dismissed from the force for drunkenness.

Debutante Fraud Charged.
BOSTON, Nov. 29.—President Adams of the Debutante Institute company was arrested yesterday charged with obtaining $3,000 by false pretenses. Dr. Edwin A. Sanborn, of Somerville, is the complainant, and his counsel, Lawyer John F. McKay, says his client is but one of many and says he represents holders of the company's bonds to the value of $50,000. The Debutante Investment company has headquarters at Dubuque, Iowa.

THE LICK MONUMENT.
It Was Unveiled In "Frisco Today With Due Ceremony.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—The James Lick monument was unveiled today with appropriate ceremonies. When the late James Lick died he left an estate of several million dollars, which by his wife was to be expended in various public improvements and institutions.

Among the institutions bearing his name are the great observatory on Mount Hamilton; the Lick free baths and the Lick school of mechanical arts which is soon to be opened. The Academy of Sciences building and the Pioneer building.

One hundred thousand dollars was set aside for a monument descriptive of California to be erected in front of the city hall. This monument has just been completed and was unveiled this morning. The ceremonies were held in Old Fellows hall.

A COUP BY THE DEFENSE.
Indictment of a Primo Mover in Van Leuven Pension Fraud Cases.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 29.—The defense in the Van Leuven pension fraud cases have all along hinted mysteriously at a coup which was to be sprung at a critical moment, and have asserted that the special examiners of the department who were the prime movers in uncovering the frauds would be behind the bars before the Lime Springs, Iowa, pension agent was.

The meaning of these mysterious hints has just leaked out. The grand jury of Howard county, Iowa, meeting at Cresco, recently returned an indictment against Dr. Kessel, of Cresco, for attempting to bribe a Howard county pensioner to give evidence adverse to Van Leuven.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—William H. Grace, a prominent Irish-American resident of Brooklyn, contributes a chapter regarding Father Sylvester Malone's appointment to the regency of the university of the state of New York, which was the subject of Bishop McQuaid's recent attack on Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul.

Mr. Grace says he simply wants to show that Dr. Ireland was requested by the famous priest's friends to assist in securing his appointment. Last March he sent the following to the archbishop:

"As an old friend and great admirer I ask you to write to Senator Saxton and Speaker Malby in favor of the Rev. Father Malone as regent? You know how worthy the old Roman is and why he should receive at this time the car-

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—William H. Grace, a prominent Irish-American resident of Brooklyn, contributes a chapter regarding Father Sylvester Malone's appointment to the regency of the university of the state of New York, which was the subject of Bishop McQuaid's recent attack on Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul.

Mr. Grace says he simply wants to show that Dr. Ireland was requested by the famous priest's friends to assist in securing his appointment. Last March he sent the following to the archbishop:

"As an old friend and great admirer I ask you to write to Senator Saxton and Speaker Malby in favor of the Rev. Father Malone as regent? You know how worthy the old Roman is and why he should receive at this time the car-him to use his influence in behalf of the priest who was finally elected regent.

TO PURSUE HIS BETRAYER.
A Toledo Man Swindled by Green Goods Dealers in New York.

FLEMING, N. J., Nov. 29.—John Eberhardt, who says he lives in Toledo, Ohio, came here in response to a green goods circular, and now his only possessions within reach are a battered box and a couple of handfuls of green paper.

James Carrow, who claimed to live here, met him and the Ohio man gave up $500 good money for the box containing what he could have sworn was $3,000 in bills. The men then separated and Eberhardt took the west bound express.

He opened his treasure in full view of a crowd of passengers, who greeted him with a loud laugh when the paper fell to the floor. Eberhardt returned to his place and now vows his intention of going to New York in pursuit of his betrayer.

LITTLE WAS ACQUITTED.
The End of a Celebrated Murder Trial in Kansas.

OLATHIE, Kan., Nov. 29.—A. W. Little, who has been on trial for his life in the district court of this county since Nov. 12 for the killing of Lawyer B. E. Johnson in Kansas City, Kan., July 19, 1893, was found not guilty by the jury at 9 o'clock this morning, whereupon Judge Burris at once said: "Mr. Little, you are discharged."

Mr. Little was firmly awaiting the verdict, surrounded by his wife and three children with Judge Little, his brother, of Kentucky, nearby. No sooner had the words "not guilty" fallen from the lips of the clerk than Mrs. Little threw her arms around her husband and with her children cried for joy.

Biggest on Record.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—The British ship Semali has cleared for Liverpool with the biggest wheat cargo ever taken from this or any other port, it being 6124 tons of grain valued at $110,240.

BIG TIDAL WAVE

A Large Portion of the Dock Front of Tacoma Suddenly Swept Out of Existence.

Marine Men Believe That It Was a Tidal Wave, While Some Have Other Explanations.

Part of the Northern Pacific Railway Freight Sheds Were Carried Down Into the Bay.

A Whole Family That Lived in a Boat House Plunged Into the icy Water.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 29.—Amid the roar of an immense tidal wave against the shores of Puget sound 600 feet of Tacoma's ocean docks plunged into Commencement bay at 11 o'clock last night.

Half a dozen steamers were tossed about like chips and two were disabled. At 1:30 a. m., the filled in portion of the ocean docks was still settling and the accident under the threatening conditions beginning to assume the form of a calamity to the city.

H. H. Alger's boathouse, containing himself, wife and six children, was turned upside down, spilling the children out of their bunks into the icy water, and it is feared one of his daughters has been drowned. John Hanzel, a watchman at the Northern Pacific hydraulic pump, went down in the debris and cannot be found. He was roasted to death or drowned, in the opinion of steamboat men.

The fire department was called out at night and 500 or more people had gathered at the wharf. For a distance of 1500 feet the ocean dock had settled, and it was feared the big wheat elevators and coal bunkers would pitch into the bay. Several times, when the ground settled from six inches to a foot, a panic resulted and there was a wild rush for places of safety.

All the cattle pens of the Northern Pacific, together with the office and that company's 400 foot freight house went down to the ground, and the fire at once broke out and the pump station disappeared in the debris. Nearly all of the dock which fell into the bay is that portion of the water front which the city of Tacoma has been trying to secure from the railroad and the Tacoma Land company. Already the damage is estimated to aggregate $500,000.

Steamboat men claim a tidal wave twenty-five feet high rushed up the sound and tore the dock away. Employees of the wharf believe there has been a great submarine landslide or that a great fissure or hole has been formed in the bay, causing the dock to be swallowed. It is not positively known whether the plunging of the docks into the bay caused the big vessel, which overpowered Alger's boathouse and tore the steamers away from their fastenings, or whether it was in fact a tidal wave.

REPLY OF THE HOVAS.
The Answer to the French Ultimatum Has Been Published.

PORT LOUIS, Island of Mauritius, Nov. 29.—The reply of the Hova government to the French ultimatum has been published. Madagascar agrees that the French resident general shall act as the intermediary between the Hova government and the foreign powers.

France is to carry out such public works as the Malagasy government judges necessary. The Hovas propose that all disputes between France and themselves shall be settled by a mixed court.

Lastly, the Hovas demand the delimitation of the French territory around Diego Suarez and the right to import the munitions of war.

TWO HUNDRED DEAD CHINESE.
That Many Fell in the Recent Battle at Port Arthur.

CHE FOO, Nov. 29.—The U. S. S. Baltimore has returned here from Port Arthur. The latter accounts of the fight at that place state that the Japanese lost only 400 killed and 100 wounded. The Chinese losses were 2,000.

This account confirms the story of the massacre. The Japanese officers were unable to restrain their men, who were furious at the sight of their mutilated comrades. Only one defending battery was used. The guns of the other batteries were deserted.

It is stated that the Japanese have refused to accept $40,000,000 sterling and that they want $50,000,000 indemnity and all the expense of the war.

Killed by Falling Rock.
SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 29.—John B. Jones, Thomas Cawley and Edward Egan, employed in the Pine Brook shaft of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company in this city were killed by a fall of rock yesterday afternoon.

Coal Mines Closed.
MIDDLEBORO, Ky., Nov. 29.—Bryson Mountain, Mingo Mountain, Reliance and York Ridge Coal and Coke companies closed down their mines last night and between 800 and 1,000 men are thrown out of employment.

Bank Building Burned.
MEMPHIS, Nov. 29.—The Merchants Bank building at Grenada, Miss., was burned to the ground early this morning. Loss on the building and fixtures about $500; no insurance.

Weather Probabilities.

and Dr. Kessel, of Cresco, by offering an increase in pension as a reward.

Two other indictments were also returned charging Dr. Waite with intimidation of witnesses. The fact that these indictments have been found has been kept a profound secret as well as the further fact that attempts to find similar indictments are making in Winnebago county, Iowa.

Dr. Kessel is under federal indictment at Dubuque for complicity in the Van Leuven frauds as member of the Cresco examining board. His attorney is W. K. Barker, who is also county attorney of Howard county—a fact which is claimed by Mr. Waite to explain the bringing of the indictments.

Mr. Waite is not much disturbed over the matter. He sees in it simply an effort to influence public opinion and further delay the trials which are to commence Dec. 11. He does not fear the issue.

Exceeded His Authority.
LONDON, Nov. 29.—It is reported that the Bluefields incident has been settled, Great Britain, having, upon the representations of the United States, admitted that Mr. Gosling, the British minister, exceeded his authority. The affair may lead to his recall.

Princess Bismarck's Funeral.
VARZIN, Nov. 29.—The funeral ceremonies over the remains of Princess Bismarck were conducted at noon today by the local pastor. The body was temporarily deposited in the pavilion in the park where a specially arranged service was held.

The Powers Settling Anxious.
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 29.—The Novoe Vremia declares the irreconcilable attitude of Japan in refusing China's peace proposals renders it incumbent upon the powers to demand explanations in regard to Japan's ultimate objects.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The game between the eleven of the Orchard Lake Military academy, Orchard Lake, Mich., and Shattuck school, Faribault, Minn., was won by the former by a score of 24 to 6.

next support of your grace, the honored head of the glorious school to which he belongs.

WILLIAM H. GRACE.
Nine days later the following letter was sent to the archbishop of St. Paul:

"Brooklyn, March 16, 1894.—My Dear Archbishop: I want to thank your grace sincerely for your prompt and timely letter favoring the selection of Father Malone for regent. I have just returned from Albany where I went last Monday in his behalf. I have also seen Dr. Depew, and I look for his support, now that Bishop McQuaid is out of the race. We have, I think, forty-seven voters—a majority of the Republicans in both houses. Hamilton Fish is a great admirer of yours; so is Speaker Malby, who said you did him a great favor ten years ago.

In fact, next to the pope, your illustrious name is the greatest power in our grand old church in America today. I thank God for it, as you nobly stand for everything that is pure and uplifting in the service of our God and country.

The caucus on the regency is called for next week and I will be greatly disappointed if you don't hear of the selection of Father Malone. At this writing, there is, I think, but one candidate named against him, and that is Father Lambert, who has, I am informed, but three votes.

I have asked for Father Malone's appointment solely as a citizen and as a lifelong Republican and not as a priest. Yours truly, WILLIAM H. GRACE.

Mr. Grace then communicated with Speaker Malby from whom he received the following reply: "My Dear Mr. Grace: I am pleased to acknowledge the receipt of your esteemed favor of recent date with reference to the election of Father Malone as regent. I think that the sentiment in favor of his nomination and election is gradually growing, and it looks to me as though he would be the nominee of our party in the caucus which takes place this evening. I certainly think it advisable to have this matter settled now and shall object to any further adjournments. My own mind is not settled as to what is best to do, but I trust that this election will result in benefit to our party and to the public generally. With kind regards, I am very truly yours, GEORGE R. MALBY."

Mr. Grace says further that Archbishop Ireland took no step in Father Malone's behalf until the priest's friends asked

FOILED IN THE ATTEMPT.
Two Masked Men Tried to Rob a Southern Pacific Train.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 29.—About a half mile east of Elba, two masked men climbed over the engine tank of the Southern Pacific road and ordered the engineer to stop the train. The engineer did so.

When the train came to a full stop the robbers ordered the engineer and fireman to get out of the cab. They ordered the fireman to go back and cut the train behind the express car. The robbers fired several shots. When the fireman went to the express car he only cut the hose that ran to the coaches.

The robbers boarded the engine and tried to pull out, but they could not. They left the engine and nothing more was seen of them. Bloodhounds have been telegraphed for. Officers think they have a clue.

PARDONED BY GOVERNOR HOGG.
Two Men Eighteen Years in Prison Now Proven Innocent.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 29.—Governor Hogg has pardoned B. A. Krebs and James Preston, serving life sentences, both of whom are 70 years old. They were first condemned to be hanged but the sentences were commuted to life imprisonment, and they have been in prison eighteen years.

They were convicted of murdering Mr. England, his wife, son and little daughter in Montague county, Aug. 26, 1876. Later developments show them to be innocent and the real criminals are still at large.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly made and delivered by Mary J. Kinnane, duly married and Nels J. Kinnane, her husband, to Helen E. Bates, executrix of the estate of Edward J. Bates, deceased, of Philadelphia, Pa., mortgagee, bearing date of January 1, 1929, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of Hennepin, on the fifth day of February, 1932, at 8 o'clock a. m., in book of mortgages, page 136. Which default consists in the non-payment of the sum of two hundred forty dollars interest, which became due and payable on the thirty-first day of January, 1933, and the owing on said mortgage.

And wherefore said mortgagors remained for a period of more than ten days, it has become operative in and for the county of Hennepin, Minnesota, that the principal sum of said mortgage notes secured thereby by their terms to declare in default, and the interest thereon, shall be immediately due and payable, in the exercise of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and said mortgage is hereby declared and claimed to be in default of the terms thereof, and owing and unpaid, amounting to four hundred twenty-and-no/100 dollars.

And wherefore said mortgagee, in exercise of the power of sale which by reason of said default has become operative in and for the county of Hennepin, Minnesota, as aforesaid, and proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted in and for the county of Hennepin, Minnesota, or any part thereof, to satisfy the same, thereby given, that by virtue of said power of sale and pursuant to the same, in such case made and provided for in said mortgage, the said mortgage, together with the interest thereon, shall be sold by a sale of the premises therein described in and for the county of Hennepin, Minnesota, to-wit: All of lots number six (6) and eight (8), of block number thirty-four (34), of subdivision number one (1), of Duluth Proper, First City of Duluth, Minnesota, according to the recorded plat thereof, in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of Hennepin, Minnesota, and the appurtenances, will be sold by the sheriff of the county of Hennepin, Minnesota, at the front door of the court house in said county, on Saturday, the 17th day of November, 1933, at 10 o'clock, in the forenoon, at public sale, to satisfy the amount which shall then be due and payable on said mortgage, to-wit: Four hundred and twenty dollars—Attorney's fees, stipulated in said mortgage, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to the provisions of said mortgage, from date of sale, as by law provided.

THE UNION SERVICE.

Four Churches United in Thanksgiving Prayer and Praise at the Pilgrim Congregational Church.

Invocation by Rev. W. W. Dawley and a Scripture Reading Led by Rev. C. C. Salter.

Thanksgiving Sermon by Dr. J. M. Thoburn of the First Methodist Church—An Eloquent Discourse.

At the Pilgrim Congregational church this morning union Thanksgiving services were participated in by the First Methodist, First Presbyterian, First Baptist and Pilgrim Congregational churches. The sanctuary was crowded and the services commenced at 10:30 o'clock with an organ voluntary.

"Old Hundred" was sung and then Rev. W. W. Dawley, of the First Baptist church, offered the invocation. Dr. Thoburn led a responsive reading, Psalms xcvi and xcvi. An anthem by the choir followed that, and then the congregation joined in a hymn.

Rev. C. C. Salter gave the scripture reading, selecting Isaiah lii. Dr. Cleland, of the First Presbyterian church, offered an eloquent, fervid prayer that embraced all that a prayer can or should. The offering was then received. Rev. Mr. Dawley stating that it would be given to the Children's home. Mark C. Baker sang a solo and then the Thanksgiving sermon was delivered by Rev. J. M. Thoburn, Jr., of the First M. E. church.

"The Scepter of Shiloh" was the subject of Dr. Thoburn's sermon. The text was found in Rev. xi-17. "We give thanks, O Lord, God Almighty, because Thou hast taken to Thee Thy great power and hast reigned."

"The scepter of Shiloh which the dying Jacob saw as Judah's badge of royalty, passes out of the prophetic and out of historic. On the desolate isle of Patmos, to the accompaniment of the breaking waves, the banished disciple heard the song of triumph from the throne of the risen Christ. He saw the representatives of redeemed humanity giving thanks to God for having inaugurated this reign of power."

"Statisticians cut no figure in heaven. This earth is the only place where incense is burned to figures. The heavenly hosts take their stand on the oath of God and thank him, renounces in advance that the kingdoms of this world have become the kingdoms of His Christ."

"We should emulate them in their exultant faith. It is not going ahead too fast to thank God now for the ultimate conquest of Jesus Christ. It will rather commit us to the great scheme."

"God has just one big plan which He is working out, that is the salvation of this world. He will not fail nor will He be discouraged until it comes to pass. He has lifted the scepter of power that is to complete the work."

"The manifested power of creation is very generally admitted. Even the infidel pauses at that threshold and pays unmistakable deference to the unknown cause behind nature. The Old Testament is not a greater witness of God's almightiness than the cross. His power is none the less mighty because operating in a moral sphere. The cross and the grave if Jesus are vested with deepest significance. The world is waking up to the fact that they are at once the highest and holiest vehicles of divine power. Sin and atonement, law and forgiveness, holiness and destiny, cannot be settled on any other ground. To save and heal and reconstruct is greater than to build up originally."

"It is not the order of the creation so accurately and scientifically stated that makes the Bible such a marked book, nor is it the wonderful system of ethics it contains which exalts it among all the literature of earth. It is the scarlet thread which runs through the entire volume which distinguishes it."

"Only the Lion of the tribe of Judah can break its seals. It is a plan of salvation in a record of almightiness. The footprints of the Creator lead on the footprints of the Savior. The creating God is the perfecting God. God displays very little power in the world today which is not commingled with the power of the cross. If the earth which felt the wound of human sin could speak, it would declare with redeemed mortals, by His stripes we are healed. These healing processes are continuing without ceasing. The whole world was the subject of redemption."

"This is the reign of His great power. How wonderful has been its sway in all the earth. Many times during the past power. We may see it through a glass darkly, but its unmistakable lustre in our hearts and soon we shall bask in its full consummation and revel in its coronal residence."

"I feel the earth more enwrapped. I join the great march onward. And take my faith while living. My freedom of Thanksgiving."

and abolition of the rum traffic, the speaker held that light, advancement and success were sure to follow.

"This is considered a difficult year for applying Thanksgiving sermons," continued Dr. Thoburn. "We have had some hard times and the grumbler is abroad in the land. I fear there will be many pessimistic wails today from pulpits and platforms which will chill the ruddy cheeks that visit sad hearts. From without date it has been the disposition of men to write their blessings in the transient dust, but chisel their woes in abiding marble."

"Already, this year, men have indulged in enough gloom to make one think that Satan had debauched the Christ, and got him into a grave once more. I cannot take such a view of the situation; I shrink for such shadows as from blank atheism itself."

"Do not understand me as trifling with the adverse experiences through which we are passing; I think I understand the situation. The twelve months just gone, have been a period of confusion in commerce, in politics and in society. We have felt, as never before, the unequal pressure of our social and industrial fabrics. The one word which best describes the masses is unrest. Both labor and capital are organized and both are in danger from the clever manipulation of political demagogues. All manner of social and economic heresies have been sown broadcast over the land. The anarchist, who knows no gospel but dynamite, and that other anarchist, who holds his ill-gotten millions, are facing each other in the war. It well has been called the crisis of the modern world. Millions of money have disappeared before the devouring flames and the depreciated values. People have suffered who were supposed to have been beyond the clutches of want."

Whisky Power's Tyranny.
The tyranny of the whisky power has never been more defiant and devilish. The legalized inch given it by popular suffrage, has long since grown beyond the traditional ell. And last, but not least of the present day dangers, insidious in the extreme, is the lax moral sentiment and the trifling estimate men have put upon sin. I have not for a moment forgotten these contingents and conditions. Grant that these are terrorizing. What are they but a comparison with the King on His throne? They pale before the unequal contests of other years. God has so often brought order out of chaos and overruled the conclusions of men for their good and we ought to know by this time that affliction has ever been the precursor of a glory that outweighs it. So be it now in the outcome of all these agitations and strifes."

"Panics are always disguised blessings. Already men are gathering the fruits of their afflictions. These trying times have proven a schoolmaster to lead people to the study of themselves and the adoption of a better life, which heretofore they have purposely avoided. There has been more true Christian socialism born the past year than in the other years of the century. The social which the Manger Child of Bethlehem inspired is no longer an echo in a far off sky. It is fast taking its place in the practical ethics of every day life."

"Show me an equal period when organized and private charities have so blessed the world. The charities have had a wonderful year. It has been estimated that 20,000,000 souls have been baptised into the Christian faith, while every day has been replete with church, twelve ministers and 2000 communicants added to the forces of the reigning Christ. Surely, this is a good year for Thanksgiving."

The trouble is, we have become so accustomed to estimate our blessings from a financial basis, that it is difficult to praise God with a depleted treasury. But the Thanksgiving that is inspired only by visible conditions and does not go beneath the surface is deficient in its highest quality."

Worth of Character.
"Character developed is worth far more than crops that are raised. It means more to us that God is on the throne than to witness the mightiest political changes. The eternal ground of praise is in this glorious fact, that God has taken His great power and has reigned. Here we have a foundation which no upheaval or change of years can disturb."

"Of course if you want the blues you can easily supply your need. Just watch the things of this world. That is, where the pessimists get their inspiration. But it pays better to watch the throne. The apparent failures of the nineteenth century are a depleted treasury. The line of march led down the vicar of the coronation scene of the first century. The unfaithfulness of the vassal does not declare the impotence of the monarch. Never mind popular estimates. Just look back long enough to steady your faith with the marvelous record the scepter of Shiloh has already made and then take another look forward and read in the apocalypse of the clouds the letters which spell the purposes of God."

"Never may can you doubt or fear as to the final outcome. God is pledged to the overthrow of sin and the reign of power which is to accomplish it has already begun."

"Hallelujah! for the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth. He has assumed power. We may see it through a glass darkly, but its unmistakable lustre in our hearts and soon we shall bask in its full consummation and revel in its coronal residence."

"I feel the earth more enwrapped. I join the great march onward. And take my faith while living. My freedom of Thanksgiving."

THE NEWSBOYS' DINNER.

Great Annual Feast Under Dr. Sattler's Patronage at the Bethel.

The festive newsboys had their innings last evening and he was very particular to let as much of the town as possible know it. Thanksgiving comes but once a year, just like Christmas, New Year and Fourth of July. But in Duluth Rev. C. C. Salter goes hand in hand with the day for giving thanks that is the newsboys' gain. Without that venerable gentleman and his devoted following, the vendors of the news would miss a good many pleasant events their young lives are now privileged to enjoy.

An annual Thanksgiving dinner is Dr. Sattler's hobby and one that he rides hard, too. Years of panic, gloom and hand-to-hand cut no figure with him when it comes to the annual Thanksgiving dinner for the newsboys, as last evening testified.

The newsboys had their annual fill of turkey and its accompaniments. At 6 o'clock they met in the press room of the Evening Herald. Under the direction of A. J. Pearson, known in the vernacular as "Pinkey," The Herald's circulator, the youngsters were lined up in double rank and marched to the Bethel. The line of march led down Michigan street to Fifth avenue west, thence to Superior street and thence to Lake avenue and to the big front doors of the Bethel.

Young Willie Oreckovsky, alias the "Mascot," headed the procession, which just about extended the length of a block. And what a racket there was. Several hundred throats emitted yells and howls and cries that split the evening air, and even made touchy pedestrians who came too near hold their hands to their ears. A procession of victors in politics would have been nowhere when it came to joy, enthusiasm and genuine noise.

Reaching the Bethel the boys halted, made ready their admission tickets and then passed into the room and to a seat at one of the several long tables. A part of the tables were already filled with little girls. Ladies and gentlemen stood at their posts of duty, ready to serve the young feasters. Rev. Mr. Salter stood on the platform, wearing his broadest, kindest smile, and waving frantically a handkerchief. The boys replied to the salutations with grins and laughter and loud yells. As soon as seated they commenced to place their cups right side up and to rattle plates and spoons.

"America" was sung, all lending voice and a reasonable degree of quiet and order being maintained. Then Dr. Salter introduced W. C. White, ex-superintendent of the Bethel, as "past grand master" of the Bethel. He started to tell how the Bethel and its work had grown but his voice could not combat the noise, so he sat down amidst the yells of the newsboys—they were so glad one obstacle between their stomachs and cold turkey had been removed.

The feast then commenced. For an hour cold turkey, coffee, sandwiches, cake, nuts and apples were fed to nearly half a thousand healthy and hungry boys and girls. Some of the best ladies of the town were on hand in the role of waitresses and many a prominent leader in society was present to see and encourage the feast.

Miss Monk, accompanied by Miss Mackay attempted to sing, but the noise was too much. She tried it later with better success. Then "Mascot" rendered one of his harmonica solos and the boys encircled with a yell that nearly rent the roof. Miss Monk sang again and then "Mascot" like a young David, accompanied her with his beloved "mouth-organ."

It was 8 o'clock before every youngster had been fed but all feasters and those who gave the feast, felt that it was the best and most successful event of its kind yet given.

The Pleasure Seekers.
The Pleasure Seekers gave their first party last evening at the Masonic temple. It was a very pleasant social affair and while the attendance was not large there were just enough there to make dancing delightful. The guests were received by E. E. Johnston, T. J. Row, G. E. Alstead and A. L. Eger. The floor was in charge of F. A. Eger and E. G. Cook. The invitation committee consisted of W. D. Hammond, P. S. Kaufman, A. L. Eger and A. E. Premermer. This was the first of a series of parties to be given during the winter at the same place.

BENNETT SKIPS.

Sudden Disappearance of W. C. Bennett, Who Formerly Lived in Duluth and Lately in California.

Wrote to His Wife He Owed $40,000 and She Would Never See Him Again.

Several Telegrams From Hirschfeld to Witnesses Produced and Read at the Fargo Trial Today.

William M. Campbell Sworn in as Marshal Today and Appointed His Son as Chief Clerk.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 30.—The Dispatch says: It has been an open secret for some past on St. Anthony hill that W. C. Bennett, at one time in this city and prominent in realty circles, and the husband of a St. Paul girl, is missing and the strictest search has thus far been barren of results. Bennett was an attorney and he came to this city a number of years ago as the representative of the Onondaga Land company, of New York. He was also the attorney of the D. S. B. Johnston Land company and, in fact, had numerous diversified interests here and at Duluth and Ashland.

He married in this city and went to Duluth to live. They resided there about a year, he being secretary of the Ontario Lumber company, with an office in the Torrey building and then went to California, where Bennett resumed his land operations. He was accompanied there by Mrs. Bennett but later he brought her back to St. Paul. A few weeks ago Bennett, again in California, wrote his wife that she would never see or hear of him again. He explained that he was about $10,000 in debt, and that the obligation was greater than he could face.

His communication was vague, so that no one could tell whether he meant suicide or flight. At all events, he disappeared completely. Every means was used to find him but thus far he has not been untraced. The only trace found in California under another name, but even at that he could not be found.

HIRSHFELD DIVORCE CASE.

Some of the Plaintiff's Telegrams Regarding Various Witnesses Produced.

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 30.—Some telegrams sent by Hirschfeld to Detective Devereaux and vice versa were sprung this morning. Hirschfeld in his testimony denied that he had ever sent telegrams regarding Anderson and other witnesses. He said Devereaux had called on him and that he himself did not know who witnesses were character of their evidence until they appeared on the stand.

Wednesday Morning Haywood, of the Western Union, was ordered to produce in court these telegrams. The first read was in regard to Bailey, the Palmer house employee. Devereaux telegraphed that Bailey would not testify for less than $500. Hirschfeld answered that the testimony was not valuable enough to give fifty. Another from Devereaux said: "A (supposed to mean Anderson) refuses to come for less than $500 and expenses." Hirschfeld answered: "Hold to agreement for $400 and expenses." Devereaux answered: "Send package by today's train."

There were others of similar character, all dictating as regards terms. An attempt was made to have all telegrams to and from Helena produced. This was bitterly fought by plaintiff and will be decided this afternoon.

Mrs. Hirschfeld was called to the stand and subjected to a rigid cross-examination going over practically the whole ground traversed in cross-examination Wednesday. Counsel for defense interposed numerous objections to the same questions being put for the third or fourth time, but witness answered all, practically as before.

STOCK TRAIN WRECKED.

Two Brakemen and an Engineer Injured and Several Hogs Killed.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 30.—During a heavy mist shortly before 8 o'clock this morning on the Northern Pacific near the state fair crossing, a Great Western light engine ran into a stock train on the St. Louis track, wrecking the caboose and a car of hogs, a number of the latter being killed.

On the caboose brakeman Fairchild was badly cut but the others with him miraculously escaped. On the Great Western engine Frank Hosmer, a brakeman was terribly cut about the head, having struck on his head in jumping from the engine. Engineer Anderson was badly injured in the left foot and the fireman was injured.

HAD A REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

Conductor Barber's Escape From Instant Death Was Wonderful.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 30.—A special to the Dispatch from Grand Forks, N. D., says: Concerning the late railroad accident on the Great Northern at Barnesville, latest advices report that Conductor Baker was not seriously injured, as was at first supposed. His escape from instant death was remarkable.

The engine ran into the caboose with such force as to split it in two, and Conductor Baker was carried with force into the next car, which was loaded with grain, and jammed almost out of sight through the grain up against the side of the car and was imprisoned among the broken timber in the car which had to be chopped out before he could be extricated. He was unconscious when released and was assisted to his bed. Physicians who were called think that, although seriously injured in the spine, he may recover. When he first recovered consciousness he was able to walk for a few minutes; then his powers of locomotion ceased.

CAMPBELL IS NOW MARSHAL.

He Qualified at Noon Today Before Judge Nelson.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 30.—William M. Campbell qualified as United States marshal this noon before Judge Nelson, of the United States court. Mr. Campbell will take charge of the office tomorrow morning. He was asked what changes he would make in the office force and the force of deputies, and said that he had but one change to announce at present, and that was the appointment of his son, J. A. Campbell, as chief clerk.

"Jack Campbell" will not enter upon his new duties until his father's contract with the state auditor expires. Mr. Campbell's bond is in the sum of $40,000 and P. H. Kelly heads the list of his bondsmen. His official commission runs to the end of the present congress, that is, for the interim only. In case his appointment is continued, he must qualify afresh. It is expected that Mr. Campbell will retain a number of the old force.

VERDICT FOR THE DEFENDANT.

Verdict of a Minneapolis Jury After Thirty-Six Hours' Consideration.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 30.—"We, the jury, and for the defendant," was the way the verdict read which was handed in this morning in the suit brought by B. F. Nelson, receiver of James Bishop & Co., against James H. Bishop, to recover $3000 alleged to have been misappropriated by the defendant from the funds of the plaintiff company.

The jury took thirty-six hours to reach their verdict, having gone into the jury room about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. The first ballot stood 5 to 7 in favor of the plaintiff. The plaintiff will move for a new trial at once.

Murder at Iron Mountain.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 30.—A special to the Wisconsin from Iron Mountain, Mich., says John Iregoin shot and killed Samuel Daniels last night in an altercation over a rooster fight. Iregoin and H. Munroe, a plumber, who were mixed up in the scrape, are in jail.

Donnelly Resigns.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 30.—Ignatius Donnelly has given up his resignation as president of the Minnesota State Farmer's alliance.

TWO MORE HAVE DIED.

Additional Victims of the Accident to Football Players.

SOUTH BRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 30.—Two more of the football players injured in yesterday's accident are dead, making four in all. Shortly after midnight John Street, 27 years old, who was the half-back of Williams' freshmen eleven, died. His skull was fractured and he received internal injury.

This morning Victor Nelson, aged 23, died. His skull had been fractured, his leg broken and other severe internal injuries sustained. There is little hope for the recovery of Andrew Taylor. Alfred E. Hughes and Charles Simpson are also likely to die. The other injured members of the party will recover.

A POOL ROOM RAIDED.

Seventy-Six Hot Sports Arrested at South St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 30.—At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Ed Murphy's pool room in South St. Paul was raided by Deputy Sheriff Daham and six deputies. About seventy-six hot sports were captured in the joint, but Murphy immediately put up $500 bail to appear before Judge Stevens this morning, and all the tiger fighters were released.

The reason for the raid is that Murphy has exceeded his license and was running chuck-a-luck, craps and various other games which are prohibited.

The Contract Annulled.

DENVER, Nov. 30.—The state land board decided today to annul the contract under which 10,000 acres in Montezuma county were sold and leased to the Chicago Consolidated Land and Water company, a Chicago concern, at the head of which is John V. Farwell.

The President Improving.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Owing to the unfavorable weather today, it was thought best for the president to remain at Woodley and not venture out and the cabinet meeting for today was abandoned. Private Secretary Thurber says that the president is improving and is much better.

Three Negroes Creamed.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 30.—At Polkton, this state, three negroes, Henry Butler, Oscar Thompson and Hamp Ray were burned to death this morning. They were arrested yesterday for a small offense and were placed in jail. They attempted to burn their way out, having struck upon their own destruction.

A Murderer Hanged.

Bellefonte, Ill., Nov. 30.—George Centrell was hanged here today. He was executed upon his own plea of guilty of murder in the first degree. He and Annie Kahn murdered the latter's husband on Aug. 7 last in order to better put themselves in a position to continue illicit relations.

Fatal Barroom Fight.

DIVIDE, Cal., Nov. 30.—In a barroom fight today, Billy Yost shot Frank Emmons, B. Rust and Samuel Foster. Emmons is fatally injured. The others will recover. Yost is a hay baler and worked for Emmons and Rust.

The Nicaraguan Trouble.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—It is learned that Great Britain informed Nicaragua that she could not recognize certain decrees in regard to land registration and other matters which, Great Britain holds, violate her treaty with Nicaragua.

DECEMBER'S DELUSIONS!

TO BEGIN WITH, The very name is misleading. It is not the tenth month, as the name would imply, but the twelfth. That's because the year used to begin with the Vernal Equinox in March, but times have changed since then in more respects than one. The most deadly delusion of old, however, is the impression some people have that they can put off buying heavy goods until after Christmas. To persist in that idea is to make ready for spending that same holiday under the cypress. Too grave for amusement, isn't it?

WILL STOP THE GAME

New York Police Will Not Permit Any Brutality in the Yale-Princeton Game Tomorrow.

Superintendent Byrnes Will Not Allow Players to Act Like a Lot of Prize Fighters.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Superintendent of Police Byrnes announced today that no exhibition of brutality will be permitted at the Yale-Princeton football game at Manhattan Field tomorrow. Mr. Byrnes instructed Inspector Conlin to stop the game if it proved to be anything but a purely scientific contest. The superintendent said he would not allow the players to act like a lot of prize fighters and publicly maintain each other for life. The game will be stopped at the first exhibition of brutality.

The members of the football teams will get to official notification from the superintendent of his intention. The superintendent argues that if the players are brutal they are law-breakers and therefore are amenable to arrest. If action is taken by the police and resistance is offered, the enthusiasts at Manhattan Field may witness some wholesale arrests.

A police officer, who said that he expressed his opinion only as a citizen, said it was his belief that there was not the slightest chance of the game being interrupted and that the superintendent was making a "grand stand play."

REQUISITION FOR ROCKEFELLERS.
A Texas Sheriff Has Forwarded Requisition Papers to Governor Flower.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Under Sheriff McDonough received a letter today written on the official letter heads of W. L. Burke, sheriff of Lennan County, Tex. It reads:

"Waco, Tex., Nov. 25, 1894.—To the Sheriff of New York: Dear Sir,—I have this day mailed your governor, R. P. Flower, requisition papers for John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler, John D. Archibald, Benjamin Brewster, Henry H. Rogers, Wesley H. Tilford, of your city. When you receive the governor's warrant, please execute at once and wire me and I will come on at once. Yours to command, W. L. BURKE, Sheriff."

The undersigned, once forwarded the communication to police headquarters, who alone will take the steps necessary to put the indicted magnates in custody.

THE FAIR AT AMSTERDAM.
The Scope of the Exhibits Will Be of the Widest Character.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The department of state has received programs of the international exhibition of hotel and traveling accommodations to be held in Amsterdam next summer.

The scope of the exhibits will be of the widest character, the groups covering architecture, shipbuilding, rail construction and equipment, ceramics, furniture, china and pottery, tableware, blankets and liquors, confectionery, fisheries, medicine, machinery, electric lighting and signaling, gas and oil lighting, heating, air industries, geography, appliances, gardening, insurance and many other branches.

Freight Steamer Overdue.
New York, Nov. 30.—The Wilson line steamer Lydian, which sailed from London Nov. 7 for this port, is now seven days overdue. The Lydian is a freighter but generally carries a few cabin passengers and usually makes the trip in fifteen days. The delay is probably due to the heavy weather reported by all incoming steamers.

STORIES ABOUT RUBENSTEIN.

Personal Recollections of the Pianist Given by William Steinway.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—William Steinway has contributed some of his personal recollections of Anton Rubenstein to a musical journal, which will be published tomorrow. Referring to the visit of Rubenstein to this country, he says:

"One day Mr. Rubenstein came in to see me bearing in his arms a large bag of gold and silver. He then told me that having heard in Europe that the majority of the people in America were 'rascals' and that their paper currency in most instances was no good, he had exacted in his contract that his money should be paid to him in specie, semi-monthly in advance. The first two weeks salary he was holding in his arms and did not have the least idea what to do with it. I explained the depreciated currency to him, told him that the system was at any rate better than it was in Russia, where it was at a discount of 60 per cent, and advised him to promptly sell his specie.

"Before he left New York for his tours through the country he called at Steinway's one afternoon about 5 o'clock for his mail. A bulky registered letter had come for him and it contained letters from his children, a long letter from his wife and newly-taken photographs of his family.

"The tears came to his eyes as he said to me: 'Friend Steinway, I feel so happy that I must play for you.' Meantime it had grown late and everything was closed for the day. Four other musical gentlemen whom he personally knew came in. The doors were closed and he sat down at the piano to play for us. Twelve o'clock at night still found us there spellbound, for such heavenly playing we had never heard before.

"Then and only then I realized what four celebrated men could do. Grotzke, who wrote the poem of the 'Earl King,' Franz Schubert, who had composed the melody, I was Franz Liszt, who had transcribed it for the piano, and Anton Rubenstein who could play it. At the risk of being called sentimental, I must say that on that memorable night it appeared to me as if we heard the voice of the little child, the clattering of the horse's hoofs, the wild entreaties of the Earl King as plainly as if we had witnessed it all ourselves.

"On Wednesday, Sept. 14, 1892, I visited Dresden and received an invitation to call and see him at his hotel. He received me in the most friendly manner and said: 'Now, Friend Steinway, I have a chat about America, the great country which I have never forgotten tokens of friendship.

"After describing to him the immense progress in America toward appreciating music, I was staggered by Rubenstein's reply. 'Well, Friend Steinway,' said he, 'I think ladies ought never to study music as an art. At least they ought not to take up the time of teachers who are able to teach and make true artists. And I will tell you why, he is twenty musical ladies to one musical man, and my own experience is that they learn more quickly, have more poise and in fact are more diligent pupils than men. But what is the inevitable result? When a young lady has become a perfect artist, a handsome moustache comes along, and she chooses the handsome moustache in preference to her art.'

PREDICTS ANOTHER ISSUE.
Ex-Secretary Foster Thinks Another Issue of Bonds Probable.

DENVER, Nov. 30.—Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles Foster, who is in Denver at present, was asked when the secretary has legal power to issue bonds, if he did not care to express an opinion, Mr. Foster replied, 'but I do not think the legality of the issue will be questioned.'

"What do you think of the silver question; will it be an issue in the next campaign?" It may possibly be an issue, said the ex-secretary, 'but I think that if the next congress is Republican the matter will be satisfactorily adjusted. I also think that the silver men should be willing to concede something.' Mr. Foster predicts another issue of bonds in a few months.

NEGOTIATING A LOAN.
The Reason of Archbishop Ireland's Visit to New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, who has been in New York almost constantly since the end of September having been a guest at the Fifth Avenue hotel and later at the Brevoort house has left the city for St. Paul.

It has been learned that Archbishop Ireland's reason for visiting New York was to negotiate a loan of $50,000 on real estate which he owns in St. Paul, the loan to be used in paying the indebtedness of the archdiocese of St. Paul. Owing to the insecure feeling existing among capitalists before election the archbishop could not arrange the loan until recently.

Knows Where They Are.
DENVER, Nov. 30.—M. VanBuren, attorney for James and Clarence Moulton, who disappeared mysteriously Oct. 25 after attending a meeting of the A. P. A. edge, says he knows where they are and they will turn up all right when it suits their purpose to do so.

Death of a Princess.
COPENHAGEN, Nov. 30.—Princess Louise, sister of the king of Denmark and aunt of the dowager empress of Russia, died of the princess of Wales, is dead. Princess Louise was born Nov. 18, 1838, and on Aug. 3, 1860, was nominated

THE "LIVING PICTURES" REPLY.
They May Organize and Oppose the Onslaught of the W. C. T. U.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The fight against the living pictures being waged by some of the members of the W. C. T. U., has developed into a war between women. It is not at all unlikely that the "living picture" will organize and oppose the onslaught of the W. C. T. U. A spontaneous move was made in this direction when the girls employed in the Garden theatre met. The result of it was that the following letter was sent by them to Mrs. Grannis:

"Dear Madam: As workings of the stage, employed as models in the Kilany living pictures, we thank you warmly for your womanly and sensible opposition to the fanatical crusade against animate art suggested by Lady Somerset. It is undoubtedly true as you remark, that there is no unchaste picture exhibited in New York; certainly none so small or so suggestive as those being displayed in the boxes of the Metropolitan opera house. Your position in this matter is a credit alike to your heart, brain and Christian spirit. A number of 'living pictures' were interviewed in reference to the matter. Said Nellie Sinclair: 'I have no desire to criticize the action of the ladies of the W. C. T. U., but I cannot refrain from remarking that their efforts to take the bread and butter out of our mouths is not what would be expected from women of their class. There is no suggestiveness or indecency in our parts.'

"Do you think I should take part in anything that reflected on my moral character?" asked Pauline Bradley. "I claim that the human figure, motionless as it is displayed in the picture, is no more suggestive than a marble statue." Alma Egbert and Ella Gaub do not speak English. Through an interpreter they said that in Europe no word of condemnation was uttered or heard against the living pictures in which they had appeared, and they were raised to the level of the contemplated crusade. The pictures, too, have been modified since being brought to this country.

"I don't care," Mary Hamilton said, "but I think it is real mean to start an agitation against me. If marble statues were used instead of human figures there would be no criticism."

Jessie A. Frost said: "We are only models in a picture, made to represent some historic event or to reproduce accurately as possible the paintings of some of the great masters." Another kind of an argument to offset the original one, "The fact is," whispered Nellie, "they are jealous because we have pretty figures."

THE POPGUN TARIFF BILLS.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, Says an Effort to Pass Them Will Be Made.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Senator Jones, of Arkansas, a member of the finance committee, said yesterday that he had no doubt there would be made an earnest effort on the part of the Democratic members of the finance committee to get the senate to consider the supplemental tariff bills concerning sugar, coal and iron at the forthcoming session. He said that he for one would support the bills as reported by the finance committee should be taken up and passed.

Continuing, Mr. Jones said he did not see how the Democratic senators could under all the circumstances afford not to at least make the effort to pass these bills. "Of course," he said, "if there is a majority in the senate against us we shall not be able to get them through, but that is one of the things that remain to be seen. It is certain if the Democratic senators who are supposed to be against the bills prove upon a vote to be opposed to them, they shall be able to get favorable action, in case the Republicans should be solidly against further tariff action by the present congress."

"I think," said he, "the Republicans ought to be put on record in the sugar bill. They have whipped the Democrats mercilessly with selling out to the sugar trust, and we now have a chance to see how they will act in this matter. It cannot be pleaded that the passage of such a bill will imperil the revenues and there can be no legitimate excuse for opposing it except a desire to protect and defend the trust. I want to see if the Republican senators will put themselves in that attitude after the charges that have been made against the Democrats in that connection."

GUADALAJARA, Mex., Nov. 30.—Another terrific eruption of the Colima volcano occurred Wednesday night, and the scene as witnessed from the city was a grand one. No definite reports have been received from the immediate vicinity surrounding the volcano, but it is feared that there was a severe loss of property and probably of life.

Finer's New Play.

Mr. Arthur W. Piner's new play is in rehearsal at the Garrick theatre, London, and will be produced as soon as it can be made ready. This is the first place from Mr. Piner's pen since "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," and it is reported that in it the author has gone into the sex question with greater detail and "frankness" than in any of his previous works. It is expected that, whether the new piece is a success or failure in a monetary sense, it will at least awaken very extended discussion.

Captain Little of Dartmouth.

One of the best football organizations in the country is the New England Football association, which consists of Dartmouth, Williams and Amherst.

Dartmouth is playing a strong game this season and on Nov. 10 defeated Amherst by the score of 40 to 0.

Charles Sherburne Little is captain of the Dartmouth team this year. He was born in Woburn, N. H., in 1869, fitted for college at Dow academy, Framingham, and entered Dartmouth in 1887. He played football the first year, and was captain of the team in 1888, 1889 and 1890, was manager of the athletic team his senior year and at the intercollegiate meet broke the record in the hundred yards, covering 94 feet 1 1/2 inches. After graduating he was employed as a civil engineer until the summer of 1893, when he entered the Dartmouth Medical school, where he is pursuing a third year's course. He played tackle on last year's championship team, and thus far this season has kept the same position. This will make his fifth year with the Dartmouth eleven. Dartmouth was champion of the New England association last year.

Miss Dagmar as Hecate.

A private cabaret from London states that Miss Cora Dagmar, the new prima donna of whom a great deal is being heard in these days, appeared at the Theatre Royal, Manchester, as Hecate in Gounod's opera "Phileas and Hecate" and scored a most brilliant success. The cabaret further states that the newspapers speak of Miss Dagmar's performance as one of the best ever seen in that city.

Pauline Hall in the Legitimate.

Pauline Hall, now touring with the new opera, "Dores," under the management of her husband, George B. McCallahan, has on two occasions ventured into legitimate drama. At one time she was a member of Mary Anderson's company, and at another time she appeared with Kate Claxton.

Force of Habit.

Force of habit will sometimes lead an absentminded man into ludicrous actions, of which he never becomes conscious. A West-Sixty-ninth street gentleman recently afforded an amusing instance of this.

Mr. S. is the senior of several partners in a manufacturing business, is the managing head of the firm and dictates all the correspondence of the house, his favorite position being a standing one, facing the stenographer.

Recently for several Sundays Mr. S. has invited the other members of the firm to dinner at his home. Being a deacon in the church, Mr. S. always asks a somewhat lengthy blessing, standing while the others are seated.

After the first dinner one of the junior partners said to another:

"Did you hear what S. said when he finished the blessing? He mumbled something that I couldn't catch."

"Nor I," answered the other.

"Next Sunday the same thing was repeated, and the curiosity of the younger men having been aroused it was arranged that the next time one of them should get as close as possible to Mr. S. and be on the alert for the muttered appendix to the grace."

This was carried out, and the astonished partner caught in a hurried murmur the surprising ending: "Your very truly, S. S. president."—New York Herald.

WILL STOP THE GAME

Superintendent Byrnes Will Not Allow Players to Act Like a Lot of Prize Fighters.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Superintendent of Police Byrnes announced today that no exhibition of brutality will be permitted at the Yale-Princeton football game at Manhattan Field tomorrow. Mr. Byrnes instructed Inspector Conlin to stop the game if it proved to be anything but a purely scientific contest. The superintendent said he would not allow the players to act like a lot of prize fighters and publicly main each other for life. The game will be stopped at the first exhibition of brutality. The members of the football teams will get no official notification from the superintendent of his intention. The superintendent argues that if the players are brutal they are law-breakers, and therefore are amenable to arrest. If a fight is taken by the police and resistance is offered, the enthusiasts at Manhattan Field may witness some wholesale arrests.

A police officer, who said that he expressed his opinion only as a citizen, said it was his belief that there was not the slightest chance of the game being interrupted and that the superintendent was making a "grand stand play."

REQUISITION FOR ROCKEFELLERS.

A Texas Sheriff Has Forwarded Requisition Papers to Governor Flower.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Under Sheriff McDonough received a letter today written on the official letter heads of W. L. Burke, sheriff of Lennan County, Tex. It reads:

"Waco, Tex., Nov. 25, 1894.—To the Sheriff of New York City: Dear Sir, I have this day mailed your governor, R. P. Flower, requisition papers for John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler, John D. Archibald, Benjamin Brewster, Henry H. Rogers, Wesley H. Tilford, of your city. When you receive the governor's warrant, please execute at once and wire me and I will come on at once. Yours to command, W. L. BURKE, Sheriff."

The under sheriff at once forwarded the communication to police headquarters, who alone will take the steps necessary to put the indicted magnates in custody.

THE FAIR AT AMSTERDAM.

The Scope of the Exhibits Will Be of the Widest Character.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The department of state has received programs of the international exhibition of hotel and traveling accommodations to be held in Amsterdam next summer. The scope of the exhibits will be of the widest character, the groups covering architecture, shipbuilding, rail construction and equipment, ceramics, furniture, china and pottery, tableware, blankets and liquors, confectionery, fisheries, medicine, machinery, electric lighting and signaling, gas and oil lights, heating, art industries, geography, appliances, gardening, insurance and many other branches.

Freight Steamer Overdue. New York, Nov. 30.—Wilson line steamer Lydian Monarch which sailed from London Nov. 7 for this port, is now seven days overdue. The Lydian Monarch is a freighter but generally carries a few cabin passengers and usually makes the trip in fifteen days. The delay is probably due to the heavy weather reported by all incoming steamers.

STORIES ABOUT RUBENSTEIN. Personal Recollections of the Pianist Given by William Steinway.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—William Steinway has contributed some of his personal recollections of Anton Rubenstein to a musical journal, which will be published tomorrow. Referring to the visit of Rubenstein to this country, he says: "One day Mr. Rubenstein came in to see me bearing in his arms a large bag of gold and silver. He then told me that having heard in Europe that the majority of the people in America were 'rascals' and that their paper currency in most instances was no good, he had accepted in his contract that his money should be paid to him in specie, semi-monthly in advance. The first two weeks' salary he was holding in his arms and did not have the least idea what to do with it. I explained the depreciated currency to him, and he said that the system was at any rate better than it was in Russia, where it was at a discount of 60 per cent, and advised him to promptly sell his specie. "Before he left New York for his tours through the country he called at Steinway's one afternoon about 5 o'clock for his mail. A bulky registered letter had come for him and it contained letters from his children, a long letter from his wife and newly-taken photographs of his family. "The tears came to his eyes as he said to me: 'Friend Steinway, I feel so happy that I must play for you.' Meantime it had grown late and everything was closed for the day. Four other musical gentlemen whom he personally knew came in. The doors were closed and he set down at the piano to play for us. Twelve o'clock at night still found us there spellbound, for such heavenly playing we had never heard before. "Then and only then I realized what a few celebrated men could do. Goethe, who wrote the poem of the 'Earl King,' Franz Schubert, who had composed the melody, Franz Liszt, who had transcribed it for the piano, and Anton Rubenstein who could play it. At the risk of being called sentimental, I must say that on that memorable night it appeared to me as if we heard the voice of the little child, the clattering of the little foot, the wild entreaties of the Earl King, as plainly as if we had witnessed it all ourselves. "On Wednesday, Sept. 14, 1892, I visited Dresden and received an invitation to call and see him at his hotel. He received me in the most friendly manner and said: 'Now, Friend Steinway, let us have a chat about America, the great country which I have never forgotten and from which I receive almost weekly tokens of friendship. "After describing to him the immense progress in America toward appreciation of the international exhibition of hotel and traveling accommodations, and especially to the refinement and culture of our American ladies was due the high state of art and taste for music, I was staggered by Rubenstein's reply. 'Well, Friend Steinway,' said he, 'I think ladies ought never to study music as an art. At least they ought not to take up the time of teachers who are able to teach and make true artists. And I will tell you why, he is twenty musical ladies to one musician man, and my own experience is that they learn more quickly, have more power, and in fact are more diligent pupils than men. But what is the inevitable result? When a young lady has become a perfect artist, a handsome moustache comes along, and she chooses the handsome moustache in preference to her art.' "PREDICTS ANOTHER ISSUE. Ex-Secretary Foster Thinks Another Issue of Bonds Probable. DENVER, Nov. 30.—Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles Foster, who is in Denver at present, was asked when the secretary has legal power to issue bonds, "I do not care to express an opinion," Mr. Foster replied, "but I do not think the legality of the issue will be questioned. "What do you think of the silver question; will it be an issue in the next campaign?" "It may possibly be an issue," said the ex-secretary, "but I think that if the next congress is Republican the matter will be satisfactorily adjusted. I also think that the silver men should be willing to concede something." Mr. Foster predicts another issue of bonds in a few months.

THE "LIVING PICTURES" REPLY. They May Organize and Oppose the Onslaught of the W. C. T. U. NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The fight against the living pictures being waged by some of the members of the W. C. T. U., has developed into a war between women. It is not at all unlikely that the "living pictures" will organize and oppose the onslaught of the W. C. T. U. A spontaneous move was made in this direction when the girls employed in the Garden theatre met. The result was that the following letter was sent by them to Mrs. Granis:

"Dear Madame: As workmen of the stage, employed in the models in the Kiliani living pictures, we thank you warmly for your womanly and sensible opposition to the fanatical crusade against animate art suggested by Lady Somerset. It is undoubtedly true as you remark, that there is no unchaste living picture, exhibited in New York. A number of 'giving pictures' were interviewed in reference to the matter. Said Nellie Sinclair: 'I have no desire to criticize the action of the ladies of the W. C. T. U., but I cannot refrain from remarking that their efforts to take the bread and butter out of our mouths is not what would be expected from women of their class. There is no suggestiveness in our indecency in our parts.' "Do you think I should take part in anything that reflected on my moral character?" asked Pauline Bradley. "I claim that the human figure, motionless as it is displayed in the picture, is no more suggestive than a marble statue." Alma Eggert and Ella Gans do not speak English, through an interpreter, they said that in Europe no word of condemnation was uttered or heard against the living pictures, which they had appeared, and they were surprised to learn of the contemplated crusade. The pictures, too, have been modified since being brought to this country. "I don't care," May Hamilton said, "but I think it is real mean to start an agitation against us. If marble statues were used instead of human figures there would be no criticism."

Josie A. Frost said: "We are only models in the picture, made to represent some historic event or to represent accurately as possible the paintings of some of the great masters." Another kind of an argument to offer, original, too. "The fact is," whispered Nellie, "they are jealous because we have pretty figures."

THE POPGUN TARIFF BILLS.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, Says an Effort to Pass Them Will Be Made.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Senator Jones, of Arkansas, a member of the finance committee, said yesterday that he had no doubt there would be made an earnest effort on the part of the Democratic members of the finance committee to get the senate to consider the supplementary tariff bills concerning sugar, coal and iron at the forthcoming session. He said that for some time he had advised that the bills as reported by the finance committee should be taken up and passed. Continuing, Mr. Jones said he did not see how the Democratic senators could under all the circumstances afford not to bills. "Of course," he said, "if there is a majority in the senate against us we shall not be able to get them through, but that is one of the things that remain to be seen. It is certain if the Democratic senators who are supposed to be against the bills prove upon a vote to be opposed to them, in case the Republicans should be solidly against further tariff action by the present congress. "I think," said he, "the Republicans ought to be put on record in the sugar bill. They have invited the Democrats mercifully with selling out to the sugar trust, and we now have a chance to show that we will act in this matter. It cannot be pleaded that the passage of such a bill will imperil the revenues and there can be no legitimate excuse for opposing it except a desire to protect and defend the trust. I want to see if the Republican senators will put themselves in an attitude, after the charges that have been made against the Democrats in that connection."

A VOLCANO IN ERUPTION.

Severe Loss of Property and Probably Life Feared in Mexico.

GUADALAJARA, Mex., Nov. 30.—Another terrific eruption of the Colima volcano occurred Wednesday night, and the scene as witnessed from the city was a grand one. No definite reports have been received from the immediate section surrounding the volcano, but it is feared that there was a severe loss of property and probably of life.

GRIDLEY WAS NAMED.

A Duluth Man Made One of the Executive Committee of the Trans-Mississippi Congress.

Resolution Passed Urging That Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona Be Admitted into the Union.

Omaha Was Chosen as the Meeting Place of the Congress and It Then Adjourned.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 30.—The final day of the trans-Mississippi congress opened with a light attendance, a large proportion of the delegates having left for home last night or this morning. It was to go when President Cannon called such delegates as were present to order and announced the order of business, to be the naming of vice president and members of the executive committee. In accordance with this order the following selections were announced, leaving the list very incomplete and to be filled later.

Minnesota—Vice president, C. E. Flandrau, St. Paul, executive committee, D. M. Delmore, E. C. Gridley, California—Vice president, William Johnston, executive committee, J. M. Castle, J. W. Parsons, Oklahoma—Vice president, C. G. Jones, executive committee, Sidney Clark, O. A. Mischner, Kansas—Vice president, L. D. Lowell, executive committee, W. R. Savage, W. H. Toothaker, Washington—Vice president, Eugene Semple, executive committee, W. C. Jones, A. L. Black, Arkansas—Vice president, J. T. Teller, George Sengel.

The reading of the remainder of the report of the committee on resolutions was begun, and the following expressions were adopted as the sense of the congress: Endorsing the recommendations of the recent miners' convention at San Francisco, urging appropriations for damages in certain rivers in that state as being of benefit to hydraulic mining and navigation. It was also recommended that the original resolutions be extended to such other states as similar conditions may again hereafter exist in.

Recommendations of the Southern states the production of ramie as a means of diversifying the crops of that section were adopted by the congress, extending the provisions of the Ramsey act and adding to the territories. Urging congress to pass acts enabling the admission of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona into the Union as states.

Omaha was chosen as the next meeting place of the congress.

"PAY THE POOR FIRST."

An Excellent Order Made in an Iowa Case by Judge Shiras.

Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 30.—"Pay the poor first" is the spirit of the order issued by Judge Shiras last night to the American Loan and Investment company, of Emmetsburg, Iowa, June 7, when the receiver was appointed, claims aggregating $100,000 had been filed for collection as a mortgage, which President Ormsby had failed to remit to the mortgage holders.

A private calligrapher from London stated that Miss Carla Daguer, the new prima donna of whom a great deal is being heard in these days, appeared at the Theater Royal, Manchester, as Dancin in Gounod's opera "Philemon and Baucis" and secured a most brilliant success. The calligrapher further states that the newspapers speak of Miss Daguer's performance as one of the best ever seen in that city.

Phiero's New Play.

Mr. Arthur W. Phiero's new play is in rehearsal at the Garrick theater, London, and will be produced as soon as it can be made ready. This is the first piece from Mr. Phiero's pen since "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," and it is reported that in it the author has gone into the exact question with greater detail and "frankness" than in any of his previous works. It is expected that, whether the new piece is a success or failure in a monetary sense, it will at least awaken very extended discussion.

Captain Little of Dartmouth. One of the best football organizations in the country is the New England Football association, which consists of Dartmouth, Williams and Amherst. Dartmouth is playing a strong game this season and on Nov. 10 defeated Amherst by the score of 20 to 0.

Charles Sherman Little is captain of the Dartmouth team this year. He was born in New Hampshire, Nov. 11, 1869, fitted for college at Dow Academy, Princeton, N. J., and entered Dartmouth in 1887. He played guard on the varsity in '88, '89 and '90, was manager of the athletic team his senior year and at the intercollegiate meet broke the record in the hundred yard dash, covering 94 feet 1 1/2 inches. After graduating he was employed as a civil engineer until the summer of 1893, when he entered the Dartmouth school and is now entering his third year's course. He played tackle on last year's championship team and thus far this season has kept the same position. This will make his fifth year with the Dartmouth eleven. Dartmouth was champion of the New England association last year.

HIGH-WATER MARK.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
Nov. 30.—The barometer is above normal in all districts. It is highest in the South Atlantic states and lowest in Alaska.
The weather is cloudy or rainy in the lower lake region and central valleys; it is generally fair in the Western and Northwestern states.
It is 10 to 20 degrees colder in the Red River valley and North Dakota. The temperatures reported at 7 a. m. range from 6 degrees below zero in Manitoba to 26 degrees above in Arkansas.
Duluth temperature 7 a. m. today, 20; minimum yesterday, 15 degrees.
SALT SEA, MARIE, Minn., Nov. 30.—Depth of water at St. Mary's falls east 17.4 m. today, 11 ft. 3 in. The forecast is that the water will rise during the next 24 hours.
DULUTH, Nov. 30.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity till 8 p. m. tomorrow: Fair, slight changes in temperature; light winds, mostly southerly.
JAMES KENNELLY,
Local Forecast Official.

Disposal of Garbage.
Seventy different schemes were offered to the New York garbage commissioner.
The present system of dumping the garbage from all kinds of vessels, at but short distances out at sea, has proved most unsatisfactory, especially in summer, when the lighter stuff drifted to the summer resorts. The value of the New York garbage, which approximates 800 tons a day, is estimated at $385. This would be reduced by cremation to $50.
The matter, therefore, after carefully regulated house collection, will be delivered on board specially-built properly, from which no odors can issue, will be taken as far down the coast as it is considered advisable to prepare a plant, and will be there rendered into fertilizers and commercial grease.

The collection and disposal of garbage must receive attention in Duluth at no distant date. The present system is crude and inefficient and must give way to some better and more comprehensive plan. Garbage heaps are found in some parts of the city that are noxious places.
The health officer and his assistants cannot be justly blamed because they exist, because it is impossible to prevent the accumulation of garbage at some points under the existing system.
The city must eventually collect all the garbage and dispose of it in a manner that will avoid the breeding of disease or creating noxious odors. Whether this shall be done by the contract system as in Kansas City and other cities, or by teams under the direction of the board of health or the board of public works is a matter which must be decided later. The contract system appears to be the best, providing that the contractors shall be required to perform the work to the satisfaction of the board of health, and that the board shall have full power to vitate the contract if the work be not properly done.

Duluth is growing rapidly and its sanitary condition must be carefully looked after. The lives of the citizens are of vastly more importance than the expenditure of a few thousand dollars in keeping the city in a clean and healthy condition. In deciding what are the best measures to adopt to secure cleanliness and health for the city, the experience of New York and other cities in the country will be a valuable guide.

Brutality in Football.
When the new rules were adopted before the opening of the season, the announcement was made that football in the future be as harmless as tiddewinks. Instead of being square, scientific contests, the games so far this season have been scenes of brutality and slugging and several players have been maimed and disfigured, the injuries in some cases being reported to be permanent. Thus it is seen that new rules are no better than the old rules, and there is as much danger today of fatalities in the rough scrimmages that occur between the players. The games are not contests of skill, but a struggle of physical powers, in which the strongest side wins and the losers are frequently seriously injured.

Take the recent Yale-Harvard game, where the ball field was turned into a battle field, with the wounded lying on every hand. A partial list of the injuries received by the players is given in the following report: "Wrightington's collarbone was broken, Hallowell was carried off the field disabled, Murphy lay bleeding and insensible on the ground, the result of a hard punch in the stomach; Brewer was hurt in the first half, but was able to resume play, though subsequently retired by a physician's order while the tumor had prevailed, whether founded in fact, that still another young man belonging to Yale's team had died as a result of the injuries inflicted on him."

The game at Philadelphia yesterday between Pennsylvania and Harvard was marked by slugging and brutality of a similar character to that at Springfield.
The dispatches to The Herald tell of the following injuries: "Edmons badly hurt and carried off the field. In a scrimmage F. Shaw was injured and Doucet took his place. Brooke was fiercely tackled by Brewer and his left ankle was wrenched. Fairchild hurt in scrimmage and carried off the field, Dunlap being substituted. C. Brewer was badly injured and had to retire. Hallowell was injured in the scrimmage and Wheeler took his place at left tackle." And so the list might be continued, but these incidents will answer the purpose of demonstrating how brutal the game has become.

Superintendent Byrnes, of New York, announces that no exhibition of brutality will be permitted at the Yale-Princeton game at Manhattan field tomorrow, and has given instructions to stop the game if any brutality is shown.
He very properly declares that he will not allow the players to act like a lot of prize fighters and publicly maim each other for life. The fact is that there is less brutality in a professional prize fight than there is in the football game as it is played today. The danger of any one being maimed in a prize fight is infinitesimal. In a football game such danger is very great. Superintendent Byrnes should be applauded for the move that he has made. It will probably have a good effect, and the fear of arrest and imprisonment may keep in check some of the brutal instincts of the young men who will take part in tomorrow's game. Certainly the latest games played have been discreditable not only to those engaged in them but to the universities with which they are connected.

The Iron and Steel Industry.
A Washington correspondent says that Secretary Morton is convinced, as a result of his visit to Europe, that the seat of empire in the world of iron and steel is to be transferred from England to the United States in the near future. He learned while in London that the supply of hematite ore in Spain on which the English have been drawing is nearly exhausted. At best the ore is only 40 per cent pure on an average, and the haul to the British blast furnaces is a long one. In the United States we have in the Lake Superior region a practically inexhaustible supply of hematite, ores averaging 60 per cent, and this can be delivered to the iron and steel mills of Chicago, Cleveland and other lake cities by a short all-water haul.

For these reasons Secretary Morton believes the United States will soon pass Great Britain in the output of iron and steel, and we may soon outbid our rival in the markets of the world. "I read in a recent number of the Iron Age, the high protective organ of the American iron industry," says Secretary Morton,
"a prediction that during the next ten years this country will be a heavy exporter of iron and steel. In the same paper I see by the market reports that Bessemer pig iron is only 10 cents a ton cheaper in England than in Pittsburgh.
There is a similar insignificant difference between the price of steel billets in the two countries. Bar iron is only a dollar a ton cheaper in England than it is here.
The newspapers have recently reported the sale of $3,000,000 worth of cast iron pipe in Japan by Alabama manufacturers. They had to bid against English and Belgian competitors, but got the contract, and say they can underbid the world on cast iron pipe. A steel manufacturer has told me that without any duty at all it would no longer pay to import steel billets, wire rods or slabs, except, perhaps, for delivery and consumption in seaboard cities. These facts lead me to think the shifting of the iron throne from England to the United States has already commenced."

Noting the members of the present congress who will not be in the next, a Washington correspondent says: "Maj.
Baldwin, of Minnesota, who has represented Duluth, 'the Zenith City of the unsettled seas,' will not be here with his huge tobacco pouch when the congress comes again. He is another of the gentle chaps, a strong man and a good man despite the tobacco habit."

L. Osborn, of the Red River Valley
News published at Glyndon, is a candidate for enrolling clerk of the house at the coming session of the legislature.
Mr. Osborn served one session as clerk of the senate enrollment committee and is therefore familiar with the duties of the position he seeks. The house would make no mistake in choosing Mr. Osborn for enrolling clerk.

One Washington correspondent says the White House Thanksgiving turkey weighed forty-eight pounds, and another correspondent says it weighed twenty-five pounds. There is a wide difference in the two weights but probably the Democrats who had nothing but crow to eat yesterday do not care very much about the disparity.

he does not live there. If J. Edward lived in New York the Sun would probably refrain from protesting. It made no kick on Calvin S. Brice being elected in Ohio.

A recent official statement shows that the present output of whisky is one gallon per head annually. It is fortunate that the members of the V. C. T. are opposed to using this form of stimulant, otherwise the Kentucky colonels would have an awful thirst most of the year.

When William T. Walters, of Baltimore, the purchaser of the famous $17,000 peachbloss vase, died last week, it developed that he was so annoyed at the fuss made over the purchase of the vase that he would not accept an office from an administration that wouldn't allow him to make funny speeches to people who were so anxious to hear all about the great major. He will probably not have another chance to sacrifice himself.

Little Falls Transcript: Jadam Bede is said to be looking for another government appointment. That can't be true. Why, he wouldn't accept an office from an administration that wouldn't allow him to make funny speeches to people who were so anxious to hear all about the great major. He will probably not have another chance to sacrifice himself.

They Would Be Scarcer. Chicago Mail: Archbishop Ireland's resentment of the attempt to bolster up corruption in politics under the cover of the church was a great help to the friends of good government. It was appreciated by them, and Bishop McQuaid's jeremiad at this late day only helps to bring out more fully the extent of the archbishop's services. If there were more Irelands and fewer McQuaids there would be no A. P. A. movements in American politics.

Judged by His Looks. Tit-Bits: "Do you think your sister likes me, Tommy?" "Yes, she stood up for you at dinner." "Stood up for me? Was anybody saying anything against me?" "No, nothing much. Father said he thought you were rather a donkey, but she got up and said you weren't, and told father he ought to know better than to judge a man by his looks."

According to the statement of the agricultural department at Washington there has been a falling off of 5,000,000 head of cattle this year.

LAND OFFICE MOVED

It Was Transferred Yesterday from the Masonic Temple to the New Government Building.

New Quarters Are Clean, Light and Commodious and Well Provided with Furniture and Conveniences.

Many of the Land Attorneys Have Already Moved and Others Are Preparing to Do So.

The United States land office actually moved yesterday from its old quarters in the Masonic Temple to the new government building at the corner of Fifth avenue west and First street. Some time ago, word was received to get ready to move. Then a letter came, saying not to move until further orders. Then Wednesday night a telegram came ordering immediate removal.

It also is claimed that C. P. Maginnis went to Washington as an emissary and ambassador, as it were, to the department of the interior, in the interests of the Temple. The land office attorneys were real anxious to move, anyway, as they were nearly all together in the Temple and most convenient to the land office. Word was received from Mr. Maginnis that positive assurances had been received from the department that removal would be ordered for the present. Then, right on the heels of that, came the imperative order to go out of the Temple and possess the commodious and comfortable new quarters in the postoffice building. This morning, the officials were hardly out of the Temple when the first north side of the second floor, First from the stairs, is the receiver's office. Next comes the proof room and then the general office. The registers' quarters are next and with windows on the east is the contest room. That room was warmed early this forenoon by a contest.

The offices are well lighted, beautifully finished, elaborately furnished and most comfortable in every way. There are desks and vaults, and closets and pigeon holes and all that. Then, too, there are towels and soap and lavatories and even hot water. According to tradition all these last are no more than a Democratic administration but then the prohibitionists may come in some of these times, so the soap and towels and filtered ice water may then be utilized.

The fourth floor of the Temple looks as if a cyclone had been through it. Many of the attorneys will be there today or tomorrow. Persons & McDonald already have moved and tonight will be comfortably and conveniently seated at No. 12 Fifth avenue west, in the Lyceum, right off the sidewalk, next to LeRoy's tailor shop. R. N. Marble and Fred Spaulman will at once move into Room 16 Phoenix block. N. H. Thayer expects to occupy Room 101 Chamber of Commerce, on the first floor, right back of the great shop.

Col. Colville does not think he will take a down town office, anyway, he will make no change at present. C. P. Maginnis and Fielder J. Chew have not yet decided upon their future location, nor have Mee & Sharp. The latter firm expects to reside today, however.

R. N. Johnson is out of the city and will not decide upon his future office until he returns, some days yet. Capt. Smallwood also has not fully decided and The Herald's representative failed to learn the intentions of Mr. McFarlane, who has an office on the third floor of the Temple.

More Thanks From Dr. Sailer. Rev. C. C. Sailer, now that the Babel festivities are over, wants to make due acknowledgments to all who kindly helped make his annual dinner a success. He wants to admit Todd, the commission man, into the membership of contributors, and also wants to thank the Springfield and St. Louis hotels, for the fine manner in which they roasted the forty-nine turkeys. The coffee was a success, thanks to the master or mistress hand that brewed it and one lady gave the nuts and raisins. He wants to make due acknowledgments to Misses Moak, Mackay and Professor Tanning for music supplied. One prominent business man who was present has promised to attempt to interest some of his wealthy clients in the East in a scheme to extend and enlarge the Babel building.

Quarantined the Children. Nearly a week ago scarlet fever broke out in the Children's home. Yesterday four were down with the disease and it was decided to remove the remainder and quarantine them. Yesterday evening twenty were taken from the home and placed on the second floor of the Berkelman block, opposite Central police headquarters. After the move was made one of the youngsters gave evidence of symptoms of the disease and was taken back to the home.

To the Reform School. Steps are being taken to send Emma Pasco to the state school. She is the girl who accused her mother, Jennie Pasco, and Mason, the West Superior colored barber, with attempting to compel her to satisfy Mason's lusts. Through flaws in the indictments the accused escaped punishment. Mrs. Pasco was recently furnished transportation to Ashland by Capt. Miller, superintendent of poor, and she promises not to come back to Duluth.

Fur Mittens and Gloves! From $1.75 a pair and upwards. C. W. Erickson, 219 West Superior street.

If You Contemplate Making a home in, or taking a trip to California or the South, communicate with us. Information cheerfully given. California and Southern Bureau of Information, P. O. Box 382, Duluth, Minn.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Metropolitans."

"The Metropolitans" sang to a small audience at the Temple last evening. The performance was far inferior to what the advance notices promised would be given and many in the audience left before it was over. The company needs material strengthening if no better reorganization before the opera in the repertoire can be properly presented. Miss Florence Walcott, the soprano, has a fairly sweet and well controlled voice but it has not the strength and fullness necessary to properly carry an operatic role. James Connell plays the tenor of ordinary vocal opinion but it is surprising when only a dozen or so of people appear may be the correct thing to do in the manager's office and it is demoralizing to the matinee business. The people become distrustful and will not buy in advance. It is not pleasant to prepare for and go to a matinee and find on arriving at the house that there is to be none.

Madame Tavery Company. The advance sale of seats for the Tavery Grand English Opera company's engagement next week, at the Lyceum theater, gives the greatest encouragement, and from the unprecedentedly large demand for seats it is quite evident that the list of principals in support of the company is both large and brilliant and include names that in the past have been successful in the greatest operatic successes. Especial pains have been taken with reference to an acceptable orchestra and chorus. It is assured that the management of both will be a revelation for magnitude and strength. The list of operas embrace such that are the engagement of Mme. Tavery will be watched with no little interest. The repertoire selected for Duluth cannot fail but prove gratifying, and consists of the most famous operas. It has been arranged as follows: Monday, "Il Trovatore," Tuesday, "Carmen," Wednesday, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci," and Wednesday night, "Lohengrin." The complete list of principals in support of Madame Tavery and even Nina Bernini-Humphreys and Sophie Romani, sopranos; Helen von Doenhoff and Dora Scott, contraltos; Mme. Thea Durne, mezzo soprano; A. L. Gault, Payne Clark and H. S. Keady, tenors; William Mertens, S. Dudley and F. L. Hill, baritones; William Hagilton and William Schuler, basses. The musical director of the organization is Signor Emerico Morreale, of the Italian Opera house in the City of Mexico.

Maine Lecture on Food. The following from the Boston Transcript of Oct. 3, will be read with interest: "Elisba B. Worrell, who for years has been addressing large audiences in all the New England cities on food products and food adulteration, is to go West for the winter. His success here has been honestly won by careful study, by constant experiment, and by carrying into his work the always helpful influence of high personal character." Mr. Worrell speaks in Temple Opera house Tuesday afternoon next, at 7 o'clock. Every seat reserved for housekeepers, all of whom are cordially invited to be present.

THE CURLING MATCH. Result of the Contest at the Glen Avon Rink Yesterday. The curling games at Glen Avon rink continued yesterday afternoon and evening, and the skating ice was crowded with curlers. The first draw resulted as follows: C. W. Culver, 0; C. B. Woodruff, 15; Allan Black, 10; R. J. MacLeod, 15; C. R. Henegage, 0; S. F. Fullerton, 10. The second draw resulted as follows: C. R. Henegage, 7; R. J. MacLeod, 15; P. H. Allan Black, 0. The final draw between the MacLeod and Hall rinks will be played tomorrow, and the winner will take the prize, a set of decorated curling brooms.

A. O. U. W. Election of Officers. There was a well attended meeting of Fidelity Lodge No. 102, A. O. U. W., last night. The occasion was the election of officers for the ensuing year. All of the positions were held by contestants, four or five members being nominated for each and the election of all of the successful candidates was made unanimous. Following is the result of the ballot: C. G. Provod, M. W.; Nels Anderson, F.; James McDowell, O.; J. H. Powers, recorder; M. Naumann, receiver; R. D. King, treasurer; O. B. Powers, guide; J. Sanders, inside watch; C. W. Blossom, outside watch; Mr. Dayha, trustee. The installation of officers will take place at the next meeting.

A VICTORY FOR PASKOLA.

It Receives the Official Endorsement of Eminent Experts and a Jury of Representative Citizens.

The suit brought by Ohio's Food Commissioner against a Cincinnati druggist for selling Paskola on the ground that it was nothing but glucose, resulted in a great victory for Paskola and a verdict against the state.

During the course of the trial, Professor Shaller of the University of Cincinnati, testified that Paskola was not glucose, and even if it was, it would be harmless. He also bore witness to its activity as a digestive agent.

Professor William Dickore of the Miami college, testified to the same facts. So did Professor Schmidt, the chemist of the board of health, Professor Wm. Hoffman and others.

A practical test was made in court, showing the digestive action of Paskola on eggs and meats of various kinds, whereas glucose under precisely the same conditions produced no effect whatever.

This test but confirmed the experts' statements and proved Paskola to be of great value in indigestion and wasting diseases.

This verdict disposes of the malicious attack that has been made against Paskola by interested rivals, and suits have now been brought against the proprietors of a well-known emulsion of cod liver oil for having given wide circulation to a false formula and other misrepresentations regarding it.

The animus of this attack will be the better understood when it is stated that Paskola is being largely used in the place of cod liver oil.

BENEFIT FOR FINNICK.

Will be given on Tuesday Evening at the Parlor Theater.

A benefit is being arranged for Harry Finnick. It is to be given on Tuesday evening next at the Parlor theater. Ole Olsen having donated the house for the occasion, Jimmy Murphy will appear and box four or six rounds with Finnick. George Curtis and others will also appear.

Finnick was not in good condition at the fight, but he is not saying much about that. "Murphy bested me fairly and squarely, and that is all there is to it," he says. "He put up a better fight than I did and won, and I don't propose to make any excuses. He has treated me like a gentleman and I propose to do the same with him. He has generously agreed to assist me in my benefit on Tuesday evening and we will spar a few friendly rounds."

Insurance Company Trust Deed. National City Insurance company, of Alexandria, Va., this morning filed with the register of deeds a trust deed of all its property to C. A. Prevost, of Washington, D. C., and James K. Caton, of St. Louis, Mo., as trustees.

The deed is made on account of financial embarrassment resulting from the panic, and the object is to protect creditors and stockholders by placing the property of the corporation in the hands of trustees, who are to sell it as soon as possible and divide the proceeds among creditors and stockholders.

The property includes large holdings of Duluth and Superior lots and St. Louis and Douglas county acres.

NOW FOR THE VERDICT.

Hulet Will Case Was Given to the Jury This Morning and is Being Deliberated.

The Eleven Men Have Only to Determine Whether the Marriage Agreement Signature Was Genuine.

Suit for Legal Services in Which Judge Willis of St. Paul is One of the Plaintiffs.

This morning Judge Moer gave the Hulet will case to the jury in a charge that was clear, comprehensive, fair, impartial and to the point, and which occupied an hour. At 11 o'clock the jury retired to deliberate on their verdict carrying with them in their heads the testimony of a trial which has lasted for eight days, which will fill about 100 pages of typewritten manuscript, and 135 exhibits, from a couple of boards three feet long, on which Expert Tolman had made enlarged copies of the attestation clause of the marriage contract, down to a bundle of fifty checks signed by Nehemiah Hulet.

The form for the verdict differs a good deal from the usual forms given to the jury on their retirement. As but one part of the case, an issue of fact, was presented, the decision of the jury only partly settles the case. The following question, to which an affirmative or negative answer is required, was given to the jury:

"Was the paper purporting to have been made at Sion Point, Duluth township, on Jan. 6, 1892, (known as exhibit A, being exhibit No. 35 in this action) in fact executed by the late Nehemiah Hulet?"

The result of the jury's deliberations is not being made the subject of much prophecy, for the case has been a remarkably close one. The amount of research which has been made by the parties, the quality of the legal talent employed and the expense of conducting the trial has made the case one of the most important ever tried in the county. The lawyers, local as well as imported, were all exceptionally brainy and clever, and the fight has been a warm one and probably will be until it is finally decided.

An Expensive Trial.
The experts called for each side are leaders in their line and the cost of getting their testimony amounted to a pretty penny. During the trial three stenographers have been kept at work, one relieving the other, while transcripts of the evidence were made and each day's proceedings were transcribed in full by the three court adjourned each night. Whatever the decision, the case will probably be carried up by the defeated side, and before the end is reached the cost of conducting the case will amount to a small fortune.

After the question of the genuineness of the alleged marriage contract is determined, there remains yet to be decided that the contract constitutes a marriage, and that, being an issue of law, will be decided by the court.

After sending the Hulet case to the jury Judge Moer took up the case of John W. Willis and George M. Nelson, late co-partners as the St. Paul law firm of Willis & Nelson against the West Duluth Light and Water company. The plaintiffs sue for $1500 as compensation alleged to be due for legal services.

Judge Willis a Plaintiff.
The senior partner of the firm is Judge Willis, who holds a seat on the bench of the Ramsey county district court, and who was the fusion candidate of the Democrats and Populists for associate justice of the supreme court, for which position, by the way, he was defeated by a large vote. The defendant in the action, the West Duluth Light and Water company, is in the hands of a receiver appointed by the United States court.

Judge Lewis this morning took up the case of Hazen Stevens against the City of Duluth, an action to recover $250 damages to lots in West Duluth made by the village in improving a street.

The Levine insurance case is dragging out its weary length before Judge Emerson. The testimony is not at all interesting to outside parties and consists principally of evidence as to the value of clothing.

HOKE SMITH'S REPORT

The Secretary of the Interior Devotes a Large Portion of His Report to Indian Affairs.

Questions Propriety of Allotting Lands in Severalty Until the Indians Have Made More Progress.

The Work of the Chippewa Commission Reviewed and Baldwin's Red Lake Reservation Bill Recommended.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The annual report of the secretary of the interior opens with an extended reference to Indian affairs. Upon this subject the secretary says: "The work of the Indian bureau becomes more interesting as it is better understood. Its tasks is that of developing a people no longer savage, but still far from civilized, into beings fit for American citizenship and capable of self-support. How can this be accomplished in the most practical manner? What steps will lead the most certainly in that direction. There are two means chiefly relied upon—education and allotment of land in severalty.

"I do not question the advisability of allotting land to Indians in severalty, but I do most seriously question the propriety of this course before the Indians have progressed sufficiently to utilize the ground when taken. The allotments should be made to the Indians in severalty for the good of the Indians, not for the advancement of the Indians, nor for the purpose of obtaining land connected with the Indian reservation to satisfy the insatiable desire of harder men, who take it frequently, not for homes, but for speculation.

"I urge a treatment of Indian land based solely upon the purpose of reserving it for its owners the highest possible value. What is best for the Indians—to keep their land to sell? If the members of a tribe are sufficiently civilized to be able to progress further by selling a portion of their land, then sales should be made; but the land should not be purchased from the Indians at the best bargain the United States can make. It should be the policy of the government and of the department acting as a faithful trustee, and obtaining for the Indians every dollar of the value of the land, with the view of developing a capacity to handle each piece in severalty, and with the further expectation that the government allotments are made the Indians shall receive the land thus already taken and used. Whenever an agent has been able to induce the Indians to occupy and use the lands before the proclamation of the president opening them generally for allotment, or before allotments under the act of 1887, when the allotments have been made, the Indians upon such separate tracts have always, by the practice of the department, had the right to take the tracts already used if they so desired.

"I recommend that the general allotment be so amended as to insure to any Indian who shall settle upon and improve a particular tract, under the direction of his agent, the permanent ownership of such tract by giving him the preference right to select it when allotments are made. Of course, it would be necessary to limit this right to the quantity of land allowed him under the allotment act. The importance of inducing the Indians to make these selections is being urged upon all the agents. On some reservations, the Indians are making marked success, and the Indians thus located are progressing toward individual responsibility, individual capacity, and a desire for individual development and acquisition.

"Many of the agencies today, taking in connection the trust funds held by the United States for the Indians upon them, are already self-supporting. By a faithful effort to preserve the property for its real owners, and at the same time to compel the reservation Indians to work and labor for a livelihood, I believe that it is possible to make self-supporting nearly every agency. But to accomplish this, agents absolutely faithful and thoroughly capable must be placed in charge. If an army officer fills the place he must do so with the enthusiasm of a soldier in line of battle. If a civilian fills the place he must be for the task unless moved by an earnest, unselfish, unimpaired purpose to accomplish the noble work of helping to elevate a weaker race. Something of the missionary spirit should be in the heart of every employee at an Indian agency or school, so far as the jurisdiction of the present administration has uniformly succeeded in selecting people of the character described, but it is the earnest purpose of the Indian bureau and the department to study the employees throughout the entire service, to make proficiency the sole basis of retention in office, and to make apparent capacity the sole ground for new appointments.

"The work of the development of the Indian is necessarily slow. Their peculiarities must be studied and understood, not as a whole, but as members of particular tribes, before those engaged in their supervision are fit for successful work. Permanency of service, therefore, is absolutely necessary to success. I believe it is possible to develop a competent, permanent, nonpartisan Indian service, and I hope before the end of another year that such progress will have been made in this direction that its realization will be assured."

The Chippewa Commission. Concerning the Chippewa commission the secretary says: "The Chippewa commission have continued their labors, but their efforts, while diligent and persistent, have not met with that degree of success hoped for. The report of the chairman of the commission, dated June 7, 1894, shows that up to that time but 775 permanent removals had been secured. The total number of Indians subject to removal to the White Earth reservation under the provisions of the act is about 4000. The removal of but 775 in four years and four months suggested that the work of the commission might continue for an indefinite period, unless their efforts toward securing further removals should shortly cease, and therefore time thereafter be devoted to making allotments. It certainly was no contentment, but the act that the option of removal should be left open to the Indians for an indefinite period; otherwise the work of the commission might never close. The results thus shown were not, in my opinion, commensurate with the large expenditure of money commencing in securing them, and hence the commission was instructed in July last, to notify the Indians entitled to removal to the White Earth reservation that they must avail themselves of the privilege before Oct. 1, and that their failure to do so would be regarded as signifying their desire to receive allotments on the reservations where they resided at the date of the agreement. The commission were further instructed to devote their time until Oct. 1, to securing removals to the White Earth reservation, and after that to making allotments in severalty to the Indians on the various reservations. It is hoped that this course will bring to a conclusion this course this commission within a reasonable time."

Chippewa Timber Examiners. Twenty-seven men are engaged in the examination of the timber upon the Chippewa lands, under the act of Jan. 14, 1889 (25 Stat. 482). During the first year of their work under the present administration, they examined 63,000 acres, while the former corps examined 415,000 acres in fourteen months. There remains about 1,000,000 acres to be examined, which, at the rate taken over by the present corps, will take over two years for so doing. Such a large amount of land to be examined, however, largely dependent upon whether the lands are heavily or sparsely timbered.

The secretary says: "The law as it now stands provides for the sale of the timber only after all of the land shall have been surveyed, examined and appraised. It is a demand upon the government to continue in the possession of the government it is liable to injury at any time from depredations of trespassers, accidental and intentional fire from storms and perhaps other occurrences. A large portion of the pine lands, comprising considerably more than 10,000 acres, have already been surveyed, examined and segregated, and might be taken over by the present corps, if there were legal authority for so doing. Such authority is presented in H. R. bill 5103. A copy of the bill appears in the appendix. It has passed the house, and it is earnestly to be hoped that it will pass the senate. This bill is the one introduced by Maj. Baldwin for opening the Red Lake reservation. The fact that Secretary Smith favors it will aid largely towards its passage by the senate, where it has been hung up."

A Land Court. Under this section the secretary's report says: "The decision of litigated cases growing out of efforts to obtain patents for government lands should be attended with the least amount possible of delay or expense to the litigant. Under the present organization, litigation over the land is a public nuisance. The district judge in each case is disregarded. When contested cases reach the commissioner, theoretically he decides them, but in reality he refers them to the assistant attorney general, who, in turn, refers them to the assistant attorney general and seven assistant attorneys. I do not mean to say that the assistant attorneys give all their time to appeals from the commissioner. A large portion of their time, at least, is devoted to the work of the commissioner. The secretary is required to decide these cases. It is an impossibility for him to give proper attention to so large a number and also to perform the other duties of his office. In a great measure, therefore, the decision of the litigated cases connected with the public lands is the work of law clerks in the office of the commissioner and of assistant attorneys in the office of the secretary.

"I recommend that the commissioner of the general land office be relieved from the duty of deciding litigated cases, and that a nonpartisan court be created in connection with the general land office, and that the decision of this court, so far as the jurisdiction of the present administration has uniformly succeeded in selecting people of the character described, but it is the earnest purpose of the Indian bureau and the department to study the employees throughout the entire service, to make proficiency the sole basis of retention in office, and to make apparent capacity the sole ground for new appointments.

well to make provision by which important questions of law might be certified at once to the supreme court of the United States for final decision, or else for an appeal to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia. Such a court would still require a large portion of the law clerks now engaged in the land office, but it would render it possible to dispense with at least one-half of the assistant attorneys in the office of the secretary.

THE GRIDIRON CHAMPIONS.

The Pennsylvania Boys Defeated the Harvard Eleven in Yesterday's Game. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—By a score of 18 to 4, the wearers of the red and blue trampled the beautiful silken flags of the crimson into the dust. It was a grand victory and one that has a world of meaning to the students of old Pennsylvania. It places a new star in the crown of the gridiron for 1894. In the first place, Pennsylvania scored 2 and Harvard 0 in the second half, Pennsylvania 10, Harvard 4.

THE NEW REICHSHAUS

Imposing Monument of a Twofold Victory Which Has Been Erected in the German Capital.

Architect Paul Wallot Is Pronounced a Genius by Friend and Foe, Press and Public.

The Promenade Corridor Alone Under the Large Dome Required an Expenditure of 1,400,000 Marks.

The reichshaus, as the Germans prefer to call their new reichstag building, is a "siegesdenkmal," a monument of victory. It must never be forgotten that it is the glorious expression of a twofold victory.

Its erection was made possible through the indemnification of the Franco-Prussian war, after which it also became the exponent of the army of the German people. It stands in the second place as a monument of reconciliation between the crown and the people, for notwithstanding the numerous insignificant internal conflicts, the birth of the German reichstag put an end to the animosity between royalty and citizens, deprived Germany of its liberalistic and democratic character and caused the decline of radical socialism. What has been the result? The reichstag has been lifted from oppression and is asserting itself in the government. It can now be said with truth that the reichstag is the home of the king and his nobility, but the reichstag is the home of the emperor, his princes, and his people, through their representatives.

And because the reichstag is a monument of victory the exterior of the new structure must symbolize this in all its details. The architect, Paul Wallot, has been successful in his task. He has created a building which is a masterpiece of architecture, which is a masterpiece of architecture, which is a masterpiece of architecture.

W. G. TEN BROOK,
City Controller.B. F. HOWARD,
President of the Council.

City of Duluth, Minn., November 29, 1894.

Notice is hereby given, that whereas, a contract has been let by the village of West Duluth, in the state of Minnesota, for the construction of a plank sidewalk on the north side of Earl street from Adeline avenue to the intersection of the said street with the shore line, and the expense of the same is to be finally assessed to each lot or tract of land to be benefited, by said improvement having been determined by the city council of the city of Duluth, in the state of Minnesota, as successor to the village council of said village of West Duluth, which has become a part of said city of Duluth by annexation.

Now therefore, said city council, with its council chamber in said city of Duluth, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. of Monday, the 17th day of December, 1894, met to review and confirm said assessment, and at which time and place all persons interested may appear and make objections to the same.

It is proposed to issue bonds, chargeable to the real estate to be benefited, by such improvement, to pay such assessment, and such bonds will be issued, covering all such assessments, except in cases where the owners of the property shall pay to the city treasurer, within thirty (30) days after the confirmation of such assessment, the amount thereof assessed against their property.

The following is a list of the supposed owners' names, a description of the property liable to such assessment, and the amount assessed against the same, to-wit:

Official Proceedings.

Board of County Commissioners.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 9, 1894.

The board of county commissioners met at 2 o'clock p. m. this day pursuant to call.

Present Commissioners Miller, Butchart, Bonham and Chairman Poirier.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

On motion, the sum of $250 was appropriated out of the county special road fund to be applied on the road leading into the road known as the Proctor road.

On motion, an appropriation of $75 was made out of the county special road fund to be expended in the building of bridges on the road known as the Erickson road.

On motion, the sum of $300 was appropriated out of the county special road fund to be applied on the road known as the Sturgeon Lake road.

The county special road fund being overdrawn, the above mentioned appropriations were made, provided arrangements could be made with some bank to carry the orders drawn on said fund until there is money in said fund to meet the same.

The county treasurer presented the following request:

FISHERMAN BILL NYE.

How He Is Luring the Hungry Trout in the Mountain Streams of North Carolina.

The Hornet, He Says, As a Bait Is Very Effective, Both Before and After Fishing.

He Carried a Large Pillow Around and Sat on it to Keep From Taking Cold.

KROSBROOK, BENJAMIN COUNTY,
CAROLINA.

I am located here for the purpose of inaugurating an educational campaign against the excessive North American trout. There is a trout preserve here of 15,000 acres under the management of Mr. C. D. Cushing, who allows me to come here and frolic with his game, knowing that I never could give need to him for anything. This huge preserve is seen to be turned over to a hunting and fishing club, and it is eminently fitted for that purpose, as it is one of the most beautiful spots on earth, and the trout stream is a perfect picture. It is shaded well, and therefore very cool, yet it is not so full of snags and dead logs as to consume a library of fly books per mile.

Mr. Frank Chapman of Asheville and John Fox, Jr., the delightful author of "The Chamberlain Vendetta," are along. It would please you to see two or three literary giants out after bait on a stream when the trout does not rise to the fly, but keeps his seat at the bottom of the pool.

Yesterday was a grand sort of day, with low mountains of thunder, just such a day as the trout sport loves to go forth, red in hand, to present his arguments for the consideration of his speckled constituents. It was a perfect day for late summer fishing in the North Carolina mountains. I caught 287 trout and the seat of my second best pants. Kersbrook was named by Mr. Cushing and rises in the broad brook of Craggy mountain. It is a succession of silvery cascades, shadowed by huge tulip trees and giant lowlanders of mica-cous granite unpolished with silken moss of pallid green. Below the melodious cataract, where the frothy pool eddies and whirls about, bearing the empty line of the chestnut, or the red fruit of the cucumber tree, in a shady corner of the cool water, lies the alert little gray trout, hungry, but conservative, game, fierce and venturesome, but wary of the dangled fly.

We are using today the grab of the unattached hunter for bait. I never to that before, but it works well. You sit up to a large gray hornets' nest, and while the family are at tea in the rear of their residence you plug up the front entrance and down the inmates by plunging the whole nest into the creek. Opening the beautiful structure, you discover several combs like those of the honeybee, only filled with the white or honey-colored grub of the yellow jacket, or the little Mammoth Surprise Package of the Blue Borer.

I gathered one of these hornets' nests once in an unguarded moment, watching my chance to plug up the front door just as no one was coming in. But the last one out suddenly thought of something that he wanted to tell his wife and he came back while I was there. Annoyed, I went to something I had said perhaps in a spirit of banter, he backed up against the bridge of my nose and closed one of my eyes in a comparative short space of time. I dropped my glasses and decided to abandon the undertaking, but forgot to fully complete my plugging arrangements before going. Several of the Maumma Touchments, who had been into the nest, followed me and tormented the top of my head as we jogged along together toward Mobile.

We got the boys here to procure our hornets' nests now, as there is a popular feeling engendered among the hornets against us. I do not mind seeing a hornet, because I am so agile that I can throw an ordinary grizzly bear with such force as to crush his skull, but the impatient little tyrant who gets into the nest, heated from his own heat, and who heated from the average thought seems to be standing still as he passes by.

Mr. Fox is a very active man both mentally and physically, and yet his efforts in capturing the yellow jacket squab have been attended with only moderate success and a tumor on the brow, which indicates an overdevelopment of spirituality.

We gave our school at the school-house on our way up the branch that we would pay 25 cents apiece for preservation, and that evening we had one of the porch full of baby hornets for the morning.

I carried a comb full of embryo hornets all day in my hip pocket, but toward evening the warmth of my person had taken the place of the mamma hornet to such an extent that 11 full sized pup hornets emerged from their little shells and stung me most bitterly. I did not tell the other gentlemen about it, but they noticed that I was and, and that even the broiled trout at evening and the low plunk plunk of the banjo at the cabin did not give me joy. They also noticed that I carried a large pillow around with me and sat up on it to keep from taking cold on the dewy earth.

This morning eight boys came to where we were fishing. All of them had large, beautiful wells over the eye, and they said that they were a committee sent to demand an advance on the price of bait. I told them that there was nothing to arbitrate, but Mr. Fox thought best to accede to the demand of the committee, so we are paying 40 cents now, but require the strikers to furnish their own soda and ammonia.

Mr. Fox arose early this morning to go to the summit of Craggy mountain. His desire was to see the glorious sunrise far over your mountain gray, and as he mounted up the sky, the darkness fled away.

Curiosity of that kind used to bother me years ago, but now I can control it better. I heard him getting up in the night, it seemed to me, and falling over my celebrated waterproof porpoise hide shoes, which I have had over a year, and yet they have thus come down but powerful method of letting people know where they are. They are full of fish oil, and all last winter while traveling I was not allowed to put up at the best hotels, many of the guests think that possibly these shoes were contagious.

Mr. Fox ate a cold biscuit and went up to the top of the mountain, but he was too honest to lie about it when he got back. He is the most trustworthy young man I ever knew. I've seen the sweetest old ladies on earth climb the Zernatt or Mont Blanc or the Jungfrau to view the sunrise and then describe it and the about it when they got back for the clouds had obscured the sunrise entirely, and I've known white haired old men with blank faces behind them to tell the most gigantic whisks and whoppers about the sunrise on the Poochlehorn, or the Boolehorn, or the Poochlehorn Alps when the sun had been obscured for a week. But Mr. Fox told me honestly that the trip was not a success, and he scorned to lie about it. Now when he says that he pulled a 13 pound trout out of the water and lost him in the tall grass I believe every word he says.

But I can truly say that this is the most absolute and unmitigated week of unalloyed delight that I have ever put in, and my life, too, has been one of exceptional enjoyment, for I am of a sunny nature and live in a gentle, genial atmosphere. We are not camping out and living on crickets or trusting to a man cook who never tried before. At the foot of Craggy mountain, by the bank of the brawling stream, stands a neat little cottage with red beds in it and a big fireplace where one may dry his wet feet and eat three meals a day prepared by Mrs. Howard.

She is not a college cook in his fresh year, who knows things that the Creator has not yet given to the press. She can cook, however, and does not let the smoking tobacco get into the latter, the way a man cook does. We don't have to tote water two miles when we are tired or sleep in our wet clothes with a thousand lodged worms in each car so as to get healthy.

When you don't care to go fishing or gathering, the guests of bright red hornets, we can sit on the porch and smoke a long stem pipe and read a novel. This, therefore, is a successful trip, and when we get enough of it we can take Mr. Cushing's swift horses and in 24 hours get comfortably into Asheville, where we may be mixing up with the elite this evening in low neck and short sleeves if we want to.

The agricultural interests here seem to be centered very largely in the herb industry. Every morning about 40 or 40 men go by horse on their way to the heart of the forest, with a matted over one shoulder and a gunny sack over the other, and at night they come home with a bushel or so of jellio root, worth from 25 to 30 cents. This root, when dried, is sold to the store and thence to the wholesale chemists of New York. Sometimes they get a little ginseng, or "sang," as it is called, which the Chinese pay a high price for.

Some of the land here is pretty good, but more of it is not. It reminds me of a section in Dakota where James Whitcomb Riley says there was so poor that they had to raise umbrellas on it for over eight years. He claimed in his conversation with me also that over there it took two birds to sing "peewee," one singing "pee" and the other "wee." The trees, however, are very beautiful here, and above where we are living and near the trout stream there is a tulip poplar over 9 feet in diameter. This is a wonderfully beautiful wood and sometimes when curly is the handsomest ornamental wood I ever saw. It was a pale green shade and a satin gloss, which, with the wavy grain and watered silk effect, cannot be equaled by any imported wood in the world. These mountains are heavily timbered to their very summits with every variety of oak, ash, elm, chestnut, walnut, mountain mahogany, cherry, poplar, pine and a hundred other valuable kinds of timber. I am surprised that so little northern capital has gone into these cheap mountain lands, covered with valuable woods, where a portable sawmill and cheap labor would yield millions of feet of the most beautiful finishing woods.

I struck a highly intelligent party in town the other day who gave me a good deal of information about many matters and seemed to think that almost everything worthy of preservation had come from Virginia. He had come from there himself.

He claimed everything from George Washington to the consul from Shenan doah who was to take the consulship at Amoy, China, and who got so full of liquor and noble impulses that his body was brought back from San Francisco and resuscitated at home, where they had time to do it. This young man of whom I speak was not over 19 years of age, but during that time had man to his state, but he should also have a casual knowledge of how to pound sand.

He had never been north and seemed to have an idea that New Yorkers did the most of their trading in Richmond. I did not interfere until he claimed all the literature and maintained that Charles Egbert Craghead was a Virginia man, and then I murmured. After the most of their trading in Richmond. THREE CENTS

FRENCH & BASSETT

First Street and Third Avenue West.

In Duluth For Duluth!

Of course, we are in Duluth and we are very much "in it," when it comes to securing an order if people know a good thing when they see it (and most of them around here do). Once in a while a person comes in here all devoted right here. It is more particularly a source of congratulation to ourselves that we are not a branch store, and it is in our ways a vast benefit to our customers, for the policy of our business is not dictated by people who don't live here and are not in touch with our conditions. It also spares our customers the disadvantage of having the dead stock of the main store in another city "worked off" on them. We think that any person who will look through our store will concede that we have the cleanest, brightest, newest and freshest stock they have seen in many a day. We have no shop-worn, dingy, smoky, or out of date goods to work off and all goods are marked in PLAIN FIGURES, which will command attention if you will just look them over before you buy.

We Sell-

A Best Quality Plush Bed Lounge,
Sold elsewhere for $13.50 to $16.00; For $11.50
Others at $12.50, $13.50, $15.00 and $18.00.

KOLB SWORN IN.

The Populist Candidate for Governor of Alabama Took the Oath at Montgomery This Morning.

Followed by Several Hundred Adherents He Marched to the State House Grounds to Speak.

Governor Jones Notified Him He Would Be Arrested and Kolb Spoke Outside the Grounds.

The State Militia With Forty Rounds of Ball Cartridges Each Massed in the Grounds.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The Star special from Montgomery, Ala., says that since daylight this morning the streets of the Alabama capital have resounded with the tramp of armed men and the roll of drums, and the early sun glistened upon hundreds of brilliant bayonets, all of which marks the arrival and presence of a portion of the state militia, to participate in the inauguration of Governor-elect W. C. Oates. The myriads of troops on this occasion form not an unusual occurrence. It has long been the custom for the state militia to participate in the inauguration ceremonies. There is one unusual feature in connection with their presence, however. Each of these men, at the direct orders of Governor Jones, carries forty rounds of ball cartridges for his rifle with other rounds close at hand. As they judge offices by being impeached for treason.

At 11:05 o'clock a message was received at the state house that Capt. Kolb had taken the gubernatorial oath in a down town office and was coming to the state house to make his speech. Governor Jones issued orders to give free access to the state house grounds, as long as those who enter behave in an orderly manner.

At the same time the oath was administered to J. S. Fanville as secretary of state, W. C. Lynch as auditor, J. P. Oliver as superintendent of education, and Warren Reese, Jr. as attorney general. Kolb and his cabinet then proceeded to the state house for the purpose of making a speech. He was followed by several hundred of his adherents. They marched up the state house steps through the ranks of the assembled militia and took their places beside the identical portico upon which Jefferson Davis was declared president of the Confederate states.

In a few minutes Governor Jones sent for Capt. Kolb, who was escorted into his presence by Lieut. Irwin, of the regular army.

"I understand, sir," said Governor Jones, "that you propose to make a speech in these grounds, claiming to be governor of Alabama."

"That is my intention," answered Kolb. "Then I must say to you that the moment you attempt it, I will have you arrested and carried off the grounds."

answered the governor. "I say this in all kindness to you. If you were governor you would do the same thing in a similar case. I will not permit you or any one else on these grounds to stir up the insurrection proceedings of Governor Oates."

Governor Jones' manner was courteous but firm. Capt. Kolb looked around at the assembled troops, and with a wave of his hand started down and out of the grounds, followed by his adherents. They congregated again in the street outside the capitol grounds. A wagon stood nearby and upon this Capt. Kolb mounted. He stated that the proceedings would be opened with prayer. A Populist clergyman mounted the wagon, and at his motion the crowd uncovered their heads. It was an impressive scene. Every man in the crowd was a plain countryman with rough clothes and high

BEE'S EVIDENCE.

Testimony of the Helena Gambler in the Hirschfield Divorce Case Struck From the Records.

Judge McConnell Also Decided Not to Admit in Evidence Telegrams to and From Hirschfield.

Archbishop Ireland Denies Having Secured a Loan to Pay Debts of the St. Paul Diocese.

Henry Krenzke, a Farmer Near Winona, Put Strychnine in an Onion and Then Swallowed It.

FARGO, N. D., Dec. 1.—Judge McConnell this morning struck from the records all evidence of Joseph Bee relating to conversations with Jake Holzberg, for the reason that it was not shown that the Hirschfields authorized the hiring of perjured testimony. The defense took exception on the grounds that the plaintiff's own witnesses testified to having been engaged by Holzberg, and thus the agency was established. Bee is a Helena gambler who came here as a witness for the plaintiff, but testified for the defense.

Judge McConnell also decided not to admit in evidence the telegrams to or from Hirschfield at Helena and Fargo, for the reason that it was desired to close the case today and to secure these telegrams would require several days at least.

L. H. Hirschfield, brother of the plaintiff, arrived from Helena last night. This indebtedness of the St. Paul diocese. When asked about the attack on him by Bishop McQuaid, he refused to be interviewed, saying: "I do not care to be interviewed on that matter. Let the country judge. I have nothing to say." "As to the election," he continued, "it swept the entire country as all very well know. It was a splendid thing for the business men of this country in every respect. Confidence has been restored. The defeat of the Populists is a blessed thing for the Northwest particularly, from a business standpoint. Had Populism succeeded, every penny of outside capital invested here would have been withdrawn."

The victory in New York city will have its good results, for, coming at this time, it emphasizes for every city and very distinct the necessity of good and pure government. The American people are often over patient and allow things to go far, but at the supreme moment they always wake and do the right thing. The political victory of the last month is the best vindication we could have of popular government. The people can be trusted."

The Capital Commission. ST. PAUL, Dec. 1.—The state capital commission held a secret session yesterday and discussed the report of the expert architects employed to examine the plans submitted and also the various plans coming within range of actual competition. Nothing was decided on, however, beyond determining to hold another meeting on Dec. 18 and extending an invitation to a number of architects to be present and explain their plans in detail.

He Wants a Divorce. MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 1.—A Fargo, N. D., special to the Journal says: William Townsend, ex-assistant district attorney of Ulrica, N. Y., and ex-member of the assembly, has taken up his residence in Fargo. After ninety days he will begin action for divorce. His wife obtained a Dakota divorce in order to marry him, from Peter Grass, of Ulrica.

The Otto Murder Case. REDWOOD FALLS, Dec. 1.—The coroner's jury in the Otto murder case at Morton after a long and weary sitting, steadily up the streets in close order there is show, in their manner and bearing, of readiness for whatever may come. There is another body of men on the streets who make no display of force but who are easily recognized. They are all, gaunt and hungry, with sullen faces and attired in rough clothes and slouch hats. They came in town in small groups within the past twenty-four hours by train, wagon and mules. They don't appear to be armed, make no boast or threats, but go about with a cowed air and gaze wrathfully upon the militia. They came here at Capt. Kolb's request to see him sworn in as governor, "by the grace of God," but without the form of law. At Capt. Kolb's residence there was held a secret caucus of Populist leaders.

Governor Jones does not anticipate trouble but is prepared to stamp it out promptly if it should appear. "I have ordered the militia to carry ball cartridges so as to be ready for action if requested," he says. He regards the threats and mutterings of Kolb as a bluff.

As the morning wore on there appeared to be an increase in the number of countrymen in the city. The militia men ostentatiously showed themselves around the streets with their guns and their ammunition belts studded with ball cartridges. The Kolbits have not yet exhibited their guns. Governor Jones and his staff came to the state house early in the morning and have been busily engaged in making preparations to protect the inaugural services from violence.

At 10:30 the militia began to assemble at the armory. At a caucus of the Kolbits last night it was decided to assemble at the state house at 1 o'clock today, one hour in advance of the inauguration, and experienced in getting an official to administer the oath, two Populist judge sympathizers with the cause declining on the ground that they would lose their top boots. In simple English, the clergyman invoked the blessing of God upon the assemblage, "a plain people," he said, who were here to secure an honest government.

At its conclusion Capt. Kolb made a short, temperate address. The only bitterness in it was directed at Governor Oates, whom he termed a usurper. He declared he had been legally elected governor and that he would use every means to gain the position, which he declared belongs to him. He cautioned the people against violence, and amid rousing cheers descended from the wagon.

His place was taken by Dr. Crow, from an adjacent place, who has made desperate and blood thirsty threats. "They call me an anarchist in this state," said he, "if being opposed to ballot-box, thieving is anarchy, then thank God I am one." He called Governor Oates' followers scoundrels and after cautioning peace, called on every one present to meet him tonight to form a company for the support of Kolb.

There were not over 300 Kolbits in the crowd and no sign of arms among them. After this speech they dispersed and proceeded down town where they are enlisting in Crow's company, although the latter has apparently no place of action. A battery of artillery has swung into position on the hill in front of the state house and the cavalry withdrawn. About 2 o'clock Governor-elect Oates reached the state capitol, escorted by the militia. The inaugural ceremonies were preceded by a prayer, after which Governor Jones introduced his successor, who was greeted with prolonged cheers. The oath of office was administered to him on the spot where the oath of office was taken by Governor Jones, and the formalities closed. There was no trouble and the incident appeared to be closed without the anticipated conflict.

morning he was put on the stand and denied the testimony of Mrs. Hirschfield as to the conversation with him in the bank on the day Aaron left her. He said Aaron had left in the morning and not in the afternoon as the defendant testified.

Dr. E. M. Darrow, president of the board of insanity commissioners, gave expert testimony for the defense on neurasthenia. Replying to hypothetical questions, witness said persons so afflicted with neurasthenia as to be in the state Hirschfield's testimony would show him to be, would suffer a corresponding weakness in memory and be unable to remember details so as to tell them clearly afterward. He said neurasthenia could be simulated so as to deceive even a physician.

SUICIDE NEAR WINONA. A Farmer Put Poison in an Onion and Swallowed It.

WINONA, Dec. 1.—Henry Krenzke, a prominent farmer living near Minnesota City, about seven miles from this city, committed suicide yesterday by taking strychnine. Krenzke was 40 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

It is supposed that he committed the deed while in a fit of despondency, caused by financial matters. He had relatives in this city and was well connected. He placed the poison in an onion and swallowed the onion.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND BACK. Returns Home and Denies That He Secured a Large Loan.

YALE IS VICTOR

The Great Football Contest Between Yale and Princeton at New York Today Won by Yale.

In the First Half Yale Scored Eighteen While the Princeton Men Failed to Score.

A Touchdown and Goal Made by Yale in the Second Half to Princeton's Nothing.

The Game Was Played in a Rain-That Came Down as Straight as a Plumbline.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Yale and Princeton contested for football honors upon a muddy field and beneath moist skies. The day is cloudy, foggy and altogether disagreeable. Princeton was regarded as the better mud team, while Yale, accustomed to grounds of a sandy nature, was thought to be at a disadvantage.

The players on both teams were, however, hopeful and full of vim. The betting was spirited. The Princeton men felt that their team had a chance of winning in about the proportion of 5 to 4 and were willing to hazard at those odds. Yale, on the other hand, urged that Princeton should be even money, holding that Princeton has nearly the same team today as the one that defeated Yale last year.

For the first time in a good many weeks the Yale team were allowed to sleep as long as they chose today, and it was 9:30 before the first of the players had made his appearance at the breakfast table. All were apparently in prime condition and they breakfasted with keen appetites. Capt. Hinkley continued to consult with the Yale coaches and the great captain wore an anxious look on his face most of the time.

Shortly after 12 o'clock they partook of a light lunch and at 12:30 Capt. Hinkley gave the word to dress. By 1 o'clock the players, subs and coaches went to the elevated station at Fifty-ninth street where a special train was in waiting to convey them to the grounds.

The Princeton eleven arose at 7 o'clock after a refreshing sleep of nine hours. A feeling of confidence prevailed among the Princeton players which the poor showing made in the Trenton game hardly warranted. The members are in better condition than when they lined up against Pennsylvania. The line is strengthened by the return of two veterans and the interference and general team play has improved materially during the past fortnight. One high in authority this morning said that the team was in every respect the equal of that which lined up against old Eli on Thanksgiving.

At 12:30 o'clock the Princeton men, fully rigged out in their football armor, took a special train on the elevated and went to the field.

Story of the Game. At 12:30 p. m. there began a slow fall of rain on the grounds on which Princeton and Yale were to play football. Drops came straight down as a plumbline and had a sharp indication that sleet might easily follow. Half an hour before the game began, the gates at Manhattan field were thrown open and a few hundred then, waiting were admitted. Soon after the opening of the gates a Princeton decked tally-ho coach roamed up to the grounds. Soon after came two others, but they were covered with the blue of Yale.

Then a little later followed two more Yale blue coaches and finally another Princeton tower on wheels. They all lined up at the rear of the fifty special private boxes on the north side of the field. These private boxes, which occupied the choicest position for the viewing of the game, being within fifteen feet of the gridiron, were entirely uncovered and without protection from the storm.

At one end of the field and almost under the elevated railroad station, grand stand "A," divided in five sections of reserved seats, was without shelter. The same was true of the stand at the west end of the field. Skirting the southeast corner of the field and sweeping along the southern side, were the permanent grand stands with solid orchestra chairs and a good solid roof. Those who held tickets to these stands wore smiles despite the weather, and were the only ones who could. A heavy fringe of men, four and five deep, hung upon the fence and the press and coaches' quarters. Around the west end of the grounds swept the rocks of Carmanville Heights and on these rocks seats had been placed as might be, for rental at 50 cents each. These were not early occupied and at no time fully so.

Yale won the toss and Princeton took the ball. Inspector Conlin gave the men a short talk before they began playing, saying that he expected they would refrain from any rough playing.

The First Half. Princeton kicked Yale's 50-yard line.

L. Hinkley got the ball and by good in-

ENDED IN A TRAGEDY

Terrible Result of the Fierce and Overwhelming Love of Sherman Huyck, Proctor-knot's Young Postmaster.

Life to Him Without Little Schwalbe Contained Nothing, and He Shot Himself on Her Doorstep.

Appearances Indicate that He Wanted to Kill Her, Too, But She Refused to See Him.

West Duluth was alive with excitement last evening over a suicide. Sherman Huyck, postmaster at Proctor-knot, took his own life and all because a young maiden of 17 summers rejected his love. The young lady is Miss Lottie Schwalbe, and she lives with her parents in West Duluth at the corner of Fifty-fourth avenue west and Wadena street. It was on the doorstep of her home that he committed the deed.

Huyck was about 23 years old and lived with his mother and stepfather, Charles Huyck, at Proctor-knot. He ran a small confectionery store. About three months ago he met Miss Schwalbe and a fierce and overpowering love immediately raged within him, but alas, the young lady was not impressed with him and refused to receive his attentions. He proposed and was rejected but was persistent, nevertheless.

Last Thursday he met her and again asked her to marry him. She refused. He tried to see her again that evening and yesterday afternoon but she avoided him. Yesterday afternoon he came to Duluth and returned two hours later.

About 6 o'clock he called at the Schwalbe residence and asked to see Miss Lottie. She refused to go out on the porch and he was asked to come in. He declined, and again pressed the young lady to go out on the porch. Her refusal probably saved her life.

Huyck turned to go and the door was closed. Shortly afterward a shot was heard. For a time the women were afraid to open the door and sent for a policeman. Officer Anderson came, but found Huyck lying dead on the porch. A 32-caliber revolver was lying beside him. He had put a bullet through his heart. The body was removed to Philanthrop's morgue.

Miss Schwalbe says that Huyck threatened yesterday that if she would not marry him she never would marry anybody else.

Physical culture in woman is keeping pace with her intellectual advancement. Nothing contributes better to perfect health than Dr. Price's baking powder.

PLATE GLASS COMBINATION.
Representatives of Many Plants to Meet for Union Action.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 1.—Next Tuesday the plate glass manufacturers will hold a meeting in this city for the purpose of effecting a combination or organization that will involve immense interests. The meeting will bring together representatives of many plants, representative about $20,000,000 and employing about 10,000 men.

The companies concerned in the proposed organization are the Crystal City, of Missouri; Kokomo and Wood, of Indiana; Charleroi and Howard, of Pittsburgh; Standard, of Butler, and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, with works at Tarentum, Creighton and Ford City.

The cost of production will be decreased and an advance in prices will follow. The president and general managers of the companies named have recently completed a tour of the various plants. Every plant in the United States that is now in operation is interested.

Gen. Mendez Dead.—Gen. Juan Mendez, formerly governor of Puebla, died in this city. At the time of his death he held the high office of president of the supreme court of military justice. Gen. Mendez was born in 1830. He was one of the heroes of the battle of May 5, 1867. During the revolution in 1878 he was second in command to Gen. Diaz.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adopting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in all drug stores in 50 cent bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

THE NATIONAL W. C. T. U.

The General Officers Lay Out Plans for Organization Work.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—The general officers of the National W. C. T. U. have been in session at the Temple here since Saturday, Lillian M. N. Stevens, vice president at large, presiding in Miss Willard's absence, she having returned to Boston immediately upon adjournment of the national convention, lest the additional fatigue should prove too much for her strength.

Among other important measures it has been decided to make special effort on the lines of organization during the year to come. Mrs. Katherine Lente Stevenson, national corresponding secretary, having been made superintendent of the department. Strong resolutions have been passed concerning work among the colored people in the South, and also concerning patriotic teaching in the public schools.

It has been decided by them that the delegates to the W. C. T. U. convention to be held in London in June, 1895, shall also be fraternal delegates to the convention of the B. W. S. A. immediately preceding the work.

The National W. C. T. U. will be represented at the triennial meeting of the national council of women which meets in Washington Feb. 18 by Miss Willard, as president of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, treasurer of the council, and Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman, elected delegate. Lady Henry Somerset will also be present and will form a central feature in the special meetings of the W. C. T. U.

The general officers wish to state that no allusion to Mrs. Cleveland's recent action in christening the steamship St. Louis was made by Miss Willard in her annual address and no action was taken by the convention.

ILL TREATED BY CHINESE.
A Priest Dragged by the Hair for Two Miles Tortured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Father A. Goette, a Franciscan priest residing at Kelseyville, Cal., has received a letter regarding his brother, who is a missionary in the province of Shensi, and who was brutally treated by the natives.

His correspondent states that Father Goette was dragged by the hair two miles and tortured by a mob who cut his body with knives, thorns and sticks. Then almost dead he was rescued but is still in a precarious condition from his injuries.

The mandarin in the province connived with the perpetrators because the priest would not acknowledge the mandarin's authority as superior.

Lawless Navajo Indians.
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 1.—Trouble is feared in the Spring between ranchmen and roving bands of Navajo Indians who are alleged to be stealing stock, and committing all kinds of depredations.

They threatened to scalp N. S. Thieling, who tried to take some of his horses from them. They are slaughtering antelope and deer by the wholesale.

Deadly Football.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President J. Havens Richardson of Georgetown college, says George D. Baben, who was disabled in the Georgetown-Columbia game in this city on Thanksgiving day, proves to have sustained a serious spinal injury. The doctor says the injury is not yet sufficiently developed to show whether he will survive or not.

General Cut in Salaries.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—The Southern Pacific will today begin a wholesale cut in the salaries of the cut will be felt in every department by practically every employee from the highest to the lowest. The pay of no class of men in particular will be reduced, nor of men who are receiving more than a certain amount, but the sweep will be general in character.

A Valuable Station.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—J. B. Haggin has purchased the Australian station, July, by Traducer out of Idaho. July is a brother to Sir Modred, Idaho and Cheviot, already owned by Haggin, and is said to be the best of Traducer's get. The purchase price has not been made public.

Around the Horn.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—After Jan. 1 the Western Sugar Refinery company will commence shipping raw sugar from Honolulu to New York direct by ships sailing around the Horn. The refinery officials say the change in the shipment route is due to an over supply of sugar on the Pacific coast.

The exciting tests applied to Dr. Price's baking powder at the World's exposition and the California Midwinter fair gave it the highest honors at both.

A Stay of Execution.
COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Edward Jones, of Clermont county, who was to have been executed here for shooting his son, aged 15, and who was convicted four times of murder in the first degree, one or two of the trials occurring in another county under a change of venue, has been granted a stay of execution pending a motion for a fifth trial.

Died From His Injuries.
ALBANY, Iowa, Dec. 1.—John A. Jones, one of the miners burned in the Jack Oak powder explosion one mile west of this city last Monday, died last night. He leaves a wife and nine children destitute.

Musical entertainment Monday night at Lester Park Methodist church. A fine program, 25 cents.

SHOUP A CANDIDATE.

He Desires to Return as United States Senator from Idaho.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Advices received from Idaho represent that Senator Shoup has announced himself as a candidate for re-election. This is a move of importance because of the fact that in the past eighteen months or two years the senator's attitude has been uncertain.

He went so far in 1893 as to write a confidential letter to a friend announcing that he would not be in the race, and this letter found its way into the public print.

Thereupon Congressman Sweet entered the field to succeed the senator, who appears to have left the race to him until Sweet failed to receive the endorsement of the Republican state convention. This failure was the circumstance which caused Shoup to reconsider his decision to be a candidate.

Shoup is a South Idaho man, while Sweet and the other candidates, Governor McConnell and W. B. Haysburn, are from the northern part of the state. These three are naturally battling one another's chances, and Shoup's friends think the opening for him is too good not to be taken advantage of.

Buttfully Conduct of Students.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Saloonkeepers of this city have addressed letters to the presidents of the universities of California and Stanford protesting against the conduct of students after the football match. They paroled the city in hundreds, smashing chairs and glasses in beer halls and saloons, and terrorizing the residents of the tenderloin districts.

In their efforts to emulate the practices of Eastern under graduates, they exceeded their models in recklessness and daring. The police were powerless to control them.

Burned to a Crisp.
FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Dec. 1.—An incendiary fire, which started last night in a vacant residence, destroyed five houses and two saloons. The fire spread to the residences destroyed, A. C. Potter and his sister, recently from Bessmer, N. Y., were sleeping. Mr. Potter was burned to a crisp and the sister was badly burned.

The Report Unconfirmed.
FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 1.—Nothing has been heard from the Antelope hills confirming the reported pitched battle between the reds and the whites, and the pursuing posse. Parties have left Lipscomb and Higgins to join the pursuing posse. Should the robbers be caught they will never be brought to trial.

Health, strength and contentment are promoted by using Dr. Price's baking powder.

They Could Not Agree.
DETROIT, Dec. 1.—The jury in the case of Frederick Marvin, ex-cashier of the Third National bank, charged with embezzlement, after being locked up all night, reported this morning that they were unable to agree and were discharged.

After Dana.
Council Bluffs, Iowa, Dec. 1.—The Hawaiian Gazette wants Editor Charles A. Dana to visit the Sandwich islands. "If he does," says the journal, "our beautiful women will crown him with leis and hula to him the low, sweet notes of our native music and put to his lips the lotus fruit, which will pass him into dreams of tropical rest."

TWO WOMEN PERISHED

They Lost Their Lives by a Fire in a Fashionable Boarding House in Philadelphia.

One Was Found Wrapped in a Carpet She Had Torn Up in Her Agony.

The Other Was Lying Across the Bed in Her Room, Having Fallen From Suffocation.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—Two persons lost their lives in a fire this morning at the fashionable boarding house of Mrs. C. B. Reeves, 308 South Broad street. The dead are Mrs. Ella Ray Smith, Miss Cullen. They were boarders in the house. The fire was discovered by a colored waiter shortly before 6 o'clock, bursting from the shaft of a dumb waiter. He attempted to extinguish the flames with a bucket of water, but the fire had gained such headway that the water had no effect.

The colored man, seeing the flames beyond his control, rushed frantically from room to room to rouse the sleeping boarders, of whom there were in the house at the time. Before he had completed the rounds of the rooms, the house was filled with smoke and the man had to fly for his life.

The fourth story front room was occupied by Mrs. Smith and the middle room by Mrs. Cullen. Both of them were in the room when the fire broke out. The firemen were on the scene in a few minutes and at once turned their attention to rescuing the boarders on the third and fourth floors. All of those on the third floor were gotten out safely and the firemen rushed to the fourth floor.

They tried the doors of Mrs. Smith and Miss Cullen, but found both locked. The doors were quickly burst open. Lying on the floor in the front room was the body of Mrs. Smith, partly wrapped in carpet which she had torn from the floor in her agony. She had been suffocated by the smoke. Marks on the window showed that she had made an effort to raise the window, but it is supposed that in her weak condition she could not get it up.

Miss Cullen was found lying across the bed in her room, having fallen from suffocation. She was dead when reached by the firemen. There were many narrow escapes. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Pollock occupied a room on the first floor. As soon as they were aroused, Mr. Pollock rushed to the floor above to arouse his daughter. He was partially overcome by the smoke before he succeeded and had to be carried from the building.

E. L. Raboury, who occupied a fourth-story back room, had a narrow escape from suffocation. He saw that his escape down the stairway was cut off and gathering up his bed clothing rushed to the window and was frantically endeavoring to attract the attention of the firemen. Fireman Rafferty, of Engine No. 2, had by this time reached the roof of the burning building and was attracted to the side of the building by Raboury's wild shrieks.

Rafferty took in the situation at a glance. He rushed to the ladder and procuring a short piece of rope dropped it to Raboury. The latter realizing that this was his means of escape, grasped the slender string and was drawn up on the roof by the sheer strength of the fireman. From the roof he was taken down the ladder in safety. The rear of the building was partially destroyed, involving the loss of a few thousand dollars.

NEW DULUTH DOINGS.
Latost Happenings in the Suburb Up the River.

NEW DULUTH, Minn., Dec. 1.—[Special to The Herald.]—The village will soon be lighted by electric light. Poles are being put up now. C. Hurd has the franchise.

Hurd returned Saturday from a business trip to Chicago and Michigan and left Tuesday night again.

Mr. Johnson, of West Duluth, has been to the local Presbyterian parsonage to the ad adjoining the church.

Manney Halgren, who had his hand so mutilated in the sawmill a couple of months ago, went home on a visit to his parents at Kirkwood, Thursday.

School was closed here Wednesday afternoon for the week, with appropriate Thanksgiving services in the city suburbs and a Thanksgiving offering from the pupils for the poor of the village.

The party given by the band boys was largely attended on Thanksgiving night and a very pleasant evening was passed in dancing. It was held at St. Louis hotel at St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bower spent Monday night and Tuesday in Duluth. Mr. Bower has just returned from the range. Mr. Swanson is very ill with typhoid fever at his home here.

Mr. Lochart has moved his family to the house formerly occupied by the Jordans.

Miss Belle Herman spent Monday in Duluth.

Mr. Ingham has just finished a new barn in the rear of his residence.

Rev. Mr. Hackett spent Sunday at Barnum and preached there.

Miss Hurd was in the village Wednesday afternoon with her chorist class.

The Woman's Social league gave a nightcap sociable at their church Thursday night. The caps were made of red, white and blue and were of every conceivable shape and size. There was a large attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Livingston entertained Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins and family, of West Duluth, on Thanksgiving, also some friends from Lakeside.

Mr. Bower is receiving a visit from his brother Robert Bower. He may remain here all winter.

Crowley, of Duluth, spent a couple of days in the village this week, the guest of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Bushell and family spent Thursday in Duluth with relatives. The Presbyterians at Fond du Lac gave a turkey supper Thursday night.

Miss Smith was the guest of Miss Hohn, of Fond du Lac, Sunday night. A kindergarten will probably be started.

COST HIM $5.00

To Have His Hearing Restored by the Copeland System of Treatment.

When a man has found relief from a distressing condition, he feels like telling of it for the benefit of others who may need the same kind of help. Such are the sentiments of Mr. Herman Bering, of 110 First avenue west. He is connected with the firm of Bayha & Co.

To a reporter, Mr. Bering said: "About six months ago I was treated and cured of deafness by the Copeland Physicians and cannot say too much in praise of the treatment I received. I had been troubled with deafness a long time and had tried many times to get relief from my distressing trouble, and at considerable expense. Hearing so much of the Copeland system of treatment, I decided to see if it would not help me, and the result was that I was cured in a short time of deafness that was so bad I could not hear an ordinary voice, people would have to shout in my ear or I could not understand them. But now my hearing is clear and perfect and I am only too anxious to tell others how it all happened. I will also say that the Copeland Physicians only charged me $5.00 for a course of treatment that restored my hearing."

NOW IS THE TIME.

$5.00 a Month Before January 1st.

Mr. McGill returned from a three weeks' business trip Wednesday to spend Thursday with his family.

The Discovery Saved His Life.
G. C. Gaudin, of Duluth, discovered, I own, his life. "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with a gripe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having read of Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I got a bottle and began its use and from the first began to get better and in using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it. Get a free trial at Mac Wirt's drug store."

The extreme terminus of the electric line on the hill is two miles distant from Superior street, yet is covered by ten minutes' time. Counting two minutes' ride from transfer station to business center, the whole distance is made in twelve minutes. Try it and you will see that it is possible for persons living at the extremity of the electric line to take breakfast, lunch and supper home and only lose forty-eight minutes per day, while those living in the other suburbs would lose anywhere from 180 to 240 minutes to gain the same luxury. The hill fellows might console the others by suggesting that the car company put sleepers on that part of their lines thusly handicapped, that so much valuable time might not be squandered. This, however, is no stab at the car company for their service is quite commel if fault.

SOCIAL AND MUSICAL

Charity Ball the Affair of This Week and Marks the Opening of the Social Season.

Large Number of Thanksgiving Dinners, Entertainments and Family Reunions Given During the Week.

Concerts to Be Given at West Duluth and Glen Avon—Other Events of Interest.

The charity ball, the much-talked-of and anticipated event, was, of course, the important function of the present week. That it was the prettiest ever given was the unanimous opinion of all. The ladies were handsomely gowned and in gay colors, giving the ballroom a brilliantly beautiful effect. Hoare's orchestra never played finer and rendered all the new waltzes and other dances. W. C. Sargent called the square dances in his own original, vigorous and spirited style. Several young ladies from out of the city were present and were, of course, showered with attention, and will go home with delightful remembrances of Duluth and her social people.

Thanksgiving week is always a fairly lively one, and this year no exception. A large number of dinner parties were given and family reunions were numerous.

The charity ball nearly always marks the beginning of an active social season, and it probably does this year. Several musicals, parties and entertainments are announced or are on the tapis, and the winter will hardly be a dull one.

The position of Dr. Price's baking powder as the leading baking powder of the world is now established.

THANKSGIVING DINNERS.

Large Number of Parties Given by Duluth Hostesses.

Thanksgiving dinner and other parties were numerous. Many small parties were given and of family reunions there were several.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Frazer gave a Miles Standish dinner. It was of the old-fashioned kind, not being served in courses, but everything from the oysters to the pie and dessert being placed on the table before the guests were seated. In only one way did the dinner approach modern style; the table was beautifully decorated with flowers and candelabra.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William C. White, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Waite, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Wood, Mrs. Van Lee, Miss Selden, C. E. Bassett, Hugh Cooke, J. T. Watson and Abner L. Frazer.

Mrs. A. M. Miller and Miss Miller entertained at dinner. The guests were:

Wm. E. Lucas,
Exchange Bldg.

Fire insurance written in good, reliable companies.

I have let the houses I advertised two weeks ago, but I now have some others which will also go cheap to responsible tenants. It costs nothing to inspect them.

Money to loan at low rates on the usual security. I will take at once any well secured loan.

I did not intend to advertise that I had anything to give away, though the prices at which I can sell excellent properties in desirable parts of Duluth almost justify the inference. It is worth your while to learn what bargains there are in the market, even if you don't want to buy yourself.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. MacKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ware, Dr. and Mrs. Lyman, F. B. Chew and S. S. Bradley. There was a happy family reunion at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Van Bergen on East Superior street. Those at the dinner table were: Mr. and Mrs. Van Bergen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartman and three children, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Donnelly, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. O'Donnell and child, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Geist and daughter, Miss May Kelly, O. C. Hartman, and A. W. Hartman.

Another family reunion was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gibson in Hunters Park. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hopkins, N. S. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frantz, Miss Agnes Gibson, Andrew Gibson, George Gibson, Nord Gibson, C. F. Frantz and K. T. Sionne.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Bishop entertained Mr. and Mrs. George A. French, F. Wilkinson and J. H. Noyes at dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. F. N. Phelan gave a Thanksgiving dinner at their home on East Third street. The guests were: R. J. Bakerville, W. D. Hopkins, N. S. Murphy, T. F. Lyons, of West Superior, Mrs. Hughes and son, Miss Schlegel, of West Superior, and Miss Angie Nell.

Dr. Price's baking powder possesses not only superior leavening power, but that perfect purity in composition essential to the promotion of health and the preparation of palatable food.

CONCERT AT GLEN AVON.

Musical by Duluth Musicians For the Missionary Society.

This evening in the Presbyterian church at Glen Avon the residents of the pretty suburb will have an opportunity of hearing a musical program of unusual excellence given by several talented people of Duluth. Given under the auspices of the Glen Avon Missionary society the event will surely bring out the best of the musical talent of the suburb as well as a number of music-loving people from town.

The card of numbers includes one or two operatic numbers which were given at the recently successful chamber concert at the high school as well as several new selections. The most pretentious, perhaps, is the grand duet from Verdi's "Aida" called "Pur ti riveggo" which will be sung by Mrs. Dorwin-Aspinwall and George Tyler. Miss Helen Mackay will be the accompanist while Nicholas Murphy will be heard in the Gounod aria "Deo Fosse" and Miss Hurd will contribute one or two appropriate readings. There will be a solo by Mr. Tyler also a duet with Mr. Murphy. Miss Thompson, a talented lady from West Superior, has been asked to give a violin solo.

THE SANS SOUCI CLUB.

Its First Dancing Party Given Wednesday Evening at the Spalding.

The young people who formed a winter club and called it the Sans Souci club, gave their first dance on Wednesday evening at the Spalding. This club, by the way, was organized by the young ladies or at their suggestion, just as was the other. The entertainments are to be informal and dress suits and flowers are proscribed.

The dance was a very pleasant affair. The parlors and corridors were used and the dance continued until 11:30 o'clock. Those present were: Misses Belle Simonds, Bernice Crowley, Florence Bailey, Florence Ames, Clara Ames, Lillian Ingalls, Elizabeth Fraser, Clara Bull, Nable White, Jane Spencer, Lillian St. Claire, Messrs. James C. Geggie, Hamilton Peyton, D. Halsey Costello, D. A. McLennan, W. McLennan, Frank T. Leach, James C. Eaton, Clinton McCormick, E. D. Walbank, W. Cook, Paul Phillips, W. McCormick, Murray Peyton and Mr. Bywater.

WEST DULUTH CONCERT.

Duluth Musicians Will Give One Thursday Evening at Great Eastern Hall.

Next Thursday evening several Duluth musicians will give a concert for the West Duluthians at Great Eastern hall. The event will be a notable one musically for rarely have the residents of that end of town been vouchsafed an opportunity to hear any better music than is underlined for that evening.

George Tyler, the new tenor, will make his initial appearance before a West Duluth audience, as will also Mrs. Dorwin-Aspinwall, who will sing the soprano numbers. Mrs. Holcomb, who possesses an extremely dramatic contralto, will be heard in solo work and in the famous sextet from Lucia di Lammermoor given by all the singers who take part. Nicholas Murphy and Arthur Lacey need no introduction to West Duluth, having won many admirers there by their singing on several different occasions. Miss Zella Hurd will add to the program two recitations while Miss Thompson, a promising musician from West Superior, has been asked to render a violin number.

Dr. Price's baking powder never varies. As supplied to consumers it is of the same fine and even quality as that which received the highest award at the Columbian and Midwinter fairs.

WEST END WEDDING.

Miss Katie W. Stewart and Adolph F. Swanson married Wednesday.

On Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock Miss Katie W. Stewart, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stewart and Adolph F. Swanson were married at the bride's home, 2126 West First street, Rev. T. M. Hendley performing the ceremony. Miss Hattie Sawyer, the maid of honor, and Addison I. Youngs the best man.

A large reception was given in the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Swanson. The house was beautifully decorated with roses and carnations. The bridal couple and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Swanson received. There were cards and dancing and an elegant supper was served. The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames C. W. Swanson, J. C. Helm, T. A. Merritt, H. O. Shaner, McCullough, Keller, A. L. Tetu, D. S. Jorg, McManus, Fleischman, W. O'Connor, Mrs. Van Buskirk, Mrs. McCompeau, Misses Katie Tetu, Wentworth, McLeod, Hall, Seib, Taylor, Irvine, Heister, O'Connor, Childs, Huggins, Fisher, McLachlan, Halley, Dunn, Messrs. Hulberg, Nelson, Hall, Byers, Heister, Compeau, G. Hall, Armstrong, Pettie, Swanson, Selander, McGregor, Mason and Van Buskirk.

In Miss Chandler's Honor.

Several entertainments have been given and are announced for next week in honor of Miss Chandler, of Boston. Last evening Dr. and Mrs. Woodberry entertained in her honor.

This evening the Misses Dickinson will give a small party in Miss Chandler's honor.

On Monday Messrs. F. M. Guttridge and Fielder B. Chew will give a breakfast for Miss Chandler at Mr. Guttridge's home. Those present will be Dr. and Mrs. Lyman, Miss Miller, and Miss Chandler.

The Annual Reception.

The annual reception of the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian associations was given on Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. hall. A musical program was given, the Cathedral quartet singing two numbers; Mr. Ball giving a whistling solo and Mr. McDowd two vocal numbers. A game of basket ball between the high school and Y. M. C. A. teams was played in the gymnasium and the latter won by a score of 13 to 6.

Those in the receiving party were: Mrs. Strong, Miss Felton, Miss Butchart, Miss Noyes, Miss Palmer, Miss White, Messrs. Boussfield, Melhuish, Upham, Stevenson, Todd and Anderson.

The Pleasure Seekers.

The Pleasure Seekers, a new club that was organized recently, gave its first social party at Masonic hall on Thanksgiving eve. About seventy-five couples participated in the pleasant event. The party was a success every way. The club is organized solely for pleasure. The members propose to give a series of dances during the winter and also other entertainments. The second of the series of dances will be given before the holidays. The membership of the club is small numbering only twenty and will not be increased. The club members comprise the following: A. E. Fremmer, E. E. Johnson, A. L. Eger, C. E. Alsop, E. E. Rowe, W. D. Hammond, F. A. Eger, T. B. Mallarkey and Percy Kaufman.

Supper and Concert.

The ladies of St. Paul's German Evangelical church gave a turkey supper on Thanksgiving eve in the basement of the church. A program was rendered which was the pleasant feature of the evening. The church choir sang assisted by Miss Marie d'Ausim, Miss Zillner, Mrs. F. Fisher, Little Minnie Buchanan and Messrs. E. Schulze and Ed Koors. The choir was led by Professor A. Grieser.

Professor Stanton's Concert.

The piano pupils of Professor F. R. H. Stanton gave a concert at the Bethel last evening, assisted by several musicians. Mrs. James McAuliffe sang two numbers, "Answer" by Robyn and "Could I" by Tosti. The cathedral quartet sang two numbers in excellent style and Miss Minnie Vail played in two duets. The piano numbers by the pupils were all good.

The Chautauqua Circle.

The following is the program for the meeting of the Athens Chautauqua circle on Wednesday next:

"Sketch of Queen Victoria"
"Growth of the English Nation," Chapter 6 to page 181.
Paper—"Child Labor in England at the Beginning of Century."
Mrs. W. A. Shannon.
Discussion—"The Future of the English Nation."
Negative—C. R. Butler.

The scientists who have withdrawn their endorsement of the powder branded "absolutely pure," because its formula is changed, unite in commending Dr. Price's baking powder as the most wholesome and efficient leavening agent now before the public.

Social Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Day will be at home on Thursday evening at 1221 East Superior street. There is to be dancing at 10 o'clock.

The Columbia club of Duluth is the name of a new social organization recently formed in Duluth. It is composed of a number of young men who have joined together for the purpose of furnishing social amusement for their friends and they intend to give a series of dances during the winter. Their first party was given at the Hotel St. Louis last Wednesday evening and was very successful, over 100 couples being present.

The ladies of St. Paul's Episcopal church will give a supper at the church on Friday evening. An art work and Christmas sale will also be given.

The Winter club met on Wednesday evening this week instead of Tuesday, the postponement being made because of the charity ball.

An art exhibition is to be given at Hardy school on Monday from 3 to 10 p. m.

Miss M. A. O'Brien, of Litchfield, and M. Degnan, of St. Paul, were married on Wednesday at St. Clement's church by Rev. Father Boucher. The bride is a well attended and successful affair. A large variety of chrysanthemums was exhibited.

Vinton B. Barrow gave a party in honor of his ninth birthday last evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Barrow, of Duluth Heights. About twenty-five young people were present and refreshments were served.

Miss Hardy and Miss Halie gave a box party on Thursday evening at the Temple for the young ladies of the Hardy school.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Thanksgiving Collection of Money and Supplies Taken Up at the School.

Following out the custom started last year a Thanksgiving collection of money and provisions was bequeathed by the students to the poor of the city. The money contributions amounted to about $20 and the packages of food and clothing were numerous. Committees of three members from each class took charge of the contributions and delivered them to the poor on Wednesday afternoon, by means of a list furnished by the Ladies' Relief society.

The debating club argued the following question on last Monday: "Resolved that Napoleon considered as a statesman and general was as great as Washington." The affirmative was presented by Jessie Palmer and the negative by Milton Stewart and Clara Bull. The decision of the audience was in favor of the affirmative. A review of last week's question: "Resolved that the benefits of party government are greater than its evils," was given by Alice Britts on the affirmative

HULETT SIGNED IT.

That is the Opinion of the Jury on the Genuineness of the Marriage Agreement.

Sealed Verdict Brought in Last Evening After the Jury Had Been Out Eight Hours.

Respondents Took a Stay of Forty Days and Will Enter a Motion For Another Trial.

According to the eleven men who constituted the jury in the Hulett case, Nehemiah Hulett did actually agree with Mrs. Pomeroy to be man and wife, and signed a written agreement to that effect. Whether the contract is valid or not remains to be decided by the court. The jury went out at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and came in at 3:50 last night, much sooner than was expected from the extent of the testimony in the case.

Court had adjourned, so the verdict was sealed and brought in at the opening of court this morning. The answer to the question left to the jury was in the affirmative. By consent a stay of forty days was granted by the court. The respondents gave notice of a motion to set aside the verdict and for a new trial on the ground that the verdict was contrary to the evidence. The motion will be made some time within the forty days, and when that is decided the court will determine whether the marriage contract, being genuine, constitutes a marriage in law.

Verdict Against the City.

Yesterday the damage case of Hazen Stevens against the city was given to the jury. A sealed verdict was brought in last night and when opened this morning was found to be for $25 for Stevens.

The special term this morning contained nothing of importance. In the matter of the estate of Nels J. Hoff, Judge Meier ordered the findings of the probate court set aside. The default replevin case of Cynthia Fletcher against Nettie Turner was denied.

A motion for a new trial in the case of Andrew Bangs against F. H. Butt et al. was heard yesterday to Judge Lewis.

The action of A. J. Trimble against the Pittsburgh Iron company et al. for the appointment of a receiver, the sequestration of the property and the enforcement of the statutory liability of the stockholders, was heard and submitted to Judge Lewis.

In J. J. Hibbard, as administrator, against J. A. Mackenzie, judgment was entered for $3,488.53. A motion for a new trial in E. K. Jefferson against James Turner was denied.

The condemnation proceedings of the Minnesota Canal company against R. P. Edson et al. was continued to Dec. 29.

Two Jury Cases to Try.

Besides the insurance cases, which are likely to continue for an indefinite time, there are still two jury cases to be tried. The first is an action against the city for the city causing $8 a day he was hurt through city negligence and laid up for a long period. The city compromised and agreed to keep him on its payroll as a common laborer until he recovered.

He alleges that the city got tired of this after a while, and continued payments. He sues for wages for the next five years according to the agreement, $2000. The other case is M. W. Bates against the B. B. Richards Lumber company.

There are eighty one court cases, and a setting will be made as soon as the end of the jury cases is in sight.

Good housewives never disagree as to the superiority of Dr. Price's baking powder over every other brand.

WASHINGTON SKATING RINK.

Manager Oestreich's Big Opening With Music This Evening.

The big Washington skating rink on Superior street near the foot of Fourth avenue east, will open in a blaze of electric lights and the inspiring strains of a fine brass band this evening. Manager Oestreich would not allow the rink to be opened publicly on the day previously accepted, as he did not deem the ice in good enough condition, but tonight there will be a magnificent sheet of perfect ice 300 feet long and eighty feet wide, ready for the skaters. The dressing rooms are comfortably arranged and there are careful attendants for women and children. There will be no boisterous conduct allowed, but good music, good skates, good class of people and good ice will be found. The admission for this evening is 15 cents for gentlemen and 10 cents for ladies and children. Special rates will be given for season tickets, and they may be had upon application at the many places where they are on sale. Julius Oestreich, the manager, is in communication with a number of the principal fancy skaters of the country who will be brought here at stated intervals and appear only at the Washington rink where there is room to skate. Plenty of good skates for hire or sale to those who have none. Everyone is invited.

MUNICIPAL JUDGSHIP.

Isaac E. West Would Like to Get the Nomination.

The municipal judgeship is being warmly discussed now and the interest is growing. John H. Boyle and T. C. Hinchbaugh are now said to have withdrawn their desires to be candidates. The choice of the lawyers is probably H. B. Dibble and his name is most prominently mentioned.

Another candidate is found in Isaac E. West who is out for it. Three years ago Judge West was the candidate against Judge Powell and was defeated. This being a Republican year he probably expects better success in the event of securing the nomination.

Masons Went to St. Paul.

A party of Scottish Rite Masons left this afternoon for St. Paul and will assist in working the sixteenth degree there this evening. This is a visit in return for the one received from St. Paul about three weeks ago. Those who went down were W. E. Richardson, W. C. White, George W. Buck, R. E. Denfield, W. H. Hugo, F. B. Lazer, J. C. Mishler and others.

A Second Fire.

About 1 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the tenement house at Nineteenth avenue east and Center street, owned by Morris Thomas and occupied by employees of his. Quite a little damage was done on the second floor before the flames were extinguished. The peculiar feature is that fire broke out in this building and in the same part of it about a week ago.

Filed His Bond.

George L. Kelly has filed $500 bonds as assignee for Marion Osgoodby, manager of the Duluth Hospital association.

A default judgment for $13,888 in favor of W. A. Waldron against J. A. Norton has been filed.

Applied for Letters.

William Stephen this morning applied to the probate court for special letters of administration of the estate of S. C. Huyck, the Protokorn postmaster who suicided last night. The estate consists of a small stock of fruits and vegetables, etc., valued at $400.

The will of August Nelson was admitted to probate this morning.

One month ago a new industry opened out in the city at 22 West First street, called the Duluth and Silver Plate company. It is an industry much needed in this district. The proprietor, Mr. McManis, states they have had great encouragement the last month. See their ad in the classified column for particulars.

IS ALL A MYTH.

No Rate Association Has Been Formed as the News Tribune Announced.

"As anticipated in the News Tribune yesterday" this morning's News Tribune contained an exclusive account of the formation of a passenger rate association among the local ticket agents, with F. B. Ross as president, T. H. Latke, vice president, B. W. Summers, secretary and F. L. Donovan, treasurer. A good deal of information is also given about the terms of the organization, its rules and regulations, etc.

The story is the result of the credulity of a News Tribune reporter combined with the desire of someone to see how much he could hold. There is not a word of truth in the story, and no association has been or will be formed.

The base of the whole story is in the fact that the Eastern Minnesota from Sioux City to Duluth was presented to James J. Hill a few days ago, and that since then there has been war in the camp. Mr. Hill will enforce a settlement of the matter, and a new agreement will be made between the ticket agents, providing a fine for cutting rates. But no rate association has been formed nor has one been thought of seriously.

There is no doubt that the Eastern Minnesota has been a pest to the scalpers, for besides the evidence obtained at St. Paul about twenty cases have been made against them in Superior by one of the road agents. There will be no trouble, and Mr. Hill will have the matter settled in a few days, when the new agreement between the local passenger agents will be made.

There will be no trouble, and Mr. Hill will have the matter settled in a few days, when the new agreement between the local passenger agents will be made.

It is understood that proof of scalping done by the Eastern Minnesota from Sioux City to Duluth was presented to James J. Hill a few days ago, and that since then there has been war in the camp. Mr. Hill will enforce a settlement of the matter, and a new agreement will be made between the ticket agents, providing a fine for cutting rates. But no rate association has been formed nor has one been thought of seriously.

There is no doubt that the Eastern Minnesota has been a pest to the scalpers, for besides the evidence obtained at St. Paul about twenty cases have been made against them in Superior by one of the road agents. There will be no trouble, and Mr. Hill will have the matter settled in a few days, when the new agreement between the local passenger agents will be made.
